I Was Worried SICK

Thought Something Terrible Was Wrong With My Baby

Natural Way Doctors Advise Makes Baby Hungry for Food—Restores Health Naturally

No longer need you fear that something terrible is wrong when your child is fretful, listless or won't eat. Simply do this at once: Give your baby a little Castoria and see how quickly improvement comes. Authorities have found that intestinal absorption may be poisoning the system even when the child's habits may seem regular. The stomach is upset. Digestion is impaired. Nerves lose their delicate balance. Nothing corrects this distressing condition quite as naturally and safely as Castoria. Swiftly it cleanses the system, settles the stomach, improves digestion and restores nerve-poise. Then Nature does the rest as only Nature can. Appetite for food returns. Health is again normal. As a result baby gains weight fast. Now don't worry, mother. At the first warning that all is not well give your child a little Castoria. Results will surprise you.

CITIES AT DAGGERS DRAWN

60 Miles Apart but No Intercourse

RIVAL CLAIMS TO VILNA

Vilna, Aug. 5. In these days of ever-improving communications it is startling to find two cities in Europe, only 60 miles apart, between which it is impossible to travel, to telephone, or even to send a letter or a telegram.

The two cities are Kovno, the capital of Lithuania, and Vilna, a city of bewilderingly mixed population, under Polish government, but claimed vehemently by Lithuanians as the historic capital of their country.

Ever since 1920, when Marshal Pilsudski seized Vilna for strategic and sentimental reasons (he was born and his mother buried there), the neighbouring countries of Poland and Lithuania have turned their backs upon each other and diligently avoided every kind of international intercourse. They call it a "state of war."

But after 15 years the warriors have wearied, and hostilities are at present confined to a refusal to communicate across the frontier in the manner of civilized countries.

Sleeping Guard

The railway line between Vilna and Kovno has been torn up for 100 yards where the track passes—indistinguishably as far as the appearance of the fields and trees and peasants is concerned—from Poland into Lithuania. It is, nevertheless, possible for a foreigner to cross the frontier by road if he is influential and impartial enough to obtain permission from both Governments and patient enough to endure a good deal of questioning and scrutiny on the part of the frontier officials.

A traveller who recently did so has described to me his experiences. He arrived at the Lithuanian frontier post at 2 a.m. Passport and visa having been inspected, the Lithuanian gendarme walked towards Poland whistling with remarkable gusto.

"The Polish gendarme is always asleep at this time," he explained to the traveller. "We take a nap in turn and wake each other up whenever necessary." A humble example of Polish Lithuanian co-operation that might well be commended to the two Governments.

Unfortunately for unsettled Europe, there is still no sign of either Government yielding an inch in the difficult Vilna question. At his own request, Marshal Pilsudski's heart has been buried in a Vilna church, while his body lies with the Polish kings at Cracow—a posthumous disposition as significant as that of Thomas Hardy's in Wessex and Westminster.

Polish Pilgrims

Every day this summer hundreds of Poles, including large parties of school-children, are making a pilgrimage to the church of St. Theresa, in which, guarded by two soldiers, lies the silver casket containing Marshal Pilsudski's patriot heart.

The church is adjacent to the shrine of Ostra Brama, an ancient British lovers of art treasures were given an opportunity to purchase some of the world's finest miniatures when J. P. Morgan, millionaire American financier, placed the collection gathered by his father on sale at Christie's Auction Rooms, London. This collection is one of the most valuable of all privately-owned groups of miniatures. The paintings are of great value, but the frames also cause a sensation, many of them being made with precious stones. This portrait of Marie Antoinette is by Francois or Tony Dumont. Note the magnificent framing.

SLIMMING—WITH A KNIFE

Budapest, Aug. 1. A Budapest business man weighed sixteen stone. Under medical advice he had the superfluous fat removed by operation.

The operation—which lasted three and a half hours—took place in the Budapest clinic.

At the end of it he was taken home weighing fifty pounds less.

According to the doctor's statement the man will soon be fully recovered.

Many women are making inquiries at the clinic with a view to having the operation themselves.

place of religious pilgrimage before which from dawn till dusk peasants and soldiers kneel in prayer. And thus in Vilna, as in modern Germany, nationalism and religion are being closely identified. It is being instilled into the hearts and heads of young Poland that Vilna is as sacredly precious to Poland as it is to Lithuania.

However, Lithuanians the city may have been 15 years ago, to-day it is to all appearances a predominantly Polish city.

"We are all Lithuanians here," So a Lithuanian political leader, whom I sought out covertly, unconsciously assured me. By origin, perhaps, 70 per cent. of the population are, but then Marshal Pilsudski was also Lithuanian by origin. He looked to Poland for personal fulfilment, and his example is being followed by hundreds of Vilna Lithuanians to whom acceptance of the Polish language and Polish ways is the condition for a remunerative job.

THE man who, seventy years ago, revolutionised the building trade by inventing reinforced concrete is to-day living in fear of a pauper's grave.

Joseph Tall, at eighty-four, lives in a tiny cottage at Coggeshall, Essex.

He was fourteen when he patented his invention as "a method of reinforcing concrete in order to render it suitable for building," and he was hailed as a genius.

He went on to invent and patent more than a score of other inventions covering the whole field of concrete construction.

He was fifteen when he put up the first concrete buildings at Hextleyheath, Kent, and two years later Napoleon III. commissioned him to build a block of forty flats in Paris.

Buildings all over the world stand as memorials to his invention.

Patents Lapsed

At twenty-one he was worth £30,000.

It was with the floating of a company to run the business that things began to go wrong. Before he was twenty-five money and position had gone. He had no money to prevent his patents lapsing.

His last few pounds went to bury his mother.

The master became an artisan. The inventor worked as a painter and decorator. With old age came unemployment.

On the old age pension, he and his wife, who is seventy-three, went to live at Coggeshall.

They lacked food and fuel, until, three years ago, the Cement Manufacturers' Association heard of their plight, and made them a small allowance.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS | SCHOOLBOY SEES WORLD

SCIENCE BATTLES WITH DEATH

DESPERATE FIGHT TO SAVE LIVES OF CHILDREN

New York, Aug. 16. The scourge of infantile paralysis, which has claimed 400 lives in the United States in the past week alone, and caused the postponement of the Scout Jamboree at Washington, may be brought under the control of science as the result of new experiments.

Scientists, made desperate by the alarming increase in fatalities since mid-July, are killing Rhesus monkeys as fast as they can obtain them to manufacture vaccine. Five hundred were killed last month.

As fast as it is being made, this vaccine is being sent to the affected areas.

None of the 2,000 children vaccinated in California contracted the disease, nor have any of the 500 similarly treated in New York and New Jersey.

It requires thousands of tests in infected areas to be certain the vaccine immunises. Dr. Maurice Brodie, discoverer of the new preventive, explained. He has been working with Dr. William H. Park in the laboratories here for two years developing the discovery he made while a professor at McGill University in Montreal, Canada.

Warm Springs Fund Aids

Funds from the Warm Springs Foundation, in which President Roosevelt is interested have helped carry on the research and development.

"It is a formalised and polio vaccine," Dr. Brodie said, explaining its difference from other attempts to immunise against the dreaded infantile paralysis. The organisms—polio virus—are "killed" and preserved in formalin, making the vaccine.

Scientists have tried for 25 years to find some way to fight the disease. They have attempted to use active virus in a serum instead of "killing" them.

Several Pioneers in Field

Dr. Sam Flexner, director of Rockefeller Institute, was one of the pioneers. Others were the late Dr. H. L. Abramson, Dr. H. Gerber and Dr. Sidney Kramer, all of New York City, and Dr. John Albert Kolmer of Philadelphia.

When Dr. Brodie's new method became known he was brought here to develop it. He and Dr. Park have worked day and night to perfect the vaccine. With the call for help from North Carolina production was speeded.

The normal demand of 25 or 50 of the Rhesus monkeys a week was advanced to 100 and 150. They are inoculated with the disease germs, and as they go into the last stages they are chloroformed and killed. Their spinal cords are ground up in the formalin for vaccine.

Monkeys Become Paralyzed

There is no scurrying and playful gibbering in the cages of the tiny monkey house.

Occasionally there is a whimpering and excited scolding as a monkey discovers his legs have become useless. Keepers know then that the injection has taken effect—generally five to seven days. After that it is any day until the monkey becomes completely paralyzed.

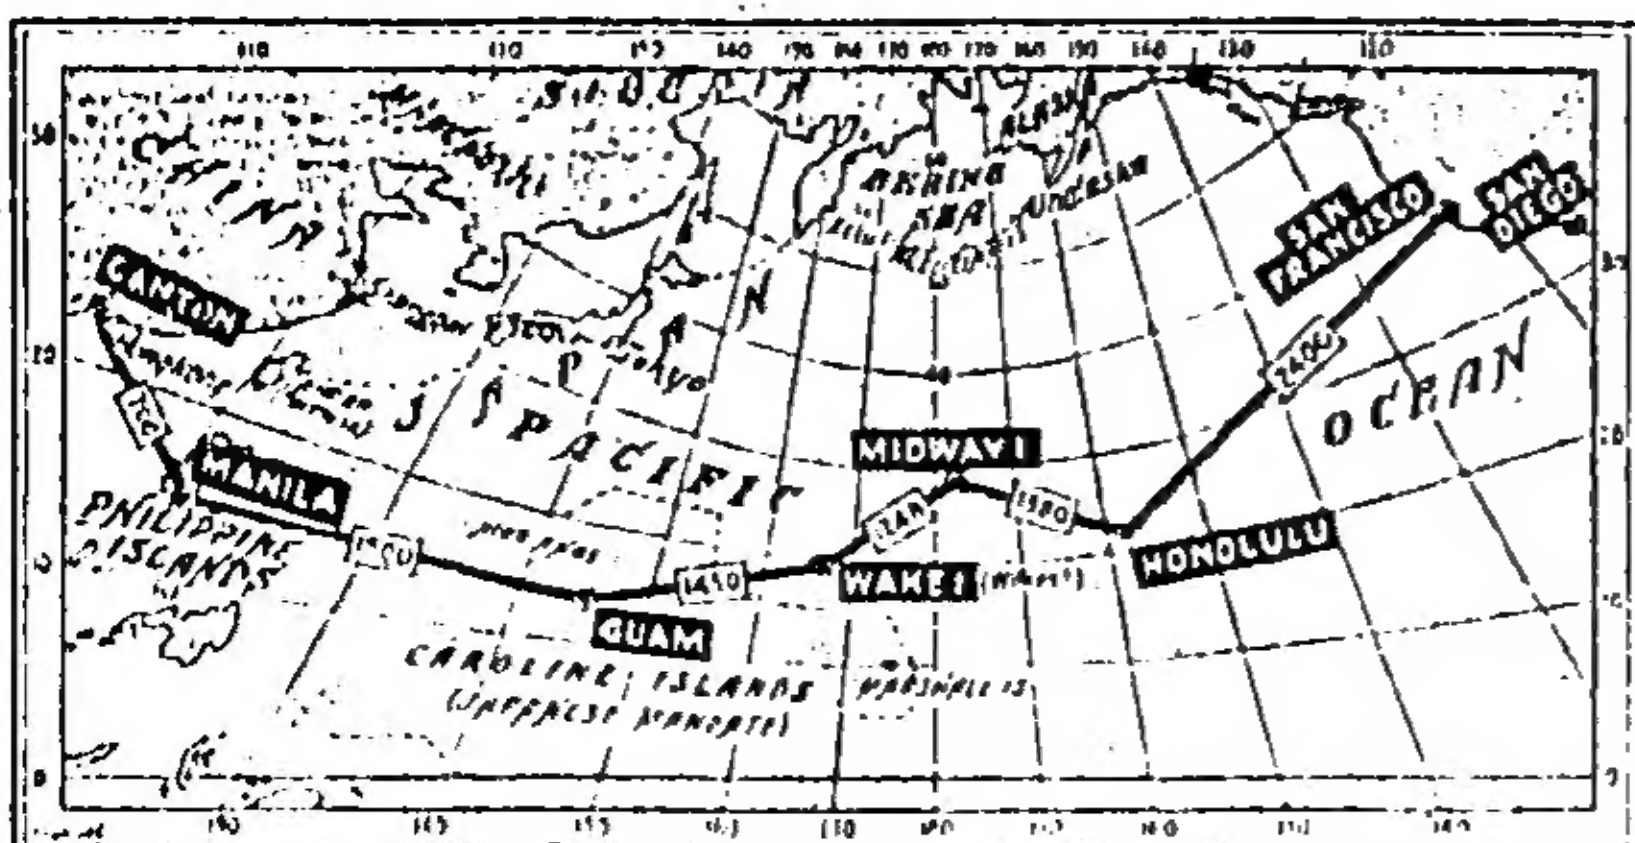

The monkey drags around with his arms until they too become afflicted. He writhes and whimpers piteously until he is able only to move his eyelids. Attendants then take the animal, pile it with similarly paralyzed brothers and rush them to the operating room.

Chloroform, a merciful knife into the heart and the monkey is dead. Quick hands of surgeons cut through the body and if the monkey had no contributory disease the spinal cord is removed.

Leaving behind a splendid record of 30 years' service in different parts of the China seas, during which she was several times commissioned as flagship of the Japanese squadron, the cruiser Teushima sailed from Shanghai for Japan recently. Photo shows the warship leaving the wharf with a section of the crowd cheering and waving flags.

A Pacific Route that will soon become a reality.

Pacific Islands Become International Prizes

ONCE UNWANTED DOTS ON ATLASES

Honolulu, Aug. 14. PROGRESS put a premium to-day on desolate dots of land which sprinkle the mid-Pacific where 20th century pioneers are engaged in a strange and exciting venture—conquering the ocean with commercial airlines.

Nearly a score of barren, uninhabited islands stringing out from Honolulu to the South Seas and westward to the Orient, known for years to navigation only as landmarks to be avoided, have found a future in aviation and a value which may set nations to bidding for their sovereignty.

A dozen Hawaiian schoolboys, in groups of four, are camping on Howland, Baker and Jarvis Islands, a little more than half way from Honolulu to Pago Pago. They will remain there all summer, taking hourly weather observations and making surveys of surface conditions.

Their lonely vigil foreshadows an airline which some day will link the United States with Australia and transform intermediate islets into bustling plane bases.

Samoa Route Favoured

William T. Miller, federal air commerce bureau official, who recently returned to Honolulu aboard the coast guard cutter Itasca after two cruises toward Samoa, said that route offered better flying conditions than the distance between Honolulu and Midway.

When the Itasca picks up the 12 young Robinson Crusoes next month they will have detailed charts of conditions valuable for flying data, since six of them have been there since February observing all weather changes.

With Pan American Airways already poised for its projected commercial airmail and passenger service between America and the Orient, the pulse of trans-Pacific aviation has been quickened.

A line between California and the Antipodes via Honolulu and Pago Pago no longer is remote, but the next cordon to be slung out in the web of ocean flying.

Status in Doubt

The international status of these three and other islands which may be utilized as way stations by roaring skyliners is hazy.

Howland and Baker Islands, 35 miles apart and about 1,750 miles south of Honolulu, have been occupied intermittently by Americans and British. The allegiance of Jarvis, east of these two and approximately 1,345 miles south of Honolulu, is perhaps even more obscure. The question of their sovereignty has never been forced. Barren, sand-swept and without fresh water or vegetation, they long have been considered useless dots in the vast Pacific until now they appear as convenient aerial stepping stones.

Miller said Jarvis offers a suitable landing site for either flying boats or land planes though natural facilities would have to be improved. Baker and Howland provide emergency landing fields, but waters surrounding them are unprotected.

U. S. May Claim Islands

Alert to the interests of American airlines, the United States may claim these three and others in the ocean avenue to Samoa, as possessions, bringing to them with the swiftness of aviation the civilization they have missed during the centuries of plodding sea travel.

Another aspect of the situation is what will be the effect of commercial air service on shipping lines.

The lure of a sea voyage and the historic perseverance of water transportation against every other form of shipping will continue to keep liners and freighters in the forefront of Pacific commerce, William P. Roth, president of the Matson Navigation Company, believes.

Roth, whose views apparently are typical of other major shipping companies regarding impending commercial air service, said Matson welcomed Pan-American Airways to the Pacific because the venture was bound to increase the general volume of business.

Argument Based On History John E. Ryan, Matson's general passenger traffic manager, endorsed Roth's opinion.

"Water-borne transportation has persevered against all other forms of commerce down through history," Ryan said, indicating he considered air competition no exception to the rule.

"There is a romance and glamour to sea travel that will never wear off," Roth said. "People buy a steamer ticket as much for the voyage as for the sight-seeing at their destination. We will always get this type of passenger."

Trans-Pacific air-mail contracts undoubtedly will cut into Matson's mail poundage somewhat, but both Roth and Ryan refused to believe that competition would be felt appreciably.

Shorter Skirts This Autumn

WOMEN ARE GOING ALL LATIN

Women this autumn and winter are going to wear:

Full-sleeved day frocks with draw-string necks. Flowing evening dresses on classical lines.

Gored skirts about an inch shorter than at present.

Vividly flecked tweeds with frocks to match the flecks.

Stockinette that does not lose its shape.

High-necked coats with huge fur collars.

Large embroidered berets.

These are some of the precious secrets of the designing rooms.

The first of the advance shows or the autumn will be held this week.

Isobel, one of the leading English designers, said last week, "Tweeds will be quite different from what we usually associate with the word. They will be brightly flecked, and the under-dresses will take up the colour of the fleck."

"Stockinette—an old-fashioned material greatly improved—is coming back to fashion. It no longer pulls or loses its shape."

High Necks

"Everything will have tremendously full sleeves and shoulders of the Magyar peasant type, and necklines are draw-string design."

"Coats have very high necks with huge fur collars."

"A great deal of fur is going to be worn, by itself and for extravagant trimmings."

"Skirts are about an inch shorter than last winter—10½ ins. to 11 ins. from the ground—and a little fuller by means of gores. The tubular idea is dead."

"Greek lines influence all evening dresses."

Berets, after a season of banishment, are back, but they are berets plus. They are large, elaborately made and embroidered, and they will cover the face rather than the head.

An English designer who shows his collections in Paris has taken the Italian aspect of the classical.

"Women are tired of streamlines. They want easiness," he said. "The Italian art lines give it."

Stowaway To Hongkong Home Again

Sydney, Aug. 16.

JACK THOMAS, who nine years ago left school at the New South Wales coal-mining city of Newcastle and stowed away on a tramp steamer bound for Hongkong, has returned home again.

Successively he was a wanderer in the Far East, a peanut grower in Darwin, and a gold miner in New Guinea.

When tramping to the Edie Creek gold fields he was operated on for appendicitis by a half-caste doctor, who used a local anesthetic.

Resuming his journey he arrived at the village and was shot in the leg by a hermit, who afterwards explained he had thought Thomas was after his gold. The adventurer's mate used a red hot razor to remove the bullet.

On the goldfields there was no bonanza for Thomas and an airman gave him a lift back to Rabaul. From there he worked his passage to Darwin and went overland through treacherous native country to Western Australia. As work was scarce there Thomas set out once again for Darwin, this time on a bicycle, but his machine was smashed 200 miles from his journey's end, and he finished the trip on foot. Later he did missionary work at the Roper River.

"I started off with nothing and have nothing now, but the experience was worth it," said Thomas.

WHEN SCOTS FALL OUT OVER TIES

FEUD BETWEEN THE HIGHLAND MACS

London, Aug. 1.

The Mackintoshes and Macraes are involved in a lively feud over whether a black or a white tie should be worn with the kilt for evening dress.

The Inverness Kilt Society issued a booklet throughout the world, standardising highland dress.

The Mackintosh of Mackintosh, at the annual meeting, strongly objected to the book's statement that either a black or a white tie worn, declaring that black was correct.

The Duke of Atholl and Major Colin Macrae asserted that white was correct.

The Mackintosh of Mackintosh replied that if any one appeared before the King wearing a dress white tie with a kilt his soup would be spoiled.

"Unless the error is repudiated I will retire from the Kilt Society," he added.

There will be a special meeting to discuss the subject.

This donkey was the main attraction to the spectators and the cinema-photographers in Paris recently.

LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONGKONG

"Soul" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, yesterday. "I will set my tabernacle among you; and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people." (Lev. 26:11,12).

The Lesson Sermon included the following passages from the Bible: "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him. The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him. O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul; thou hast redeemed my life." (Lam. 3:24,25,58).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy: "So long as we believe that soul can sin or that immortal Soul is in mortal body, we can never understand the Science of being. When humanity does understand this Science, it will become the law of life to man—even the higher law of Soul, which prevails over material sense through harmony and immortality." (P. 311).

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Advertisers embarking on new campaigns can minimise wasteful expenditure while gaining experience for future operations.

During the present year, several local firms have effected considerable economy by cutting out all stunt and subsidiary advertising and concentrating on newspaper publicity, and they have been agreeably surprised at the results.

A coloured circular, hand-bill or poster may have a momentary appeal, but it soon becomes stale. Free Gift Schemes have also fallen by the wayside. Merchants are realising that there is no substitute for the steady all-the-year-round appeal of newspaper advertising. It reaches the homes of the community and is constantly circulating in districts reached by virtue of the fact that it accompanies the eagerly sought after news of the day.

The greater the sales—the greater the value to the advertiser, and it is because of this that the keen advertiser wants to know definite figures as to PAID CIRCULATION.

The circulations of the South China Morning Post and The Hongkong Telegraph are certified by Chartered Accountants.

Advertisers who concentrate on these two newspapers make a sound investment.

DISCARDS CAR FOR YELLOW SEDAN CHAIR

Sining (Chinghai), Aug. 18. The Panchen Lama, Spiritual Pontiff of Tibet, arrived here from Kwangshui Temple by motor car at noon to-day. He was met by General Ma Hung-kwei, Chairman of Chinghai Provincial Government, and delegates from public bodies when five li from the city.

Alighting from his car the Panchen Lama rode in a sedan-chair, painted yellow, which signifies the spirit of yellow lamun, into the city. The spiritual leader is staying at the Provincial Government Building. According to Mr. Liu Chin-chu, secretary to the Panchen Lama, the Living Buddha will only make a brief sojourn here as he has to return to Taerh Temple to make preparations for a prayer meeting, which will be held there in two weeks' time.

Mr. Liu added that the Panchen Lama will leave for his homeland

AUSTRALIA'S NEW GOVERNOR-GENERAL

APPOINTED

London, August 18.
The Hon. Sir Alexander Hore-Ruthven, V.C., has been appointed Governor-General of Australia in succession to the Rt. Hon. Sir Isaac Alfred Isaacs—Reuter.

The Hon. Alexander Gore Arkwright Hore-Ruthven was born at Windsor in 1872, and is the second son of Lord Ruthven. Educated at Eton he obtained his commission in the Highland Light Infantry in 1891, and served in the Sudan campaign of 1898 with the Egyptian Army. It was at the Battle of Gedaref that he won the Victoria Cross. Seeing an Egyptian officer lying wounded within 50 yards of the advancing dervishes he picked the man up and carried him towards the Egyptian Battalion. Twice he coolly laid down the man, fired on the dervishes, picked up his burden, and finally got the wounded officer to safety.

Transferring to the Cameron Highlanders he saw service in Somaliland, and was later military secretary to the Viceroy of Ireland.

Again changing his regiment, to the Dragoon Guards, Captain Ruthven, as he then was, had his first experience of Australia, in 1908, as military secretary to the Governor-General of the Commonwealth.

During the Great War he served in France and at Gallipoli, being five times mentioned in despatches, and winning the D.S.O. and other distinctions.

When the Welsh Guards were formed in 1915 he accepted a commission as major. Later he was severely wounded.

From 1920 to 1924 he commanded the Welsh Guards and subsequently the 1st Infantry (Guards) Brigade at Aldershot with the rank of Colonel Commandant.

Australian Service

In January 1928 Colonel Ruthven was knighted and went back to Australia, this time in the position of Governor of South Australia. A Labour Government sought to abolish the post—as a political move, and not in any way directed at the holder of the post—but actually the controversy had the effect of extending his period of office for a year.

In September 1934, only a few months after his term at South Australia had expired, he was appointed Governor of New South Wales. Now, very appropriately he has been appointed to the Governor-Generalship of the Commonwealth.

Sir Alexander is a keen sportsman, being extremely fond of cricket, and also an enthusiastic aviator. In fact he had in the latter capacity a narrow escape his plane being crashed in a journey across South Australia, but fortunately both Sir Alexander and his pilot escaped with no more than a shaking.

Lady Ruthven, to whom Sir Alexander was married in 1908, is the daughter of Mr. John Pollok of Co. Galway. They have one son.

AMERICAN CHURCHES

Evansville, Ill., Aug. 18.
Conferees representing all sections have unanimously agreed on a plan for unification of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which will be submitted to general conferences of the three sectional churches, whose adoption will heal the schism growing out of the 1844 slavery disputes. The plan involves six jurisdictional districts, five of which are laid out geographically, and the sixth comprising negro.—United Press.

It takes a lot of insight to judge the outlook correctly.

PRIZE-GIVING

MR. MA MAN-FAT AT THE COMMERCIAL INSTITUTE

A successful report for the year was presented by the Headmaster, Mr. H. K. Yew, A.P.T. COMM. F.F.S., at the concert and 3rd. Commencement Exercises of the Hongkong Commercial Institute, held in the Queen's Theatre yesterday morning. A very large gathering of students and their friends was present, and the concert which followed the prize-giving was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Ma Man-fat, Chief Manager of the Sincere Company Ltd., distributed the awards to the successful students.

In his report, Mr. Yew said that the Institute was started in December, 1931, with only six students, but the number had risen to 184 in the last term.

A total of 72 students entered for the last examination, conducted by the Faculty of Secretaries' Institute of Commerce and Institute of Book-keepers (London), under the supervision of Mr. Rogers Woon, Mr. K. M. Au, Mr. Vincent V. Manuel and Mr. James L. Siew. He was glad to report that 60 students passed, many obtaining first class certificates in the subjects of Commercial Law, Economics, Accountancy, Book-keeping, Shorthand, Business Training, Correspondence and Typewriting.

Owing to recent expansion, the Institute had moved to 75, Wyndham Street. An Alumni Association has been formed to encourage the activities of the students.

Dr. I. Abdul San Joie, M.D., B.S., was welcomed as a member of the staff.

Others who also spoke included Dr. S. F. Lam, M.S., Ph.D., and Dr. San Joie. The prizes were then distributed, after which a concert was given. The following is the prize list:—

Silver Cups:—Pang Hong-tai; Kwan Wan-kui; Tse Kin-fan and Yuen Ki-hing.

Silver Medals:—Chan Si-hung, Lok Tsong-wah, Koh Hon-chew, Lee Lai-kat, Chow Chik-kong, Lee Man-kuen, Tam Poh-sam, Lo Si-ki, Leung Yee-him, Tsai Phui-kong, Leung Yau-ping, Ma Chuen-man, Lee Kong-tat, Chin Si-hee, Koh Pei-hong, Chu Wai-chuen and Lo Lai-yin.

BORDER PROVINCES

TO HAVE GRANT IN AID SCHOOLS

Nanking, August 18.
To push the development of public education in frontier provinces, the Ministry of Education has set aside $500,000 as a subsidy fund for opening primary schools and normal schools.

Among the provinces, which will receive financial aid are Shensi, Kansu, Yunnan, Kweichow, Chinghai, Chahar, Shiu-yuan, and Sikong.

How the money will be distributed among these eight provinces, will be decided at the next meeting of the Executive Yuan.—Central News Agency.

TRADE IN THE STERLING BLOC

Suggestions that China may possibly be induced to join the sterling bloc give additional interest to statistics recently issued regarding Britain's trade with nations on the same currency basis as herself. Since Britain suspended the gold standard in 1931, her action has been followed by a number of other countries for whom the importance of their trading and other connections with the United Kingdom made it imperative that their currencies should be kept more or less in equilibrium with sterling. At the present time, in fact, the nations in the sterling area include over one-third of the estimated population of the world and are responsible for approximately the same proportion of the total value of international trade. How widespread is the sterling bloc may be gathered from the fact that it comprises the United Kingdom, Argentina, Australia, Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Denmark, Egypt, Ethiopia, Finland, India, the Irish Free State, Japan, Norway, New Zealand, Paraguay, Portugal, Siam, Sweden, the Union of South Africa, and the British Crown Colonies. Figures now issued show that, taking the period between 1931 and 1934, during which Britain's total imports have fallen considerably, arrivals from the Empire have shown a marked expansion, while only a moderate fall has occurred in trade with the other members of the sterling area. Moreover, whereas between 1932 and 1934, there has been an increase in the figures from the latter countries, imports into the United Kingdom from the territories outside the sterling area show a slight decline. It is pointed out that in certain cases the ability of foreign nations both inside and outside the sterling area to maintain their sales in Britain during recent years has been due to the conclusion of trading agreements affording reciprocal advantages to British exporters, but such agreements have not been made with all the sterling countries, and the course of British trade with the two groups suggests that exchange stability has been an important influence in securing the recent expansion of business both with the British Empire and with

NOTES OF THE DAY

DREADFUL CRIMES

The death of Gareth Jones, one of these restless spirits who must see for themselves the conditions which give rise to crises, is just one more of the horrors we have come to dread in "news from North China." Mr. Jones, when he recently passed through Hongkong, informed acquaintances that his purpose in visiting the North-west frontier of the Republic was to study at first hand the economic and political state of affairs so that he would be in a position to weigh the importance of future events and write, or simply think, with authority and conviction upon their significance. He was a harmless English student of affairs, a traveller exploring a little-known (to the Occident) people and politics of Asia. But because they have been spotted by such ventures before and generally have robbed and murdered with impunity, he fell a victim to one of these bands of brigands which have infested for far too long the less firmly administered parts of China and territories adjacent. His bullet-riddled body was found near the place of his capture. The usual protest has been lodged. His friends will probably agitate for remedial action for a time, and then, as the realisation of the futility of argument grows upon them, they will possibly bow to what appears to be inevitable and drop the matter. But this additional pin-prick—it is hard to use so feeble a metaphor in such a tragic case—may have the effect of stiffening the attitude of British people generally towards the dictation of affairs in certain parts of the North-west of Asia. A few more such outrages, and we may see determined action, perhaps on the part of the League of Nations, to put an end to such ghastly and shocking crimes. To meet such a condition of crime requires drastic measures. We have suggested before, and we suggest again, that it is high time they were taken. If the Chinese authorities feel themselves incapable of dealing with the situation, and admittedly their administrative machinery is clogged and encumbered in the North, let them declare it. Then we shall perhaps be given an opportunity to assist them in maintaining the peace of their borders and removing at least one excuse for the violation of frontiers by probably quite justly infuriated neighbours. In such matters as the suppression of banditry, and piracy, there should be an opportunity for international intervention. For such things are an international menace. They are not the concern of one nation alone, unless that nation forbids bandit-infested territory to foreigners, and unless that nation takes steps to destroy a plague of crime whose toll is by no means abating.

DRASTIC MEASURES

And what, somebody is going to ask, would the bright young newspaper columnist suggest to remedy this state of affairs? Newspapers, generally speaking, may be fond of fault finding, may criticise freely without offering anything constructive in the place of that which they feel forced to condemn. But a newspaper commentator can scarcely offer remedies for every fault in government, finance, society, or what have you, that he sees. He cannot be expected to give expert opinion in affairs of which experts (presumably) have despaired. Nevertheless, on this occasion we are tempted to make a suggestion. Generally speaking the outrages for which we are particularly concerned, those in which Europeans are involved, occur in the areas where police protection might be expected to exist. The highways and railways of a country, one might expect, should be reasonably safe. We know, however, that even in countries which have a fair claim to good government, the highways are frequently unsafe, that banditry, robbery and even murder are far from rare. In the United States we have recently seen a wave of crime which almost staggered belief. And we have seen the methods—some call them ruthless (Continued on Page 6.)

those nations whose currencies are linked with sterling. The ability of the nations in the sterling area to maintain, and, in some cases, to expand their exports to the United Kingdom during a difficult period for world trade generally, has in turn stimulated domestic business, and the revival which has taken place has been reflected in an expansion in productions in many directions, while the resulting increase in imports has had favourable reactions on the demand for British products. One point which is suggested by these circumstances is that if China were to join the sterling bloc, and her trade relationships with Britain were placed on a revised basis, the result might well be to the mutual benefit of both countries.

POPULARISING THE B. B. C.

By GEOFFREY EDWARDS

SIR Stephen Tallents, the 50-year-old Civil Servant, Live-Wire, Enemy of Red-Tape, who in two years has brought the Post Office nearer to the public than it has ever been before, is doubtless doing a great deal of hard thinking. He has just two months in which to decide how best he can do for broadcasting what he has already done for the postal services.

On October 1 he becomes Public Relations Officer at Broadcasting House, and the great campaign "to popularise" the B.B.C. must begin. How is he going to set about his task? Obviously, Portland Place is a very different proposition from St. Martin's-le-Grand. Stunts such as finding a broadcaster with a golden voice or discovering the perfect listener will not work. The listening public has no use for stunts; in fact, on the only two occasions that the B.B.C. has tried them—the 24-hour clock and women announcers—there was a nation-wide cry of disapproval.

He might, of course, set out to win the good will of listeners by the formation of a Listeners Committee to advise the B.B.C. and criticise its programmes. Or he might appoint a permanent programme critic—a sort of Public Listener No. 1 who could speak at Broadcasting House on behalf of the man in the street (by whom I mean, since I am dealing with broadcasting, the man in the armchair).

Unfortunately for Sir Stephen the B.B.C. is not judged by any obvious gestures which it may make for popularity. We listeners hold our opinions of the B.B.C. by three standards:

1. Mostly by what we hear from it.

2. Partly by what we hear about it.

3. Comparatively by what we hear from foreign stations. So it looks as though Sir Stephen Tallents will have to do his popularising first and foremost through the wireless programmes, and the fact that his status at Broadcasting House is tantamount to that of an assistant Director-General suggests that Sir John Reith realised this when he made the appointment.

There must be no pandering to the masses by lowering the actual artistic and cultural standards of the programmes, for the B.B.C. has an educative mission and a conscience. Long ago Sir John Reith seems to have decided that the listener is like a greedy schoolboy who loves chocolate eclairs and if there are sufficient available will go on eating them until he is sick.

So, like a strict, unimaginative schoolmaster, Sir John decided to feed the greedy boy on plain, straightforward cold roast beef or bread and butter.

That was his mistake; he should have been more cunning, more of the psychologist, and persuaded the greedy boy to eat what was good for him by dishing up the roast beef hot, with Yorkshire and horse-radish sauce, and by giving him bread and butter with jam on it.

There are signs that Sir John Reith has begun to edge away from this "take it or leave it" policy which so antagonised listeners. Sir Stephen Tallents will, in fact, find his chief quite amenable to feeding listeners with the present programmes dished up in any new or more appetising form. In other words, he has merely to introduce more showmanlike methods of programme presentation. So much for popularising the B.B.C. through its programmes.

The second method—through what the public hears about the B.B.C.—will appeal more intimately to the new Public Relations Officer. He is a master of the art of publicity, so will find no difficulty in keeping the right sort of information before the eyes of listeners.

Even here, however, he will have to look closely into the causes of those attacks and adverse comments on the B.B.C.'s organisation. If he looks close enough he will see that most of these are directed at, or because of, the person of Sir John Reith, who has an unfortunate knack of antagonising people who would be his friends. Hence Sir Stephen and Sir John will have to indulge in a few heart-to-heart talks before the Director-General is personally publicised.

Reith hates personal publicity, but he will have to put up with it if the B.B.C. is to be "popular" and he is to remain at its head. There must be an end to all these silly anecdotes of militarism, heel-clicking, Prussianism and so forth at Broadcasting House. Sir John should be drawn out of his shell and shown up for what he really is—a kindly, considerate, very human chief, with an element of real greatness.

One other point; many years ago a Civil Servant have given Sir Stephen the right outlook on his life's work—the idea of service to the public. The B.B.C. as a whole has this same outlook, but it does not talk enough about it. The enormous publicity medium of its microphone could put this right. Extending the principle of service for the listener Sir Stephen, who is also to be in charge of B.B.C. publications, may agree with me that the programme paper, "Radio Times," should be distributed free to all listeners.

If a man pays 10s. a year for his wireless entertainment he should not be expected to pay another 9s. to buy a programme each week.

Now listen for a few minutes to those foreign stations. How the B.B.C. does hate 'em! "They are bursting in on our racket."

Well, what is it, about these foreign programmes, that the public likes? It certainly isn't their quality. Chiefly, it is the brightness, spontaneity and general ease of presentation. Their breakfast-time music is popular, too, but above all, their provision of bright Sunday programmes as opposed to the Cromwellian Sunday solemnity of the B.B.C. has a tremendous appeal.

Surely Sir Stephen can see to it that Broadcasting House competes with the Continent in these respects? It should be quite simple to correct the differences.

To sum up, then, it seems that Sir Stephen has a great deal to do if he is really to popularise the B.B.C. The methods to be adopted appear straightforward, but, apart from the inertia at Broadcasting House, the fickleness of the public has to be reckoned with. Sir Stephen will indeed need all his talents!

The Very Idea!

TOURIST BAITING Enticing The Travellers To Come To H.K.

By Eddie "Cooks" Kelly

SOMEONE was complaining the other day that no ship-owners' names are mentioned in connection with the Hongkong Travel Association.

What is more perturbing is the fact that even our name hasn't been mentioned. With a $25,000 grant from the Government we could do a lot of travelling. For our health.

Still, although we haven't been asked to join the Committee, we can give some good advice.

Probably there is no one in Hongkong who has travelled more than we have. One night we travelled to and fro across the harbour on the Star Ferry no less than eleven times.

One of the deckhands woke us up on the eleventh trip. Said it was the last ferry.

The main thing, of course, is to attract the tourists. This can be done in several ways. Cheap fares, for instance.

In order to obtain cheap fares, it will be necessary to subsidise the shipping companies. On a fifty-fifty basis, the Hongkong Government could contribute one dollar for every dollar boat.

As an inducement to tourists to travel by subsidised vessels, it would be necessary to use a little propaganda.

For a start, we should build more hotels. Let "A Pub For Every Tourist" be Hongkong's motto.

The "Magic Carpet" travel film is a good idea. In this connection some weird effects could be obtained by using slow and ultra-fast motion movie cameras. The slow-motion camera could be used in order to allow tourists to see with some detail the Younger Set at a Peak wild party. On the other hand, it would be necessary to use an ultra-fast camera to obtain the same effect when the shorts of "Government Servants at Work" were taken.

Tourists from the United States can be made at home by receiving them on the wharf with a salvo of machine-gun bullets.

Hongkong could also be made the leading tourist centre for Europe by judiciously introducing the national pastimes of the countries from which it is desired to attract travellers.

Special wild game preserves could be set aside for hunters from each country.

One section of the New Territories, for instance, stocked with income tax collectors, referees, foxes, and politicians would speedily attract the English tourist, while the announcement that Orangemen were running wild in the hills near Fanling would quadruple the tourist trade from the Irish Free State.

Germans would rush to Hongkong for their vacations when it was announced that the big game reserves were chockablock with Jews, Catholics and Freemasons, and Italians would forget all about war plans in their eagerness to reach the Colony before the Abyssinian hunting season closed in the hills near Taipei.

The local tourist trade would have to be catered for, too. Quite a large number of Shanghai and Singapore folk who ordinarily spend their holidays in Japan would visit Hongkong if it were announced that the Government was paying $1 a head for the scalps of shroffs.

Once the tourist arrived the rest would be easy. Special tours could be arranged to the Colony's beauty spots, including Wanchai Market, Paddy's Market and Ice House Street. After visiting Ice House Street, there would be no need to bother about the tourist any more, as he would have no money left.

We have several other equally good ideas about the tourist trade, but if the Hongkong Travel Association think we're going to give 'em this information without paying us a thumping big slice of that $25,000 from the Government, they've got another think coming.

Besides, we've got to save up enough money for our trip to Japan next month.

"Some day, I guess, they'll invent a machine that can do my work."

ONE MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

QUICK WORK BY BRIGADE

With smoke pouring densely from eight upper windows of the San Yuen Fat paper dye works at 208, Portland Street, and a badly burnt man lying unconscious on the roof of the adjacent building, there was fear of a big conflagration, with attendant tragedies, when the Kowloon Fire Brigade received a call at 7.51 a.m. to-day.

The Hongkok and Kowloon appliances were carrying out their daily drill at the railway station when a stranger put through first intimation of the outbreak. Two Hongkok appliances and an ambulance left immediately for the scene under Assistant Station Officer R. H. J. Brooks, and found smoke and flame issuing in increasing volumes from the upper part of the building.

The San Yuen Fat is half of a block of building facing on to a thickly-tenanted area, but the real danger existed to the adjoining King Sun Knitting Factory, which contains a large quantity of valuable machinery.

The workers at the paper factory live on the first floor and they had slept soundly while the fire gained ground. It was not until a passer-by who saw the wisps of smoke curling from several windows and from the roof and was prompted to sound his police whistle, that they became alive to their danger. They immediately vacated the building and a roll-call revealed that apparently no-one was left behind.

BIG BLAZE

The firemen attacked the building from both sides and, as a precautionary measure, summoned another appliance from Kowloon. Deputy Superintendent G. C. Moss was on the scene and took charge of operations. Firemen entered the upper floors to find masses of smouldering paper. But fortunately the roof was burning, but fortunately the roof was burning, but fortunately the roof was burning.

BOTANICAL CONGRESS

CANTON DELEGATE TO AMSTERDAM

Canton, Aug. 19.

Mr. Chow Lu, Chancellor of the Sun Yat-sen University, has delegated Professor Wang-yung Chun, Director of the Botanical Institute, to represent the University at the sixth International Botanical Congress, which is scheduled to be held in Holland from September 2 to September 9.

Professor Chun left Hongkong on Saturday for Singapore where he will board a Dutch air liner, which is due to arrive at Amsterdam on August 29, in ample time for the opening of the session.

It will be recalled that Professor Chun also attended the last Congress, held at Cambridge, England, in 1930. He has been appointed a Vice-President in the Systematic Section of the present Congress.

WITHIN THEIR RIGHTS

Peking, Aug. 19.

Commenting on China's protest against frequent flights of Japanese Army planes over the Peking and Tientsin areas, Col. Takahashi, military attaché of the Japanese Embassy, declared that the action of Japanese planes in the Peking and Tientsin areas was entirely in accordance with the provisions of the Tangku Agreement.

SIR JOHN ROSS PASSES

EX-LORD CHANCELLOR OF IRELAND

London, Aug. 18.

The death has occurred of the Right Hon. Sir John Ross, who was Lord Chancellor of Ireland in 1921-22, at the age of 80 years.

Sir John, who was an Irish Privy Councillor, was Conservative M.P. for Londonderry City from 1892 to 1896, and Judge of the High Court of Justice in Ireland, Chancery Division, from 1896 to 1921. He was Commissioner of Charitable Endowments and Bequests in 1898, Chairman and Governor of the Royal Drummond Institution in 1899, Commissioner of National Education in 1905, and was a Knight of Grace of the Grand Priory of St. John of Jerusalem.

LATEST "LIDO" ATTRACTION

DIVING FLOAT SOON IN COMMISSION

What should prove a great attraction and an added source of amusement to the patrons of the Repulse Bay Lido is the new diving float, which is nearing completion at Kowloon Docks.

The float has a white hull, and its length is about 100 feet by 20 feet, with flush tank decks the whole length. Forward there is a dummy bridge about 18 feet off the edge of the water, where high diving can be indulged in.

On the main deck there are four spring boards, with necessary step ladders on the side of the vessel giving easy access from water to the deck.

POWERS FAIL TO FIND KEY TO AFRICA CRISIS

The League of Nations, she is very loath to endanger the newly-found friendship with Italy which is so valuable to her in Europe.

It is expected that Baron Aloisi will go to Rome to-morrow to discuss the situation with Signor Mussolini.

NO SURPRISE

Rome, Aug. 18.

There is neither surprise nor regret here at the failure of the Paris conference.

It is stated here that the last thing that Italy desires is a compromise. The Government is determined on a campaign and a resounding victory which will give to Italy both economic and political control of Abyssinia, backed by a powerful Army of Occupation.

The League meeting of September, it is expected here, will have no better result than the Paris conference, and may have a much more serious outcome.

The fact that Italy realises that Britain is intent upon trying to prevent war makes Italy's resignation from the League more likely than it was a month ago.

The invasion of Abyssinia in October is regarded as almost a foregone conclusion whatever the League or Britain may do.

ONLY HOPE

Geneva, Aug. 18.

The breakdown of the Paris conference has not caused surprise. Their usefulness was discounted from the beginning.

It is now clear that the only hope of avoiding war is through League action, which will possibly result from the debate in the Council next month.

League officials are convinced that something more than talk will be necessary to bring about a definite result, but none knows whether anything more than talk will be forthcoming.

Messrs. Benjamin & Potts have received the following buying and selling quotations from their Manila Agents this morning:—Benguet Consolidated, 12.10=12.20; Antamok, 79=80; Baguio Gold, 25=25½, Gold Rivers, 5½=6.

The P. and O. liner Rangoon is due here from Singapore with the English mails at 6 a.m. on Wednesday.

EARL OF HAREWOOD BEREAVED

DEATH OF BROTHER REPORTED

London, Aug. 19.

The death has occurred of Brevet Major the Hon. Edward Cecil Lascelles, D.S.O., M.C., a brother of the sixth Earl of Harewood, husband of the Princess Royal.

The deceased, who was the second son of the 6th Earl of Harewood, was born on July 28, 1887, and in 1915 was married to Joan Eleanor Campbell, second daughter of the late E. J. A. Balfour and the late Lady Frances Balfour.

He served throughout the European War, being mentioned in despatches and awarded the D.S.O. and M.C. decorations. He was Master of the Bramham Moor Foxhounds.

CHINA'S TRADE

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS BOTH DECLINE

Shanghai, Aug. 18.

According to official report issued by the Chinese Maritime Customs it is understood that the total imports into China during the first seven months this year amount to $345,325,959, which is $33,819,308 less than for the corresponding period last year.

The total exports from China during the first seven months this year amount to $148,113,325, which is $7,083,673 less than the corresponding period last year.

The unfavourable balance for the first seven months this year is $197,212,634.—Wah Kiu Yat Po.

MARSEILLES STRIKE

LINER FOR FAR EAST HELD UP

Marseilles, Aug. 17.

The departure of the French liner Patria for the Far East was delayed by a lightning strike of the crew in sympathy with the kitchen boys' demands for higher pay.

The crew are refusing to embark until the demands are met.—Reuter.

Marseilles, Aug. 17.

A score of passengers of the Patria, including ex-President Doumergue's step-daughter and her children, disembarked and have been quartered in local hotels temporarily.—Reuter.

HONGKONG TRADE

REPORTS BY IMPORTERS FOR PAST FORTNIGHT

The following reports have been supplied by importers to the Hongkong General Chamber of Commerce:

Cotton piece goods and fancy cotton goods. The following reports have been received.—The dealers are endeavouring to dispose of some of their stocks in Singapore, principally better class English poplins, but otherwise the market for British manufacturers is stagnant. Appreciable quantities of Japanese goods, many of which are of extremely low quality and price, are finding their way into China. The quality of these goods would appear to indicate that the purchasing power of the bulk population of South China has reached a very low ebb indeed.

Woolens.—Clearances have not yet commenced, and since the insignificant bookings from Europe are not likely to be increased, it remains to be seen to what extent dealers' requirements will be, or have been, made up by purchases from Japan.

Metals.—Home prices are steadier, but local market is weak. There appears to be a considerable tonnage of bars, etc., being sold under "forced" conditions, and well below replacing cost.

Flour.—Stock: About 180,000 bags. Market: Quiet.

PICKPOCKET GAOLED

TWO MAGISTRATES SIT AT KOWLOON MAGISTRACY

Appearing before Mr. Wynne-Jones and Mr. Thompson at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court on Saturday morning, Leung Shiu-kee, unemployed, was sentenced to two years' hard labour and two years' police supervision on a charge of stealing 40 cents from the person of a Chinese male at Jordan Road near Nathan Road on Thursday last.

Detective-Sergeant Dowman, appearing for the prosecution, stated that about 1.20 p.m. on Thursday complainant was standing at Jordan Road near Nathan Road looking at some advertisements, when defendant came up and stood next to him.

Defendant was seen to put his left hand behind complainant and take something from his pocket. The incident was seen by a district watchman who went up to complainant and asked whether he had lost anything. Complainant felt in his pocket and said that he had lost 40 cents. Defendant was then arrested.

Defendant pleaded guilty and admitted five previous convictions, including four for larceny from person and one for causing bodily harm in 1930. Defendant further admitted having been kept under police supervision since September last year.

KWANGSI RAILWAY

WUCHOW AND HOHSIEN TO BE CONNECTED

Canton, Aug. 18.

In order to develop the richest minerals in Kwangsi, the Kwangsi Government is considering a plan for building a small railway running from Hoihsien, in eastern Kwangsi, to Wuchow.

Surveying work has been carried out by engineers of the 4th Group Armies along the whole line between Hoihsien and Wuchow. As Wuchow is an important port on the Kwangtung and Kwangsi border, it is a good point to be linked up with a railway running into the interior of Kwangsi.

In future, mineral products may be transported to the nearest export from the interior by this projected railway. It is understood that the plan for this railway has been approved by Mr. Wong Kok-tso, Chairman of the Kwangsi Government and the military officials.

RIOTS IN AMERICA

IRATE FARMERS PREVENT SALE OF LAND

Maysville, Mo., Aug. 18.

Two hundred farmers led by the leaders of the Plattsburg affair beat J. Lyman Andrews and Earl McKlasick, representatives of a mortgage company, and blocked a foreclosure farm sale.

Not concerned over the submission of evidence for the Plattsburg assault to the Federal grand jury, drunken rioters rained the streets shouting, singing, and caning passers-by.—United Press.

CAPTAIN TIPS ENGLAND'S GOLF PROFESSIONALS

N. Y. Yankees Blanked Out By Tigers

SCHOOLBOY ROWE SHINES

AS PITCHER & BATSMAN

New York, Aug. 18. "Schoolboy" Rowe, the Detroit Tigers' pitcher, brought off another of his pitching feats to-day when he blanked out the strong New York Yankees' team in the American Baseball League to give the Tigers a convincing victory.

Not only did he hold the Yankees to no score but he assisted the Tigers' battery by hitting a home run, the team winning by 6-0.

There were several double headers in the two major leagues to-day, although the top teams of the two leagues were only once engaged during the day. Both the Giants and Tigers were successful.

St. Louis Cardinals, second to the Giants in the National League, shared the honours with Boston Braves who won the first game by the narrowest of margins.

Owing to rain a double header schedule between the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox was postponed. The Chicago outfit was leading by one run to nothing in the first match when a deluge forced the game to be called off in the second inning.

RYDER CUP GOLFERS SET PACE

IRISH OPEN AT COUNTY DOWN

JARMAN LEADS IN FIRST ROUND

London, July 23.

Five of the eight men chosen to go to America with the British Ryder Cup team in September, were engaged with more than 100 other players yesterday in the first round of the Irish Open Championship, on the course of the Royal County Down Club at Newcastle (Co. Down). One of them, E. W. Jarmann (Preston) was the pacemaker with a splendid round of 71.

Form of certain competitors will play a big part in deciding upon the last two members of the British team.

The Irish event, since its inception in 1927, has been won by Ernest Whitcombe, Abe Mitchell, George Duncan, A. H. Padgham, E. W. H. Kenyon (twice), C. A. Whitcombe, and Syd Easterbrook, the holder. Only Mitchell, of that list, was absent yesterday, while a notable scratching was Len Holland.

Weather conditions were at first brilliant, with sunshine predominating, but by mid-day a gale came, accompanied by rain.

The record of 68 was made by Ernest Whitcombe when he won the championship in 1928. Jarmann would have smashed those figures had he been able to hole short putts; he missed five during the round, but seemed quite comfortable with long ones. Turning in 37, when the weather had been favourable, Jarmann had been frequently worried by the pace of the greens. Coming home, however, he played much better and finished the journey in 34.

His partner, J. Coppack, was level with Jarmann for twelve holes, but then faltered repeatedly and dropped eleven strokes to the Ryder Cup player in six holes.

Perry Alliss was never at home on the putting greens, and a score of 80 was the result. He took three putts on nearly every one of the first six greens, and opened the round with a succession of fives. When he got down from three yards for a two at the 7th, a recovery seemed likely, but Alliss finished the half round with a 6, and, after a very mixed display coming home, ended with a 7, when he failed to get clear from a bunker at the 18th.

W. Nolan, Ireland's chief "hope," finished well for 73. He turned in 34 and had a three at the 10th, where his first putt lipped the hole. A bad lie in the rough at the 11th, three putts at the 12th, and three putts at the 17th, put him definitely behind Jarmann, whom he was challenging for the lead. The last eight holes cost him 36 strokes—only one fewer than the first 10.

PAUGHAM IN TROUBLE

A. H. Padgham, after expending 39 strokes on the first nine holes, promised to finish in 72. On the return journey, with two holes to play, he was level fours. Then a sliced tee shot started the trouble at the 17th. From the rough Padgham went into a pond and eventually holed out in 6. He also sliced to the 18th and, going from side to side of the course, was in trouble all the way to the green. He took fourteen strokes for the last two holes and got round in 78.

Allan Dailey's recent improvement was reflected in a score of 74, a return also made by Ernest Whitcombe.

Syd Easterbrook (75), J. J. Busson (76), and George Duncan (76) all played steadily, while the amateur lead in mid-afternoon

The United States retained the Wightman Cup when Miss Helen Jacobs and the American team beat the British women tennis players by four matches to three at Forest Hills. The above picture shows Miss Helen Jacobs receiving the trophy from H. R. H. Princess Helena Victoria at Wimbledon last year, when the holders won by five matches to two.

A TIP TO BAER

Must Make Sure His Hands Are O. K.

LOUIS ISSUES A WARNING

Detroit, Aug. 8.

A friendly tip, also embodying a warning, to Max Baer to see that his hands are in shape if he meets Joe Louis this autumn, was given the former champion of the world by the sensational Negro.

Saying that he was glad to hear that Baer's hands were not seriously hurt and that they would get well, Louis said:

"But only Baer knows whether his hands are O.K. If Max isn't certain that they are, he should stay out of the ring. If we meet this autumn, I'd like to fight Max by that time, and I'd like to be certain that they are in shape—because mine are!"

"Max believes he's the best heavyweight in the business, and I believe I am. Well, he's entitled to his opinion and I'm mine and the only way to settle this argument is in the ring. I'm just as sure as I ever was that I'll beat him when we meet," he concluded.

The Michigan State Boxing Commission has sanctioned a proposed bout between Louis and the Cleveland "Rubber Man," Johnny Rizzo, sometime in September. However, in view of the fact that Louis and Schmeling have now been matched to fight in New York that month, it is unlikely that the bout with Rizzo will materialize.

Northampton Town F. C. report a loss on last season of £437, and the directors point out that but for the transfer in mid-season of George Benson, to Wolverhampton Wanderers, a much more serious position would have occurred.

was shared by Dr. J. D. MacGormack and C. J. McMullan, who both finished in 77. Later, however, J. C. Brown, last year's Native champion finished in 75.

E. W. H. Kenyon made a bold bid for the lead. He finished, however, in 72, having run into a rain-storm which caused him to miss a short putt at the sixth and take three on the seventh green.

Charles Whitcombe, the British Ryder Cup team captain required 38 each way. He had no luck throughout, but made no serious slip.

Sid Brews had a score of 73, his lowest half of 35 equalling the best of the day.

A BRITISH RECORD GOES

SWIMMING EVENTS AT BLACKPOOL

N. WAINWRIGHT IN FORM

(By W. J. HOWCROFT)

Blackpool, July 16. Norman Wainwright put up the best performance in the four sessions of the A.S.A. Championships at Blackpool to-day, when he won the 220 yards championship in 2min. 18.3-sec., beating the British native record of 2min. 20.2-sec.

When the 110 yards' lap at Blackpool is taken into consideration, Wainwright's feat is the most impressive swim by any British performer. He is now definitely on the way to world's rating. This is a due reward.

Later in the afternoon, Wainwright scored a second victory when he annexed the 440 yards title from R. H. Leivers in 6min. 9.2-5-sec. Wainwright and Leivers were never more than a yard apart until the last ten yards, when Wainwright applied more power into his arm, pulled and drew away to beat Leivers by two yards.

The absence of the holder, W. Francis, robbed the 150 yards backstroke championship of all interest and left the event at the mercy of the ex-holder, J. C. P. Beasford. He went to the front at 50 yards, to reach the finishing pool in 1min. 46.4-sec.—speedy work over a long lap course against comparatively weak opposition.

MRS. WADHAM'S VICTORY

My forecast of yesterday in favour of Mrs. Olive Wadham for the 100 yards championship duly materialised, although public opinion supported the chance of the title holder, Edna Hughes, who had literally looted through her heat in 69-sec. Yet in the race Miss Hughes only returned 68-sec., after fighting hard from pillar to post. In fact, if the holder had put less effort into her work she would have returned a faster time.

From the start, Mrs. Wadham led; she was challenged at 50 yards by Olive Bartle, but the latter could not sustain the effort and Mrs. Wadham went on to win by three yards from Miss Hughes with Olive Bartle third, in 67-sec. It was announced that the fourth and fifth, C. Rodwell and S. Calderhead, had also returned 67-sec., with B. Armstrong 67.1-5, and M. Hamilton, 68-sec. This is obviously incorrect, as Miss Rodwell was clearly the last to finish.

Mrs. Wadham's victory came as a big surprise and her time was an even greater surprise. It was a championship record made over a straightaway course, and is relatively better than Miss Joyce Cooper's British record of 62.2-5-sec., made in a 25-yards bath.

Lancashire scored their first and only success at the meeting when the Manchester girl, Beatrice Wolstenholme, took the 440 yards championship after a rare display of determination, in 6min. 0.8-5-sec., five yards in front of the Midlander, Gladys Moreom, with the Bournemouth girl, Joan Turner, third. Miss Wolstenholme turned in the first event at the first session, swam in one or more events at each session, and then registered a meritorious win at her final appearance—a great feat for a 15-years-old girl.

MARATHON RUN IN AMERICA AS TEST

PREPARING FOR OLYMPICS

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.

An Invitational Marathon race over the Olympic distance of 26 1/4 miles, in which many of the nation's outstanding distance runners are expected to compete, will be held in Philadelphia on Labour Day, September 2.

The winner may be designated as a full-fledged member of the United States Marathon team of three men which will compete in the Olympics in Berlin next summer, according to Lawson Robertson, coach of the 1932 U. S. Olympic team. Robertson is assisting Walter L. Whalen, secretary of the Philadelphia Olympic Athletic Association, in drafting plans for the Labour Day race.

Entrants from many sections of the country will be invited, according to Whalen, and he added that Clarence DeMar, Jimmy Hennigan and the Millrose team of New York may be entrants.

The request that the Labour Day race winner be designated as a member of the U. S. Olympic team will be placed before George V. Brown, of Boston, who last year was named as manager of the 1936 Olympic Marathon team.

Whalen announced that team trophies and individual prizes will be awarded winners in the Labour Day race. The marathon will start in historic Valley Forge and finish in the huge municipal stadium in South Philadelphia where Gen. Tanney and Jack Dempsey met in their first heavyweight championship bout—United Press.

WRESTLER TO TOUR JAPAN

Iowa City, Ia.

A trail blazer for the University of Iowa in the Orient this summer will be Earle Kielhorn, 155-pound wrestler, chosen to tour Japan with a 16-man American team.

The Hawkeye star, first ever to represent the university in the Far East, reported in Chicago on July 4 for try-outs to determine first and second teams. There, Kielhorn met Frank Lewis of Oklahoma A. and M., his conqueror in the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. tournament.

Kielhorn won 17 of 19 bouts in the 155, 165 and 175 pound classes last season; won the Big Ten 165-pound title, and was voted the outstanding wrestler competing. In the National Collegiate he was second in the A. A. U. tournament in the 155-pound class.

L. A. Bates, the Warwickshire cricket professional, who is 41, has decided to retire from county cricket, and has accepted the position of coach and head groundsman at Christ's Hospital, Horsham.

Eddie Jenkins, a full-back, formerly with Cardiff City and last season with Bristol City, has been signed by Newport County F. C.

—a great feat for a 15-years-old girl.

OLYMPIC GAMES

Guarantees Suggested For Non-Aryans

Paris, July 23.

The question is being raised in Paris as to whether the 1936 Olympic Games will be held in Berlin as arranged unless guarantees for the treatment of non-Aryan competitors is forthcoming. London is mentioned as a suitable alternative.

The Marquis De Polignac, a member of the International Olympic Committee, in an interview with the French sporting newspaper, L'Auto, states: "No decision has yet been contemplated regarding the next year's Olympic Games."

"We have in our archives a letter sent by Hitler himself according to which the Fuehrer affirms that non-Aryans will enjoy the same rights as pure Aryans. This is a formal engagement and, therefore, in our eyes the question of non-Aryans does not arise."

Asked if recent anti-Jewish action in German sporting circles had changed the situation, he remarked: "The Committee has not yet been officially informed of the question but our rules allow us at any time to withdraw the games from Germany."

"MAJORITY FAVOURS CHANGE" "I know that our President, Count Baillet-Latour, will be firm that no restriction be placed upon the religion of the competitors. I am certain that the great majority of the members of the Committee would favour changing the venue of the games."

It is understood that there is already a strong movement not to hold the games in Berlin unless the fullest guarantees are given. Should the games not take place in Berlin, it is doubtful if Italy and Finland would compete as they were foremost in asking that Berlin be chosen.

An offer would be made to the British Olympic Association Committee as the members feel that the Games could easily be organised in London even at the shortest notice. Furthermore it is pointed out that the Games have not been held in Great Britain or the Dominions since 1908.

U. S. CHESS TEAM

FIVE PLAYERS TO VISIT WARSAW

INTERNATIONAL TOURNEY

New York, Aug. 10.

Mr. Harold M. Phillips, chairman of the New York committee appointed by the National Chess Federation, has announced the five players who will represent the United States in the biennial international tournament at Warsaw.

The list includes four of the men who won the Hamilton-Russell trophy for America, at Folkestone, England, two years ago.

Those selected are:—Frank J. Marshall, Isaac I. Kashdan, Reuben Fine, Abraham Kupchik, Arthur W. Duke.

The team sailed for Poland on August 2.

CONFIDENT OF WINNING RYDER CUP

BRITISH GOLFER GIVES VIEWS

DIFFERENCE IN CLIMATE

London, Aug. 1.

If a confident captain is the keystone of success then Great Britain will retain the Ryder Cup in the professional international golf match which is to be played at Ridgewood, New Jersey, on September 28 and 29.

"Captain" Charles Whitcombe, winner of scores of tournaments, and a member of Great Britain's team in each of the four previous Ryder Cup matches with America, is a keen judge of a golfer and an authority on the game. He means what he says, and this time he says: "Great Britain will win."

In an interview with Reuters, Whitcombe made the following statement: "Of course, I am pleased to be captain, but I am not really surprised as I heard whistlers some time ago, and the Selector asked my help in picking the team. I am glad they have confidence in me after the heavy defeat sustained at Selcto under my captaincy in 1931."

The intense heat on that Ohio course, however, was fatal to our chances. It was impossible to play to form. This year, fortunately, we are playing in New Jersey in September and rain and snow are more likely than heat waves.

For this reason alone I think we have a great chance of retaining the Cup we won two years ago at Southport.

A more important reason is that the new team, in my opinion, is definitely stronger than the 1933 side. I do not think a mistake has been made in the selection. We know Hagen, Sarazen, Picard, Craig Wood, Horton Smith and Old Dutra, and despite the unknown quantity represented by Laffoon and the others, I think we shall be too good for them."

A FIGHTER

Cox, of Addington, is still an assistant, but he is ripe for full international rank, and will fight to the last putt. Burton and Jarmann chose themselves on this season's form, and Busson, as I have good reason to remember, is a fine match player. He beat me last September in the "News of the World" final.

Perry, Padgham, and Alliss are comparatively old fiddlers, and were in the Southport team. I have not formed any ideas as to foreman pairings or tactics yet. It is too early, but I hope to get the players together once or twice before we sail. I want to meet them in a happy family, for success in this match depends, to a great extent, on the absence of friction.

I have very definite views about training and diet. I have always considered it inadvisable to lay down rigid rules for training and diet in the case of a team of golfers, who each possess a different physique and temperament. It is different with boxers and athletes.

Each man should use his own judgment. What is suitable for me, for instance, would probably be unsuitable for you. If a man has become a good tournament golfer he has come to know enough about his own requirements without needing any help from me."

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS

RANGERS HELD TO DRAW

THIRD LANARK WIN

London, Aug. 17. In the Scottish Football League matches played to-day, Glasgow Rangers, last year's champions, were held to a draw of 2-2 by Ayr. Motherwell also shared the points with the same score in their home match against Aberdeen.

Abroath, one of the two promoted teams, lost to Albion by the odd goal in three, but Third Lanark, the other promoted eleven, obtained their first points by beating Kilmarnock by three goals to two before their own supporters.

Judging by the look of things at the moment, Falkirk and St. Mirren, who were relegated at the end of last season, will be making a bold bid to regain their First Division status. Against Montrose, the former won by eight goals to nil and the latter beat Stenmuir by two goals. Both teams have won their two matches to date.

WIGHTMAN CUP

TROPHY RETAINED BY UNITED STATES

LADIES' TENNIS

Forest Hills, Aug. 17. The United States retained the Wightman Cup for the fifth successive year in defeating Great Britain by the odd match in seven in the tennis contest concluded here to-day.

In arrears by two games to one at the conclusion of the first day's play, America drew level when Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabrynn defeated Mrs. Phyllis King, losing only three games. She took the first set at love.

Miss Helen Jacobs, finalist at Wimbledon this year, and who last year was defeated by Miss Dorothy Round in the final, played great tennis to defeat the English girl to-day.

Miss Jacobs seemed to be rejuvenated overnight and demolished Miss Round to snatch a 5-0 lead. The American star played machine-like tennis and was very steady. She won 6-3, 6-2.

MISS STAMMERS BEATEN

The next match saw Mrs. Burkhardt Arnold, conqueror of Miss Katharine Stammers, who the previous day caused a sensation by defeating Miss Helen Jacobs.

Mrs. Arnold covered the court with amazing agility and after the score was level at 2-2 in the first set, Miss Stammers was continually left standing by the American's cross-court shots.

In the second set, Miss Stammers speeded up her play and staidied her driving. Mrs. Arnold was unable to cope with the attack and cracked up under pressure. Miss Stammers claiming the set with the loss of only one game.

The third set was a hard battle. Miss Stammers fought as if she were fighting for her life, the score reaching 4-4 in no less than five games.

Mrs. Arnold led 5-3, then 5-2. Miss Stammers fought gamely to reduce the lead to 5-2 but the American player captured the next game to win the match and place the issue of the Cup beyond doubt.

In the last match of the series Miss Nancy Lyle and Miss Evelyn Dearman, of Great Britain, defeated Miss Carolyn Haleck and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus, in three sets. The second set went to ten games. Reuter.

FULL RESULTS

Detailed results as called by Reuter were as follows:

Miss Katharine Stammers (Great Britain) beat Miss Helen Jacobs (America) 5-7, 6-1, 9-7.

Miss Dorothy Round (Great Britain) beat Mrs. Burkhardt Arnold (America) 6-9, 6-2.

Miss Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabrynn (America) beat Miss Katharine Stammers and Miss Freda James (Great Britain) 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabrynn (America) beat Mrs. Phyllis King (Great Britain) 6-3, 6-2.

Miss Helen Jacobs (America) beat Miss Dorothy Round (Great Britain) 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. Burkhardt Arnold (America) beat Miss Katharine Stammers (Great Britain) 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

Miss Nancy Lyle and Miss Evelyn Dearman (Great Britain) beat Miss Carolyn Haleck and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus (America) 3-6, 6-1, 6-1.

adapted by the federal authorities in Washington to stamp out this terrorism. Such a system is what China needs; literally a war on crime. She needs dependable officers, appointed by the central authority, who can shoot, and who will shoot, when they are in contact with criminals. On the railways and on the highways, the Chinese authorities should have sufficiently strong patrols to ensure the safety of travellers. That is our suggestion. Let them create a force which might correspond to Washington's "G-Men." And if that remedy fails to prove effective, let them ask for help in their house-cleaning. Let the League act. Let those who are friends of China assist in preserving her self-respect. And for those of us who make suggestions and criticisms, let there be no reticence. For we, too, want to help.

MRS. ETHEL BURKHARDT ARNOLD, conqueror of Miss Katharine Stammers who, on the first day beat Miss Helen Jacobs in the Wightman Cup Contest.

SWIMMING GALA

Splendid Exhibition By Kwok Chun-hang

Splendid sport was witnessed at the European Y.M.C.A. swimming pool by a large crowd of spectators on Saturday night when a magnificent gala was held, the Y.M.C.A. East Lancashire, Lincoln and Royal Engineers participating.

The feature of the programme was the 100 yards breast stroke exhibition swim by Kwok Chun-hang, the Melbourne Centenary, Colony and Interport champion, who was accompanied by Wong Lu-man, Kwangtung nomination for the breast stroke event in the forthcoming China National Games.

Kwok gave a delightful display covering the distance in 73.4/5 seconds, and Wong finished the course three seconds later.

Both swimmers were given a great ovation. Kwok also participated in a water polo game played later in the evening.

The Y.M.C.A. secured first place in the swimming events, 50 yards free style, 150 yards medley, 150 yards free style and 300 yards relay race.

In the 150 yards medley event, Chicken secured the lead in the second length of the back stroke, but G. Fowler of the Y.M.C.A. pulled up on the free style to win in 2 minutes 16.4/5 seconds.

H. Lange swam a good race to win the 150 yards free style from Pearce, of the Royal Engineers. It was an exciting event.

SPLENDID DIVING
In the diving, the Service representatives secured all three places

SWIMMING MEET IN JAPAN

AMERICANS LOSE FIRST DAY

NEW POOL RECORD ESTABLISHED

Tokyo, Aug. 17. The Japanese led the Americans by 14 points to seven at the conclusion of the first day of the competition between the star swimmers of the two nations, held at the Meiji Shrine Pool to-day.

A new Japanese pool record was set up in the 300 metres relay race, the strong American quartette racing through the water to clock 3 mins. 20.2 seconds.

Reizo Kake, who set a new Japan mark of 2 minutes 41.2 secs. in the recent trials, won the 200 metres breast stroke event from Tetsuo Hamuro and John Higgins. His time was one second behind his trial mark.

Masanori Yusa, a member of the record-breaking Japanese Olympic Team in 1932, defeated John Macdonald, the American crack and Art Lindgrand in the 200 metres free style.

The Americans failed to secure a place in the 1,500 metres free style which was won by Tadashi Ishihara. Detailed results were as follows:

200 Metres Breast Stroke: 1. Reizo Kake; 2. Tetsuo Hamuro; 3. John Higgins. Time: 2 mins. 42.2 secs.

200 Metres Free Style: 1. Masanori Yusa; 2. John Macdonald; 3. Art Lindgrand. Time: 2 mins. 13.2 secs.

1,500 Metres Free Style: 1. Tadashi Ishihara; 2. Shogen Makino; 3. Hiroshi. Time: 19 mins. 12 secs.

300 Metres Medley Relay: Won by Americans (Parus, Taylor, Drysdale, Jack Kusley and Peter Fick). Time: 3 mins. 20.2 secs. (New Japanese record). Reuter.

A United Press message states that the weather, which had threatened to rain cleared up before the meet. Ticket sellers were unable to meet the demands of hundreds seeking to obtain admission. Other attractions on the programme included a water polo match and 100 yards back stroke and 100 yards free style. In which Japanese swimmers participated. Principal interest centres on the 400 metres free style event which is scheduled for Sunday.

with E. F. Selk, of the Association, fourth. Diving of a good standard was seen and it was a close affair between Gregson, of the East Lancs, and Rush of the Lincoln. Gregson gained the verdict by 1 1/4 points.

The water polo match between the Y.M.C.A. and the Mak Neng Association, Canton, produced some splendid play, the European emerging winners by the odd goal in three. G. Fowler gave the Association the lead but just prior to the interval, Wong Ki-yau equalised for the Canton team. In the second half, Goldman scored a goal with a backhand to give the Association victory.

The Association had a well balanced team while the Chinese played well in defence.

Sergeant Yeomans, of the Lincoln, was the referee.

The results were as follows:
50 yards free style: 1. R. B. Wood (Y.M.C.A.); 2. Crossan (Royal Engineers); 3. Allison (Lincoln). Time: 29 secs.

150 yards medley (Hirst, Back and Free style): 1. G. H. Fowler (Y.M.C.A.); 2. Chicken (Lincoln); 3. Barnsley (Royal Engineers). Time: 2 mins. 16.4/5 secs.

150 yards free style: 1. H. Lange (Y.M.C.A.); 2. Pearce (Royal Engineers); 3. Taylor (East Lancs). Time: 1 min. 50.4/5 secs.

300 yards free style (Teams of six): 1. Y.M.C.A. (A. W. Wagstaff, R. H. Wood, E. F. Selk, H. Lange, R. Goldman and B. Rasmussen); 2. East Lancs. (Smith, Gorman, Mason, McCarthy, Tunstall and Roberts) and Royal Engineers (R. Jordan, Barnsley, Revell, Pearce, Crossan and Goble). Dead heat. Time: 3 mins. 6.3/5 secs.

Low and High Board Diving: 1. Gregson (East Lancs.) 47 1/2 pts; 2. Rush (Lincoln) 46 1/2 pts; 3. Jordan (Royal Engineers); 4. E. F. Selk (Y.M.C.A.).

Water Polo: Y.M.C.A. defeated the Mak Neng Association 2-1.

Teams: Y.M.C.A. (S. Fowler, J. Ferrell, A. W. Wagstaff, B. Rasmussen, R. Goldman, G. H. Fowler and H. Lange); Mak Neng Association (Kwok Mok-hoi, Li Ki-yung, Wong Ki-chau, Wong Sun-man, Kwok Chun-hang, Chan Ki-hung and Shek Kam-pui).

SERIAL STORY—

One I Love

by LAURA LOU
BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

JANET HILL is engaged to ROLF CARLYLE but they do not have enough money to marry. Janet is secretary for BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine, and Rolf works for the Atlas Advertising Co. Janet insists they must have $100 in savings account before they can be married.

HOWARD GRISBY, another employee of the magazine, tries to make dates with Janet but she discourages him.

She hurries home from the office one Saturday to prepare a surprise birthday dinner for Rolf. On the way she sees a couple entering the fashionable Brewster Hotel Coffee Shop and recognizes the young man as Rolf.

CHAPTER II

In another instant the girl in the fur coat and the young man beside her had disappeared. Janet had barely seen them, had heard her heart cry out, "It's Rolf!" and was still struggling with the shock when the door of the Coffee Shop closed.

Immediately common sense returned. Of course it couldn't have been Rolf with that pretty, expensively dressed girl. It was some other young man whose topcoat happened to be the same shade of gray as Rolf's; who wore a dark felt at the same angle.

"It was because I was thinking about him," Janet told herself. "Imagine making such an idiot of myself! Why, it couldn't have been Rolf!" She accepted this explanation eagerly, with a sense of relief.

For a moment, though, she had been stung. Smiling, reassured, Janet hurried along. A minute or two later she was turning into the doorway of Rooney's Cafeteria. Most of the noon-time crowd had lunched and departed. The long room with its innumerable little tables, all with gleaming tile tops, was not even half filled.

Janet ordered a satisfying lunch—two vegetables, a salad, a glass of milk and for dessert a delicious-looking fruit tart. She carried her tray to a table near the side of the wall and sat down. It was quiet there. Almost too quiet. Suddenly Janet realized that she was hungry. The hot food seemed delicious and for several minutes she devoted herself to it, thinking only how pleasant it was to eat an appetizing meal in peaceful surroundings.

Then she took a slip of paper from her purse and began checking over the items listed. Hayslip's first for the pen and pencil set. In parenthesis Janet had set down "$5." It seemed a lot; enough even for the handsomeness and pencil she had visualized as Rolf's gift.

The dime store was on the list for candles and a glass top to replace the broken one on the coffee percolator. The cut-rate flower shop next for a half dozen pink roses—little ones that wouldn't last long but would be just right for a bowl on the table. The roses would cost only 50 cents. Then there was the meat market and the grocery and all the things that must be bought to prepare the birthday dinner.

Janet went over the list. No, there was nothing she had forgotten. Two-fifteen now. She must hurry!

Four hours later Janet Hill stood before the two-burner gas stove stirring cream sauce, trying at the same time to keep an eye on the steak broiling in the skillet that sat none too securely over the other burner. The asparagus, cooked, was propped as near as possible to the heat to keep it from chilling. A steaming coffee pot posed perilously at the corner of the tiny shelf, serving both as kitchen table and a support for the gas stove. Dishes, tea towels, a paper sack, knives and spoons littered the improvised kitchen.

For a moment Janet stopped stirring to push a strand of hair back from her face. She was warm and her nose was shining. The last minute, with everything to be done at once, was always confusing. Rolf would come any time now.

Rolf would come any time. There he was now—the buzzer on the bell downstairs pressed three times in rapid succession! Janet's "apartment" was on the second floor and Rolf could make that single flight in record time.

A sharp rap at the door—Janet leaving the stove, risking ruin of the dinner to answer—a slim, tall figure and a booming voice in the shadows. "Hello, honey."

It was a brief greeting. Janet hurried back to retrieve the cream sauce and the steak. The young man tossed aside his hat and topcoat indolently. Yes, it was a gray topcoat and a felt hat exactly the same shade as the young man who entered the Brewster Coffee Shop had worn.

Janet was too busy to notice that. She had disappeared behind the screen that shut off the "kitchen" from the rest of the room. The young man, seeing Janet, dropped into an arm chair. He produced cigarettes, lighted a match, applied it to a cigarette and leaned back comfortably, watching the curling smoke drift ceilingward.

"Busy to-day?" Janet called.

"So-so," Janet called. "I noticed the table with its bowl of roses and its tall candlesticks. 'Say, what's the idea? Looks like a party—'"

Smiling, Janet emerged from behind the screen. "It is a party, Rolf. Don't you know what day it is? It's your birthday! I wanted to surprise you."

"Birthday—say, I'd forgotten all about that. How'd you know? How'd you happen to remember—?"

"I've remembered ever since—oh, for months and months. Something you said one day last summer. Are you really surprised? I thought it words between them. Carlyle had found occasion to drop in the Every Home office on other errands. After the evening when he first persuaded her to have dinner with him the courtship had moved swiftly. In a little more than a month Janet Hill had promised to marry Rolf Carlyle.

Janet raised her face, glowing with happiness. "Kiss me," she whispered.

All that had been nearly a year ago. Janet, during those months, had learned to care more and more for Rolf. Not once did it occur to her that he could feel otherwise.

The birthday dinner proved a success. The steak was tender, cooked exactly as Rolf liked it. The salads were crisp and the rest of the simple menu as appetizing.

Janet thought, "This is how it's going to be some day—when we're married. This is the way we'll have dinner every night—"

She was talking about something at the office. Suddenly the girl laughed. "Oh, Rolf," she said, "the silliest thing happened to-day. I was coming by the Brewster Coffee Shop and I saw an awfully pretty girl. She was with a man in gray and for a minute I was sure it was you! I—I was certain of it!"

"You mean—you thought you saw me?"

"You must have a double. Honestly, I'd have sworn—but then of course I knew it couldn't be!"

Janet laughed and Carlyle joined her. Somehow the man's laugh was not so convincingly mirthful as the girl's.

"Funny," he agreed. "You don't think I've taken to lunching at the Brewster, do you?"

"Oh, of course not. But honestly it did look like you—"

The talk drifted to other things. Janet brought the dessert and the coffee. It was while they were drinking the fragrant golden beverage that Carlyle said carefully:

"Janet, there's something I want to talk to you about."

CINEMA NEWS

NOTES FROM THE THEATRES

Are domestic happiness and professional success compatible? Does a man continue to love his wife when her salary pays the bills?

These are the problems discussed in "Ann Carver's Profession," a Columbia picture coming soon to the Queen's Theatre. The story concerns the career of a woman lawyer whose sensational courtroom exploits establish her as the outstanding feminine barrister of New York City.

Her husband, meanwhile, is forging ahead slowly as an architect, but it is her salary which maintains their household. Is it possible that their marriage can be happy? Or domestic tragedy inevitable. Edward Buzzell, the director, believes this story is one of the most significant yet written for the screen in that it deals with problems faced by all professional women. Fay Wray plays Ann Carver and Gene Raymond her husband.

Clare Dodd, Claude Cullinger, Jennie Ralph and Arthur Piron are also cast in important roles.

"Murder in the Clouds" Ann Dvorak, who has always been a law-abiding and rather timid driver on the California highways, became a speedster for the sake of art. The talented young actress, who has the leading feminine role in the First National film "Murder in the Clouds," which is now at the Alhambra, was being photographed in a scene which shows her speeding along a narrow country road. She rehearsed the scene once or twice, driving about forty or forty-five miles an hour each time, but the speed was not sufficiently convincing for Director D. Ross Lederman. He wanted action. On the third rehearsal Ann whizzed by the cameras at a speed close to fifty-five miles an hour and when the scene was actually being taken, she zoomed along the road at nearly sixty miles an hour. The director waved for greater speed, and the time device used to check with the high speed cameras showed that she was traveling at sixty-seven miles an hour. When the scene was successfully finished, Ann entered her car to drive back to the studios and from that point on drove at a breakneck speed of about eighteen miles an hour. "Murder in the Clouds" is an unusual and baffling mystery drama, involving several strange murders in the air and the kidnapping of a beautiful girl by airplane. Lyle Talbot, Miss Dvorak and Gordon Westcott head the cast in a triangular romance while the others include Robert Light, George Cooper, Charles Wilson, Henry O'Neill and Russell Hicks. The story and screen play are by Roy Chancelor and Dore Schary.

"Transient Lady"

Three of the most brilliant writers of the day are responsible for Universal's newest film, "Transient Lady," which is coming to the King's Theatre on Thursday, with a cast headed by Raymond, Henry Hall, Frances Drake and June Jansworth. The original story was written by Octavus Roy Cohen, and ran serially in Liberty magazine. It is a glittering example of the mastery of technique to portray everyday people, because they represent the vast majority of the public. So he laid his story in a little southern town and made his

AUTHORITIES

Peking, Aug. 17.
Mr. Wang Keh-min, Chairman of the Peking Political Council, has officially confirmed to the British Embassy that the body of Mr. Gareth Jones, British Journalist, was found on August 13, and was subsequently taken to Paochang. The British Embassy is satisfied with the confirmation.

Captain Miller, of the British Military Attache's office, and Dr. Herbert Mueller, the German correspondent of the Deutsches Nachrichten Bureau who was Mr. Jones's companion when bandits seized them near Kalgan, are due to arrive at Paochang this evening.

It is understood that strong representations will be made by the British authorities to China, but so far no official statement in this direction has been made.

Dr. Herbert Mueller is bringing the body of Mr. Jones to Peking pending further arrangements.—United Press

Ignore Nanking Warning

Nanking, Aug. 17.
The Foreign Office announced today that the late Mr. Gareth Jones and Dr. Herbert Mueller before their departure for Inner Mongolia in July ignored the Kalgan Chinese authorities' warning, advising them not to travel in the dangerous areas.

The journalists signed certificates releasing the Chinese officials from responsibility for any misfortune which might befall them.

Their visit to Dolonor and Paochang was beyond the Chinese officials' expectations in view of a warning from London that they would be unprotected.—United Press

In Chinese Territory

Peking, Aug. 17.
The British Embassy intimates that confirmation of Mr. Gareth Jones's death will entail strong representations to Nanking. The body was found well within the Charhar border, its discovery by a policeman indicating that the territory is under Chinese control.

Captain Miller, the British Military Attache, and Dr. Mueller, left Kalgan this morning for Paochang. However, as it is not confirmed that the body has yet been taken to Paochang, they may have to travel 30 miles to the spot where it was discovered in order to carry out the necessary identification.

Later, Mr. Yueh Kai-hsin, the Foreign Affairs Commissioner of Charhar, arrived from Kalgan this afternoon. He reported to Mr. Wang Keh-min on the Gareth Jones affair.

As a result of his report Mr. Wang Keh-min officially confirmed to the British Embassy that the body found on Tuesday last 30 miles south-east of Paochang is that of Mr. Gareth Jones. He confirms that the body is now at Paochang.—Reuter FORGED COUPONS?

UNEMPLOYED DISCHARGED
AT KOWLOON COURT

When he appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones, at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court on Saturday morning, on a charge of demanding property on forged documents, Tung Fung, 28, unemployed, was discharged.

Mr. F. H. Fisher, the Hongkong representative of the British American Tobacco Company, was the complainant. Detective Inspector C. Poyntz appeared for the prosecution.

Mr. Fisher stated in evidence that the coupons produced in Court resembled those issued by the British American Tobacco Company in their salaried cigarettes. Authorized dealers of the Company were authorized to change these coupons for gifts and money. The forged tickets did not bear a watermark as did the genuine. The genuine coupons were printed in Shanghai.

On Cheung, fook, of the Luen Chong tobacco shop stated that on Wednesday last about 8 p.m. defendant came into the shop with a bundle of coupons. When he was asked how much he wanted, defendant replied 70 cents per hundred. At this witness became suspicious, as these coupons were worth 30 cents per hundred.

The coupons did not bear any watermark so witness asked defendant to wait and went off to call a man named Leung Ng-chiu, of the British American Tobacco Company, at No. 50 Foho Street. When the two men returned to the shop defendant had gone, so they went out, and met him a few shops away.

When defendant again produced the coupons Leung said that they were forged, to which defendant replied that they need not take them if that was so. Leung then remarked that he (defendant) could be sent to prison.

In discharging defendant the Magistrate remarked that the actions of this witness would have frightened anybody into leaving the shop, and he felt that defendant was justified in going away.

It was alleged that defendant had attempted to exchange 160 forged B.A.T. coupons for 70 cents per hundred at the Luen Chong Tobacco shop.

ETHIOPIA CRISIS UNSOLVED

IN RECESS

Paris, Aug. 18.
Unbusiness still prevails in French circles after the meeting of M. Laval and Baron Aloisi.

Instructions received by the Italian delegate this morning were not considered to have cleared up two points.

In the first place they appear to discard the suggestions presented as a basis of possible discussion, without bringing forward anything definite in their place.

Secondly they avoid Mr. Eden's desire to clear up, exactly what are the Italian demands.

M. Laval's meeting with Mr. Eden was to inform him regarding his latest exchange of views with Baron Aloisi.—Reuter

Difficult

Paris, Aug. 18.
Baron Aloisi visited M. Laval and their conversation lasted 90 minutes. Mr. Eden also had an hour's talk with M. Laval, after which M. Laval announced that the negotiations were proving difficult.

The Tripartite Conference meeting took place at 3.30 p.m.

Mr. Warriner, the American Charge D'Affaires at Paris, also discussed the situation with Mr. Eden.—Reuter

Paris, Aug. 18.
The tri-Power Conference has recessed pending the arrival of a statement from Signor Mussolini declaring the minimum claims in Ethiopia, which will give positive bases for negotiations.

The delay indicated that the reply would be most important. This attitude has dispelled all doubt that control of the Mediterranean and Red Seas is behind the Anglo-Italian disagreement.

It is authoritatively stated that Britain is trying to convince Italy that the sea route to India via Suez is not important to Italy, arguing that control of Ethiopia would not materially alter the situation.

Regarding the Lake Tana area it is indicated that Britain has plainly warned Italy that, if she tried to seize it, it would bring her in direct conflict with Britain. The British spokesman added diplomatically that they do not foresee any such contingency.

It is reported that M. Laval and Mr. Eden may go to Rome personally to lead with Signor Mussolini to take the economic concessions and to abandon the military control.—United Press

A Show Down

Paris, Aug. 18.
Britain and France have demanded a show down for Italy's threat to attack Abyssinia. As the delegates of the tri-Power Conference held session in the historic clock-tower of the Foreign Office, a final desperate effort to avert hostilities, Baron Aloisi explained the Italian position, after telephoning to Signor Mussolini, after which Mr. Eden and M. Laval met at 3 p.m. on August 16 to review the Italian exposition. The conference was adjourned at 7.30 p.m. with no prospects of an immediate settlement.—United Press

Economic Proposals

Paris, Aug. 18.
Proposals for a settlement of the Abyssinia dispute have been submitted to Signor Mussolini by the British and French Governments.

According to a well informed French source the proposals, which are described as "suggestions," are that so far as Britain and France are concerned Abyssinia be left open for Italian economic development.

The suggestions are based on the Anglo-Italian agreement of 1925 and the Franco-Italian agreement of this year.

Britain reserves her right over Lake Tana and the Nile tributaries, while France asks only safeguarding rights concerning the Djibouti-Addis Ababa Railway.

In the meantime the talks are hanging fire pending the desired submission of Signor Mussolini's terms in black and white.

M. Laval is rather impatient at the hitch because of his daughter Jose's marriage to Count Rene de Chambrun on Tuesday.

He does not want the Conference to reach its crisis at that particular moment.

The Echo de Paris says that it is becoming increasingly obvious that Britain and Italy are engaged in a trial of strength, or rather of determination.

The Conference is not meeting further to-day, but Mr. Eden and M. Laval are to have forty-five minutes conversation this afternoon.—Reuter

In Touch With Rome

Rome, Aug. 18.

SHANTUNG FLOOD

100,000 REFUGEES LEAVE
BY TRAINS

Nanking, Aug. 16.
Shantung has suffered a loss of $60,000,000 as a result of the recent inundation by the Hwangho in the western part of that province, according to Mr. Hsu Hsin-wu, Engineer-in-Chief of the Hwangho Conservancy Commission, who returned here last night after a trip up north by plane to investigate the flood situation.

Refugees' Camps

Tainan, Aug. 16.
Mr. Hu Shih-ying, Chairman of the National Famine Relief Commission, arrived at Tainan yesterday. After an inspection of the refugees camp there he continued to Yenchow and Taining, where no fewer than 20,000 refugees are concentrated waiting trains to carry them to refugees' camps. Mr. Hu was deeply touched by the pathetic scene at the station when a big crowd of refugees begged for relief.

After an inspection in Taining Mr. Hu took a trip by boat along the Grand Canal to its lower reaches.—Wah Kiu Yat Po

Victims' Plight

Shanghai, Aug. 16.
Shantung telegraphic reports estimate that the Taining train have carried over 100,000 flood victims, while every day there was thousands of refugees awaiting transport at the Taining railway station.

To obtain reliable information of the flood conditions in western Shantung the National Economic Council has booked two aeroplanes of the Euro-Asia Aviation Corporation to carry the Council's representatives over the whole of Shantung's flooded counties.—Wah Kiu Yat Po

Kwangtung Relief Plan

In view of the fact that four districts in Kwangtung, the Sze-wu, Kwangshui, Koyin, and Koming have suffered the most in the recent Kwangtung flood, the Canton Finance Department has decided to reduce the land tax by fifteen per cent. for this fiscal year, says the Central Press.

Messrs. Wong Yan-hong and Fan Kim-kong, representatives of the Canton Yan Oi Charity Institute, left Hongkong on Saturday by the President Jackson for Shanghai and North China to inspect the flooded districts on the Yangtze and Yellow Rivers. They will distribute $50,000, a donation from the Yan Oi Charity Institute.

WUHU PRISON RIOT

ELEVEN CONVICTS ESCAPE
AFTER LONG FIGHT

Wuhu, Aug. 18.
No less than 113 convicts participated in a riot which occurred here in the County Prison yesterday afternoon when the wardens were over-powered and twenty rifles were taken from them.

The prison was in a great confusion. Peace Preservation Corps in the nearby garrison were called to assist the police. A sharp rifle battle ensued immediately after the arrival of the Peace Preservation Corps. The situation was not completely under control until after three hours' street fight between the convicts and the Government forces.

The riot resulted in three members of the Peace Preservation Corps being killed, two others wounded, while eleven convicts escaped.—Wah Kiu Yat Po ing submitted an important proposal to the Italian Government and the Italian Foreign Office wished urgently to get in touch with Signor Mussolini, who, however, left Rome in the afternoon for a motor tour of inspection of the South Italian Black Shirts mobilized for service in Africa.

Addressing 12,000 men of the 23rd Division at Isernia, Il Duce is reported to have declared: "We shall go forward until we achieve a Fascist Empire. I know that you will do your duty with an iron discipline until all goals have been attained."

It is believed in Rome that the Paris Conference will end in a stalemate, which will be followed by a crisis at Geneva, when Italy may throw down a challenge to Abyssinia and Britain if an attempt is made to discuss the whole Italian-Abyssinian dispute.—Reuter

British Impatient

Paris, Aug. 18.
The British delegation will not wait for more than two or three days longer for Signor Mussolini's reply to the Franco-British suggestions made to Baron Aloisi, so British quarters stated to-night.

"The situation must be cleared up one way or the other by the middle of next week," they said. It is still possible that there may be conversations to-morrow but the general impression is that Franco-British quarters to-night are markedly pessimistic.—Reuter

ALLEGED SNATCHING

TWO SHOTS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN FIRED

Miss Maria Martins, a Mexican Chinese, was the victim of a bag snatching incident which occurred on the Taipei Road, near Shek Kip-mui, Shamshuipo district, on Saturday evening. At the time she was accompanied by Private John Renton, of the Lincolnshire Regiment, and another woman friend.

Private Renton, in a report to the police, stated that about 7.30 p.m. he was in company with two women and at the time of the incident he was a few yards behind lighting a cigarette. On seeing a man snatch Miss Martins's handbag, he immediately went to her assistance.

The soldier seized hold of the man and tried to overpower him, but while doing so another man, dressed in white clothing, came up in front of him, and fired two shots from a short firearm.

The men, who were both Chinese, made towards Shek Kip-mui village. An earlier police report stated that during the escape two reports were heard resembling revolver shots and it was possible that one of the men may have been armed.

The thieves made off with the handbag, which contained $10 in American currency, one Hongkong dollar and ten cents piece and other miscellaneous articles.

The first robber is described as being about 30 years of age and the second about 25.

Kennedy Road Incident

An Indian is being detained for enquiries regarding a police report in which it is stated that a Chinese woman was walking along Kennedy Road near the rifle range when her leather handbag, containing, among other articles, three library cards issued by the Hongkong University, in the name of Miss Tam Wal-chit, was stolen.

It is alleged that it was snatched by an Indian watchman, dressed in khaki uniform, who was riding a bicycle. He made off in an easterly direction.

NEW LOAN TO CHINA

NANKING

Nanking, August 18.
The Central News Agency has learned from responsible sources that rumours to the effect that China is negotiating a loan of five million pounds from England through Mr. Quo Tai-chi, Chinese Ambassador to Britain, are entirely false.

It is explained that if any foreign loan is to be borrowed by the Chinese Government, the principles have first to be decided by the Central Political Council. The responsible government organ may then proceed to start negotiations.

The Central Political Council has made no such decision.—Central News Agency

MOTOR ACCIDENTS

BATCH OF MISHAPS
DURING WEEK-END

Several motor mishaps, in one of which two European police officers were involved, have been reported to the police authorities over the week-end.

Sergeant W. G. S. Scott reported that at 12.35 p.m. on Saturday he was driving a police motor cycle combination, with Sergeant R. D. Paton in the sidecar, going towards Taun Wan along the Castle Peak Road. When passing over the bridge at Wai Ching Village, he knocked down a woman, Hui Chang, who suddenly ran across the road from left to right.

The woman suffered abrasions to the body, hands and legs and was removed to the Kowloon Hospital. Sergeant Scott also had abrasions which Sergeant Paton received slight injuries to his back, nose and chin. Both officers received treatment at the Kowloon Hospital.

The combination was damaged. Mr. J. S. Smith, of 94 Nathan Road, notified the police that about 4.30 a.m. on Sunday, while driving his car along Castle Peak Road near the Hongkong Brewery, he bumped into two trees, damaging the left front wheel and running board of the car.

Knocked down by car No. 3218, driven by Mr. D. Black, of "Seven Sisters," Ngai Tsang Kwai-fook, 23, near Ho Chiung Village. The man sustained a fracture of the left ankle and was removed to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from facial injuries.

While driving private motor car No. 3959 along Castle Peak Road on Friday morning, Thoi Ho-shing knocked down a man, named Tsang Kwai-fook, 23, near Ho Chiung Village. The man sustained a fracture of the left ankle and was removed to the Kowloon Hospital by the car.

Passengers in the car were Mrs. J. H. Rutledge, her daughter and Dr. D. K. Samy, who was being taken to attend Mr. Rutledge, who is recovering from an operation, at his seaside bungalow at Taun Wan.

Fatal Fall from Lorry
In attempting to catch his hat, which blew off while he was sitting on lorry 3205, Li Ho-ching, 30, cooie, fell off and was killed instantly on Saturday morning. The accident occurred on the Shing Mun access road. The lorry, on which several other coolies were travelling, was conveying goods to the Shing Mun works.

Mr. A. L. Wanless, wife of Lt. Wanless, of the Lancashire Regiment, residing at No. 1, Kingsclere Hotel, has reported to the Police that while driving private car No. 1462 along Leichikok Road on Friday, a Chinese named Leung Cheung ran across the road and was knocked down. He received slight injuries to the leg.

BRITAIN TO LIFT ARMS EXPORT EMBARGO?

STRONG ANSWER FOR ITALY

ROME GIVES GRUFF "NO" TO EDEN

KILLS LAST HOPE FOR PARIS NEGOTIATIONS

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, Aug. 19, 1 p.m.)

London, Aug. 18.

Diplomats here declare that Britain's retort to Italy's smashing of the tri-party conference in Paris will be the lifting of the arms export embargo against Abyssinia.

It is further reported that the Cabinet may be summoned during the coming week, since officials regard the Paris break-down with undisguised gravity.

The gruff "no," telephoned by Signor Mussolini from Rome has shattered the hope of success at the three-power negotiations to prevent an Italo-Ethiopian war, without a doubt. A communique issued at 6.20 p.m. announced that the conference had adjourned.

"Difficulties encountered in examination of suggestions put forward during the course of discussions, necessitated adjournment of the study undertaken, which will be carried out through diplomatic channels," the communique says.

Baron Aloisi, conveyed to Mr. Anthony Eden and M. Pierre Laval, the British and French delegates, Mussolini's refusal of the jointly approved Franco-British compromise formula.

HARD FEELING

The conference ended in bitterness due to the Italo-British dispute over letters exchanged in 1925 between Rome and London regarding "a secret agreement for the political division of Ethiopia," which Mussolini asserted justified his plans for a military conquest. The British, on the other hand, contend the documents never took practical effect.

The plans for a conference of diplomatic spokesmen are regarded as merely face-saving.—United Press.

CRUSH ALL OBSTACLES

SPAIN ALARMED

Madrid, Aug. 18. It is reported that the Government has decided to hasten national defence preparations, especially the coast fortifications of the Balearic Islands and the fortification of naval bases, long projected, due to the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.—United Press.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Paris, Aug. 18. An official communique was given out by M. Laval, Mr. Eden and Baron Aloisi, stating that the conference had adjourned. The delegates had met to determine a way to settle peacefully the Italo-Abyssinian dispute, but had not yet been able to find a basis for the discussion which would bring about a solution. There would be a final discussion through diplomatic channels, the communique added.—Reuter.

WAR WILL COME WITHIN MONTH

PRAYERS FOR VICTORY

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, August 19, 1.30 p.m.)

Addis Ababa, Aug. 18.

This nation is resigned to war within a month.

The people, led by their Emperor, to-day prayed: "O God, confound our enemies and break their hearts." Strange lifting chants, sung in the Ge'ez language, rose from the cathedrals throughout the nation.

The principal service was at St. George's, Addis Ababa, where Emperor Selassie, President Enqayet and most of the foreign missionaries were in attendance.

Outside, shaggy tribesmen, many of them carrying old-fashioned rifles, mingled with the Emperor's guard. Half-naked urchins pursued filthy dogs through the ranks of the soldiers, dodging the officers' kicks.

Inside the place of worship was a scene of splendour. The first three circles were filled with potentates. Ordinary laymen silently squatted on the floor throughout the whole proceeding. The chants are hours long.—United Press.

PRAY FOR PEACE

Addis Ababa, Aug. 18. The Emperor has ordered his people to consecrate to-day to prayers for peace in Abyssinia and the preservation of the country's independence.

GRAVITY OF CRISIS INDICATED

CONTEMPT OF LEAGUE

London, Aug. 19.

"The gravity of the Italian decision cannot be over-estimated," says the Times in the course of a leading article, adding that "nothing can be said in extenuation of the Italian methods."

"The machinery of the League," says the journal, "was at her disposal for righting wrongs. She has ignored her pledges and contemptuously flouted the League."

"If Mussolini's present mood persists, there seems to be no escape from a direct conflict when the League Council meets. A settlement must be sought that does not conflict with the principles of the League, or else the Covenant will become a dead letter."

"If there is no League, or only a League reduced to ridiculous feebleness, the peace of Europe will have to depend on new and less hopeful machinery for the prevention of hasty action."

The Times concluded that "for Britain the issue is extremely grave, and for France even more serious."—Reuter.

HEROIC ATTEMPT AT RESCUE

London, Aug. 19.

The death of a three-year-old boy named George Smith, as the result of being attacked by six Great Danes, has occurred at Henley.

It appears that the little boy, who entered a yard where the dogs were kept by a breeder, was savagely attacked and worried by the animals, which previously had always been well behaved.

Another lad, James Nolan, aged 15 years, courageously drove off the dogs with stones and picked up the little child, who had been terribly bitten.

The child expired from the injuries whilst being removed to hospital.—Reuter.

Extremists Warned By Dr. Schacht

GERMANY FACING ANOTHER CRISIS

CENTRALISED CONTROL

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, August 19, 11 a.m.)

Berlin, Aug. 18.

The most serious warning with respect to Germany's financial condition since Chancellor Adolf Hitler came to power, was delivered by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Minister for National Economy, speaking at Koenigsberg.

Dr. Schacht attacked the Nazi extremists who sought to solve economic ills with fancy remedies and those who aggravated the nation's ills by causing disturbances against the churches and the Jews.

Many parts of the version of the speech issued by the Reichsbank were omitted in the German News Agency account, especially those criticising the extremists.

Dr. Schacht declared that Germany was in the midst of playing one of the greatest parts ever given her in history.

"The question of carrying out this part, including our rearmament, makes me wrack my brains considerably," he said. "To pass over the present task with cheap tirades, is not only senseless but damnable."

"The whole world is in distress and difficulty, and it is ridiculous to assume that Germany is an exception. On the contrary, the task is considerably more serious. Our leader's policy can only succeed if the nation stands behind him with unanimous concentration and will-power."

"If our financial task is impossible, I shall hold responsible all who have acted without discipline," he said.

"I never cease in my effort to satisfy the foreign debt claims as far as possible," Dr. Schacht went on.

ARMAMENTS COSTS

The secret of success in providing the vast sums required for rearmament and work providing schemes lay in the complete centralisation of Germany's financial policies, said the Minister.

At some future date, he said, these sums, which will be of an unheard of magnitude, will have been spent in achieving a normal standard of living, and they would be repaid by the work and the thrift of the German people.

"I must raise my voice in warning. I must point out that every penny spent unnecessarily means aggravation of the situation as a whole."—Reuter Special.

ETHIOPIA FACES INVASION

SHORTAGE OF WAR SUPPLIES

BUT ITALIANS' TASK IS TREMENDOUS

(By Telegraph. Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received Aug. 19, 8.30 a.m.)

Jigiga, Aug. 18.

Reuter's Special Correspondent in Abyssinia has just completed a survey of conditions in the capital, Addis Ababa, and in those areas where preparations for the conflict which is feared to be approaching are proceeding.

Describing a sixty mile journey by motor from Dire-dawa to Jigiga, this correspondent declares that the roads are execrable. This, he continues, is the route over which large quantities of arms are said to be passing daily, shipped from Berbera into Ethiopia. Certainly small quantities of ammunition have been arriving and more may be imported from this direction, but it would be a physical impossibility to transport a big gun or any heavy war materials over this track, he writes.

The route by which Abyssinia can obtain arms is by way of Djibouti, and from there by the Franco-Ethiopian Railway Company.

BRIBERY CHARGE AT SESSIONS

GOVT. INTERPRETER IN THE DOCK

PIG REMOVAL INCIDENT

"Nothing strikes more deadly at the roots of a Government than the corruption of its servants," said Mr. W. J. Lockhart-Smith, Assistant Crown Solicitor, at the Criminal Sessions this morning, when Cheng Hing-u, a Sanitary Department interpreter, was charged with having accepted a bribe of $50 by public servant.

The case is being heard before the Police Judge, Mr. Justice Lindell, with the assistance of the following jury:—Messrs. George Duncan, jr. (foreman), Lam Kwong-sik, A. A. D'Almeida, T. A. Johnston, J. R. Paton, B. C. de Jonge, and L. S. Castro.

Mr. H. C. Macnamara, instructed by Mr. M. K. Lo, is for the defence. Outlining the facts of the case, Mr. Lockhart-Smith said that although the sum involved was small, the case nevertheless was of a serious nature. Nothing struck more deadly at the roots of a Government than the corruption of its servants. It was equally serious from the point of view of the accused, his reputation and his future employment in the Government service being at stake.

CROWN'S CASE

The case for the Crown was that on May 15 this year, a pig dealer named Ma Sing was fined $25 by the Police Magistrate at Kowloon for keeping swine without a licence. An order was also made for the removal of the animals from the place, which was at a village in Cheungshawan. The prosecution was undertaken by a European sanitary inspector who, most unfortunately, proceeded on leave before the proceedings concluded. The accused was the interpreter to the inspector.

Annot from being a pig dealer at Cheungshawan. Ma Sing also kept a shop at 123 Nam Cheung Street. (Continued on Page 5.)

The country over which the Italian invaders will be obliged to advance, writes this correspondent, presents enormous difficulties.

First, the advancing columns must travel at very high altitudes, in particularly barren territory, where Europeans can only march very slowly. Then, from these heights, they will have to plunge suddenly downwards, into swamps and marshes, malarial-ridden. And all the time they will be in danger of attack by hidden marksmen. Always their scouts and outposts will be beset by clever fighters who have been successful stalkers of wild beasts and who can take advantage of every particle of cover. Then, from the swamps, the labouring invaders must climb above the clouds again.

BLACKS' MAGIC

The correspondent has been much impressed by the ability of the Abyssinian fighters to make use of cover. He makes much of this point. Moreover, large bodies of armed men collect almost magically where, a moment before, no-one has been in sight.

The Ethiopian villages, though numerous, are all small. They are visible only a few hundred yards away.

The consensus of opinion among well-informed Indians and Europeans in this country, the correspondent goes on, is that if the Abyssinians confine their defensive fighting to guerilla warfare the Italians will meet with a very much harder task than they realise at present. But if the Abyssinians decide to defend themselves en masse, the Italian superiority in modern war materials will give them an easy victory, for the tribesmen will be slaughtered.—Reuter Special.

I Was Worried SICK

Thought Something Terrible Was Wrong With My Baby

Natural Way Doctors Advise Makes Baby Hungry for Food — Restores Health Naturally

No longer need you fear that something terrible is wrong when your child is fretful, listless or won't eat. Simply do this at once:

Give your baby a little Castoria and see how quickly improvement comes.

Authorities have found that intestinal absorption may be poisoning the system even when the child's habits may seem regular. The stomach is upset. Digestion is impaired. Nerves lose their delicate balance.

Nothing corrects this distressing condition quite as naturally and safely as Castoria. Swiftly it cleanses the system, settles the stomach, improves digestion and restores nerve-poise. Then Nature does the rest as only Nature can. Appetite for food returns. Health is again normal. As a result baby gains weight fast.

Now don't worry, mother. At the first warning that all is not well give your child a little Castoria. Results will surprise you.

CITIES AT DAGGERS DRAWN

RIVAL CLAIMS TO VILNA

Vilna, Aug. 5. In these days of over-improving communications it is startling to find two cities in Europe, only 60 miles apart, between which it is impossible to travel, to telephone, or even to send a letter or a telegram.

The two cities are Kovno, the capital of Lithuania, and Vilna, a city of bewilderingly mixed population, under Polish government, but claimed vehemently by Lithuanians as the historic capital of their country.

Ever since 1920, when Marshal Pilsudski seized Vilna for strategic and sentimental reasons (he was born and his mother buried there), the neighbouring countries of Poland and Lithuania have turned their backs upon each other and diligently avoided every kind of international intercourse. They call it a "state of war."

But after 15 years the warriors have wearied, and hostilities are at present confined to a refusal to communicate across the frontier in the manner of civilized countries.

Sleeping Guard

The railway line between Vilna and Kovno has been torn up for 100 yards where the track passes—indistinguishably as far as the appearance of the fields and trees and peasants is concerned—from Poland into Lithuania. It is, nevertheless, possible for a foreigner to cross the frontier by road if he is Influential and impartial enough to obtain permission from both Governments and patient enough to endure a good deal of questioning and scrutiny on the part of the frontier officials.

A traveller who recently did so has described to me his experiences. He arrived at the Lithuanian frontier post at 2 a.m. Passport and visa having been inspected, the Lithuanian gendarme walked towards Poland whistling with remarkable gusto.

"The Polish gendarme is always asleep at this time," he explained to the traveller. "We take a nap in turns and wake each other up whenever necessary." A humble example of Polish Lithuanian co-operation that might well be commended to the two Governments.

Unfortunately for unsettled Europe, there is still no sign of either Government yielding an inch in the difficult Vilna question. At his own request, Marshal Pilsudski's heart has been buried in a Vilna church, while his body lies with the Polish kings at Cracow—a posthumous disposition as significant as that of Thomas Hardy's in Wessex and Westminster.

Polish Pilgrims

Every day this summer hundreds of Poles, including large parties of school-children, are making a pilgrimage to the church of St. Theresa, in which, guarded by two soldiers, lies the silver casket containing Marshal Pilsudski's patriot heart.

The church is adjacent to the shrine of Ostra Brama, an ancient British lovers of art treasures were given an opportunity to purchase some of the world's finest miniatures when J. P. Morgan, millionaire American financier, placed the collection gathered by his father on sale at Christie's Auction Rooms, London. This collection is one of the most valuable of all privately-owned groups of miniatures. The paintings are of great value, but the frames also cause a sensation, many of them being made with precious stones. This portrait of Marie Antoinette is by Francois or Tony Dumont. Note the magnificent framing.

INVENTOR, NOW 84, FEARS PAUPER'S GRAVE

SLIMMING—WITH A KNIFE

Budapest, Aug. 1. A Budapest business man weighed sixteen stone. Under medical advice he had the superfluous fat removed by operation.

The operation—which lasted three and a half hours—took place in the Budapest clinic.

At the end of it he was taken home weighing fifty pounds less.

According to the doctor's statement the man will soon be fully recovered.

Many women are making inquiries at the clinic with a view to having the operation themselves.

place of religious pilgrimage before which from dawn till dusk peasants and soldiers kneel in prayer. And thus in Vilna, as in modern Germany, nationalism and religion are being closely identified. It is being instilled into the hearts and heads of young Poland that Vilna is as sacredly precious to Poland as it is to Lithuania.

However, Lithuanian city may have been 15 years ago, today it is to all appearances a predominantly Polish city.

"We are all Lithuanians here," So a Lithuanian political leader, whom I sought out covertly, unconvincedly assured me. By origin, perhaps, 70 per cent. of the population are, but then Marshal Pilsudski was also Lithuanian by origin. He looked to Poland for personal fulfilment, and his example is being followed by hundreds of Vilna Lithuanians to whom acceptance of the Polish language and Polish ways is the condition for a remunerative job.

THE man who, seventy years ago, revolutionised the building trade by inventing reinforced concrete is to-day living in fear of a pauper's grave.

Joseph Tall, at eighty-four, lives in a tiny cottage at Coggeshall, Essex.

He was fourteen when he patented his invention as "a method of reinforcing concrete in order to render it suitable for building," and he was hailed as a genius.

He went on to invent and patent more than a score of other inventions covering the whole field of concrete construction.

He was fifteen when he put up the first concrete buildings at Bexleyheath, Kent, and two years later Napoleon III. commissioned him to build a block of forty flats in Paris.

Buildings all over the world stand as memorials to his invention.

Patents Lapsed

At twenty-one he was worth £30,000.

It was with the floating of a company to run the business that things began to go wrong. Before he was twenty-five money and position had gone. He had no money to prevent his patents lapsing.

His last few pounds went to bury his mother.

The master became an artisan. The inventor worked as a painter and decorator. With old age came unemployment.

On the old age pension, he and his wife, who is seventy-three, went to live at Coggeshall.

They lacked food and fuel, until, three years ago, the Cement Manufacturers' Association heard of their plight, and made them a small allowance.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS / SCHOOLBOY SEES WORLD

SCIENCE BATTLES WITH DEATH

New York, Aug. 15.

The scourge of infantile paralysis, which has claimed 400 lives in the United States in the past week alone, and caused the postponement of the Scout Jamboree at Washington, may be brought under the control of science as the result of new experiments.

Scientists, made desperate by the alarming increase in fatalities since mid-July, are killing Rhesus monkeys as fast as they can obtain them to manufacture vaccine. Five hundred were killed last month.

As fast as it is being made, this vaccine is being sent to the affected areas.

None of the 2,000 children vaccinated in California contracted the disease, nor have any of the 500 similarly treated in New York and New Jersey.

It requires thousands of tests in infected areas to be certain the vaccine immunises. Dr. Maurice Brodie, discoverer of the new preventive, explained. He has been working with Dr. William H. Park in the laboratories here for two years developing the discovery he made while a professor at McGill University in Montreal, Canada.

Warm Springs Fund Aids

Funds from the Warm Springs Foundation, in which President Roosevelt is interested, have helped carry on the research and development.

"It is a formalised and polio vaccine," Dr. Brodie said, explaining its difference from other attempts to immunise against the dreaded infantile paralysis. The organisms—polio virus—are "killed" and preserved in formalin, making the vaccine.

Scientists have tried for 25 years to find some way to fight the disease. They have attempted to use active virus in a serum instead of "killing" them.

Several Pioneers in Field

Dr. Sam Flexner, director of Rockefeller Institute, was one of the pioneers. Others were the late Dr. H. L. Abramson, Dr. H. Gerber and Dr. Sidney Kramer, all of New York City, and Dr. John Albert Kolmer of Philadelphia.

When Dr. Brodie's new method became known he was brought here to develop it. He and Dr. Park have worked day and night to perfect the vaccine. With the call for help from North Carolina production was speeded.

The normal demand of 25 or 50 of the Rhesus monkeys a week was advanced to 100 and 150. They are inoculated with the disease germs, and as they go into the last stages they are chloroformed and killed. Their spinal cords are ground up in the formalin for vaccine.

Monkeys Become Paralyzed

There is no scurrying and playful gibbering in the cages of the tiny monkey house.

Occasionally there is a whimpering and excited scolding as a monkey discovers his legs have become useless. Keepers know then that the injection has taken effect—generally five to seven days. After that it is any day until the monkey becomes completely paralyzed.

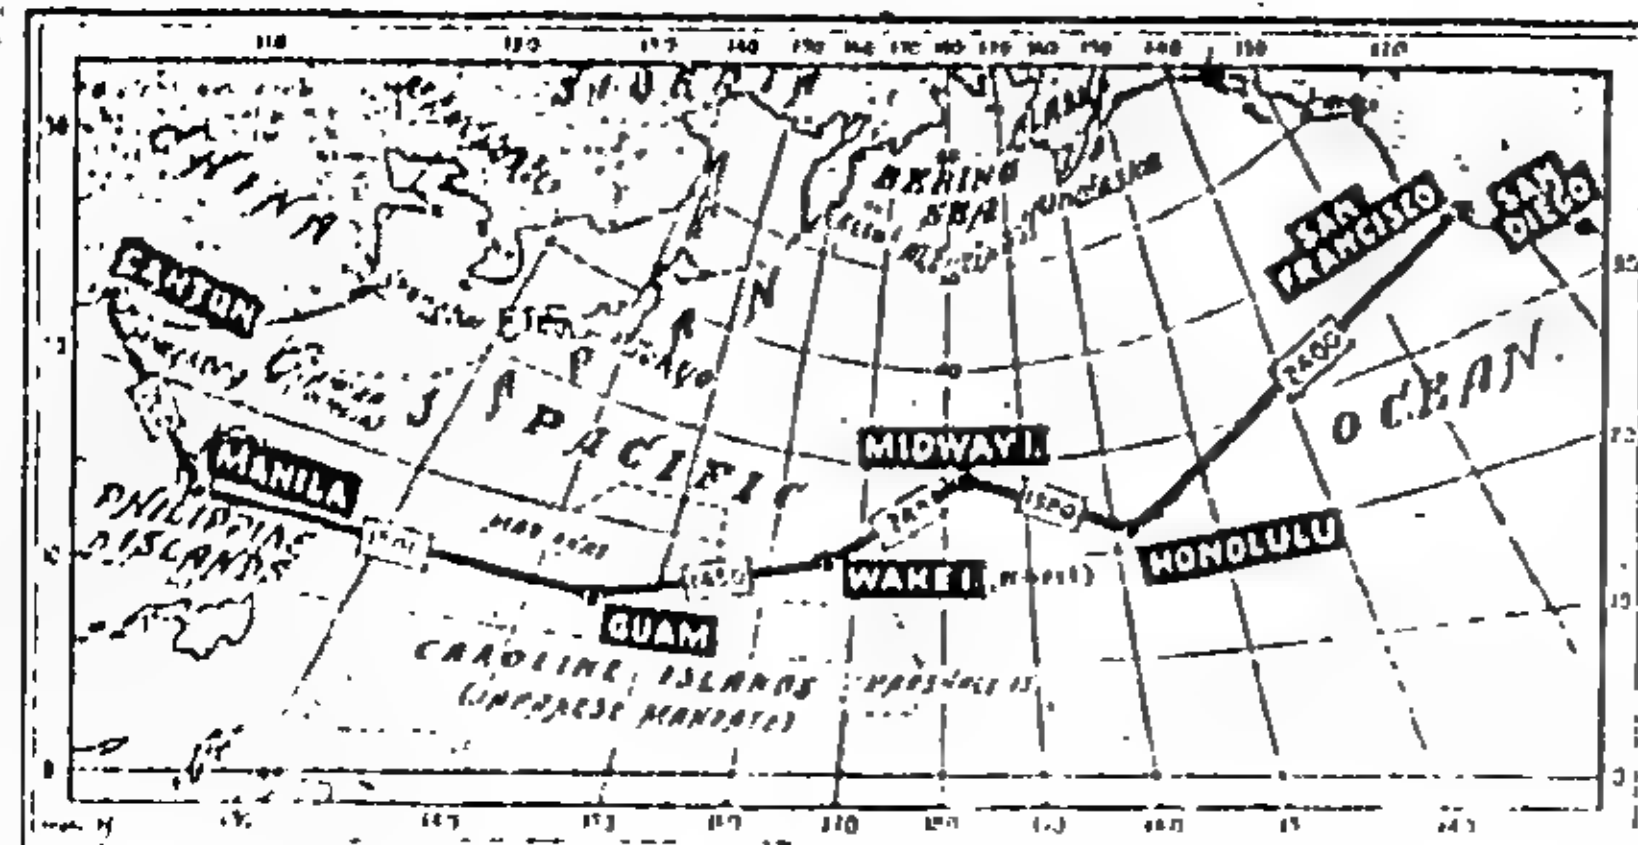

The monkey drags around with his arms until they too become afflicted. He writhes and whimpers piteously until he is able only to move his eyelids. Attendants then take the animal, pile it with similarly paralyzed brothers and rush them to the operating room.

Chloroform, a merciful knife into the heart and the monkey is dead. Quick hands of surgeons cut through the body and if the monkey had no contributory disease the spinal cord is removed.

Leaving behind a splendid record of 30 years' service in different parts of the China seas, during which she was several times commissioned as flagship of the Japanese squadron, the cruiser Tachibana sailed from Shanghai for Japan recently. Photo shows the warship leaving the wharf with a section of the crowd cheering and waving flags.

A Pacific Route that will soon become a reality.

Pacific Islands Become International Prizes

Honolulu, Aug. 11.

PROGRESS put a premium to-day on desolate dots of land which sprinkle the mid-Pacific where 20th century pioneers are engaged in a strange and exciting venture—conquering the ocean with commercial airlines.

Nearly a score of barren, uninhabited islands stringing out from Honolulu to the South Seas and westward to the Orient, known for years to navigation only as landmarks to be avoided, have found a future in aviation and a value which may set nations to bidding for their sovereignty.

A dozen Hawaiian schoolboys, in groups of four, are camping on Howland, Baker and Jarvis Islands, a little more than half way from Honolulu to Pago Pago. They will remain there all summer taking hourly weather observations and making surveys of surface conditions.

Their lonely vigil foreshadows an airline which some day will link the United States with Australia and transform intermediate islands into bustling plane bases.

Samoa Route Favoured
William T. Miller, federal air commerce bureau official, who recently returned to Honolulu aboard the coast guard cutter Itasca after two cruises toward Samoa, said that route offered better flying conditions than the distance between Honolulu and Midway.

When the Itasca picks up the 12 young Robinson Crusoes next month they will have detailed charts of conditions valuable for flying data, since six of them have been there since February observing all weather changes.

With Pan American Airways already poised for its projected commercial airmail and passenger service between America and the Orient, the pulse of trans-Pacific aviation has been quickened.

A line between California and the Antipodes via Honolulu and Pago Pago no longer is remote, but the next cord to be flung out in the web of ocean flying.

Status in Doubt
The international status of these three and other islands which may be utilized as way stations by roaring skyliners is hazy.

Howland and Baker Islands, 35 miles apart and about 1,750 miles south of Honolulu, have been occupied intermittently by Americans and British. The allegiance of Jarvis, east of these two and approximately 1,345 miles south of Honolulu, is perhaps even more obscure. The question of their sovereignty has never been forced. Harren, sand-swept and without fresh water or vegetation, they long have been considered useless dots in the vast Pacific until now they appear as convenient aerial stepping stones.

Shorter Skirts This Autumn

WOMEN ARE GOING ALL LATIN

Women this autumn and winter are going to wear:

Full-sleeved day frocks with draw-string necks.

Flowing evening dresses on classical lines.

Gored skirts about an inch shorter than at present.

Vividly flecked tweeds with frocks to match the flecks.

Stockinette that does not lose its shape.

High-necked coats with huge fur collars.

Large embroidered berets.

These are some of the precious secrets of the designing rooms.

The first of the advance shows of the autumn will be held this week.

Isobel, one of the leading English designers, said last week, "Tweed will be quite different from what we usually associate with the word. They will be brightly flecked, and the under-dresses will take up the colour of the fleck."

"Stockinette—an old-fashioned material greatly improved—is coming back to fashion. It no longer pulls or loses its shape."

High Necks

"Everything will have tremendously full sleeves and shoulders of the Magyar peasant type, and necklines are draw-string design."

"Coats have very high necks with huge fur collars."

"A great deal of fur is going to be worn, by itself and for extravagant trimmings."

"Skirts are about an inch shorter than last winter—10½ ins. to 11 ins. from the ground—and a little fuller by means of gores. The tubular idea is dead."

"Greek lines influence all evening dresses."

Berets, after a season of banishment, are back, but they are berets plus. They are large, elaborately made and embroidered, and they will cover the face rather than the head.

An English designer who shows his collections in Paris has taken the Italian aspect of the classical.

"Women are tired of streamlines. They want easiness," he said. "The Italian art lines give it."

Roth, whose views apparently are typical of other major shippers regarding impending commercial air service, said Matson welcomed Pan-American Airways to the Pacific because the venture was bound to increase the general volume of business.

Argument Based On History
John E. Ryan, Matson's general passenger traffic manager, endorsed Roth's opinion.

"Water-borne transportation has persevered against all other forms of commerce down through history," Ryan said, indicating he considered air competition no exception to the rule.

"There is a romance and glamour to sea travel that will never wear off," Roth said.

"People buy a steamer ticket as much for the voyage as for the sight-seeing at their destination. We will always get this type of passenger."

Trans-Pacific air mail contracts undoubtedly will cut into Matson's mail poundage somewhat, but both Roth and Ryan refused to believe that competition would be felt appreciably.

Stowaway To Hongkong Home Again

Sydney, Aug. 16.

JACK THOMAS, who nine years ago left school at the New South Wales coal-mining city of Newcastle and stowed away on a tramp steamer bound for Hongkong, has returned home again.

Successively he was a wanderer in the Far East, a penut-grower in Darwin, and a gold miner in New Guinea.

When tramping to the Edie Creek gold fields he was operated on for appendicitis by a half-caste doctor, who used a local anaesthetic.

Resuming his journey he arrived at the village and was shot in the leg by a hermit, who afterwards explained he had thought Thomas was after his gold. The adventurer's mate used a red hot razor to remove the bullet.

On the goldfields there was no bonanza for Thomas and an airman gave him a lift back to Rabaul. From there he worked his passage to Darwin and went overland through treacherous native country to Western Australia. As work was scarce there Thomas set out once again for Darwin, this time on a bicycle, but his machine was smashed 200 miles from his journey's end, and he finished the trip on foot. Later he did missionary work at the Roper River.

"I started off with nothing and have nothing now, but the experience was worth it," said Thomas.

WHEN SCOTS FALL OUT OVER TIES

FEUD BETWEEN THE HIGHLAND MACS

London, Aug. 1.

The Mackintoshes and Macraes are involved in a lively feud over whether a black or a white tie should be worn with the kilt for evening dress.

The Inverness Kilt Society issued a booklet throughout the world, standardising highland dress.

The Mackintosh of Mackintosh, at the annual meeting, strongly objected to the book's statement that either a black or a white tie worn, declaring that black was correct.

The Duke of Atholl and Major Colin Macrae asserted that white was correct.

The Mackintosh of Mackintosh replied that if any one appeared before the King wearing a dress white tie with a kilt his soup would be spoiled.

"Unless the error is repudiated I will retire from the Kilt Society," he added.

There will be a special meeting to discuss the subject.

This donkey was the main attraction to the spectators and the cinema-photographers in Paris recently.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

Advertisers embarking on new campaigns can minimise wasteful expenditure while gaining experience for future operations.

During the present year, several local firms have effected considerable economy by cutting out all stunt and subsidiary advertising and concentrating on newspaper publicity, and they have been agreeably surprised at the results.

A coloured circular, hand-bill or poster may have a momentary appeal, but it soon becomes stale. Free Gift Schemes have also fallen by the wayside. Merchants are realising that there is no substitute for the steady all-the-year-round appeal of newspaper advertising. It reaches the homes of the community and is constantly circulating in districts reached by virtue of the fact that it accompanies the eagerly sought after news of the day.

The greater the sales—the greater the value to the advertiser, and it is because of this that the keen advertiser wants to know definite figures as to PAID CIRCULA-TION.

The circulations of the South China
Morning Post and The Hongkong
Telegraph are certified by Chartered Accountants.

Advertisers who concentrate on these two newspapers make a sound investment.

BRITAIN TO LIFT ARMS EXPORT EMBARGO?

power conference here adjourned this evening.

It is understood that the Anglo-French proposals were conditional upon three things: firstly, the maintenance of Abyssinia's political independence and territorial integrity; second, the agreement of the Abyssinian Government to the compromise; thirdly, approval of the League of Nations.

A communiqué issued late today states that difficulties have been reached in the course of discussions which necessitate adjournment of the survey in hand which, in the ordinary course of events, would be followed by diplomatic negotiations.

The attitude of the Italian Government to the Anglo-French suggestions has not caused much surprise in conference circles which have been impressed from the beginning with the firmness of the Italian delegation's stand.

The chief difficulty has been the Italian claim to political suzerainty in Ethiopia.

It is understood that the British delegation, headed by the Minister for League of Nations Affairs, Mr.
Anthony Eden, has maintained a vigorous opposition to any such concession, while the French delegates, chief of whom is M.
Pierre Laval, the Prime Minister, has been seeking for a formula which will satisfy both sides.

IL DUCE INSISTENT

The suggestion that Italy should appoint advisers to the Ethiopian Government was made in the hope that Mussolini might thus be enabled to enjoy a special political influence in Abyssinia which would still be compatible with Ethiopia's sovereignty and the stipulations of the League Covenant. It is understood, however, that the Italian dictator has demanded more general political power in Abyssinia; and that he is insistent.
While M. Laval still asserts that he has not yet given up hope of averting a clash at the League of Nations meeting on September 4, it is understood that Mr. Eden sees no chance of avoiding it.

ITALY STANDS "PAT"

Italy is standing "pat" on her demand for a protectorate in Abyssinia. The only possibility of finding even a germ of settlement before the fateful League meeting is that Italy may reduce her claims. But the general attitude of the Italian delegation gives no grounds for such hope.

Mr. Eden will see M. Laval tomorrow to discuss the sequel of the Italian refusal of the offered compromise. Hitherto they have had no exhaustive discussion of the line they intend to take at the League meeting.

FORLORN HOPE

It must be admitted that neither the British nor the French really expected the three power conference to succeed. Failure, nevertheless, is a bitter blow to
M. Laval, who has found the Italians too uncompromising even for his remarkable talents in conciliation. The conference to most was a forlorn hope; but upon it
M. Laval pinned his faith.

The position of France in this matter, which is speedily coming to a critical state, is particularly delicate. Although she is at one with Great Britain in defending the League of Nations, she is very loath to endanger the newly-found friendship with Italy which is so valuable to her in Europe.

It is expected that Baron
Aristi will go to Rome to-morrow to discuss the situation with Signor Mussolini.—Reuter.

NO SURPRISE

Rome, Aug. 18.
There is neither surprise nor regret here at the failure of the Paris conference.

It is stated here that the last thing that Italy desires is a compromise. The Government is determined on a campaign and a resounding victory which will give to Italy both economic and political control of Abyssinia, backed by a powerful Army of Occupation.

The League meeting of September, it is expected here, will have no better result than the Paris conference, and may have a much more serious outcome.

The fact that Italy realises that Britain is intent upon trying to prevent war makes Italy's resignation from the League more likely than it was a month ago.

The invasion of Abyssinia in October is regarded as almost a foregone conclusion whatever the League or Britain may do.—Reuter.

ONLY HOPE

Geneva, Aug. 18.
The breakdown of the Paris conversations have not caused surprise. Their usefulness was discounted from the beginning.

It is now clear that the only hope of avoiding war is through League action, which will possibly result from the debate in the Council next month.

League officials are convinced that something more than talk will be necessary to bring about a definite result, but none knows whether anything more than talk will be forthcoming.—Reuter.

Shamshupo, and it was here that the offence, which formed the subject of the charge, took place.

On May 18, three days after he was fined, Ma Sing met the accused outside the District Sanitary Office at 125 Tai Po Road, where accused indicated that he would like to speak to him about the removal of the pigs, as ordered by the Magistrate. Ma Sing, however, could not understand Cantonese, being a native of Chiu Chow, and it was then arranged that they should meet later in the day at the Ling Yuen Restaurant at Lai-chikok Road. Ma Sing then went to fetch a countryman of his, Siu Shek-shiu who could speak Cantonese, and together they proceeded to the restaurant, where they met the accused.

WARNED BY ACCUSED

There, the accused told Ma Sing that he was aware that he had not removed the animals. He warned him that a Sanitary Inspector would be making a visit to his place on the following Monday, and suggested that if he would remove the animals until after the visit of the inspector, everything would be all right. He indicated that he would require $50 for his services. No money actually changed hands on that day. The inspection duly took place on the following Monday, when everything was found to be in order. A day or two later, the accused came to Ma Sing's shop in Nam Cheung Street and asked him to go to the restaurant on the following Saturday.

Ma Sing called on his friend, Siu Shek-shiu, on the day in question and accordingly went to the restaurant, where they found the accused. That was on May 25. Ma Sing passed the money to his friend, Siu, who handed it to the accused. It was made up of four $10 notes and two $5 notes.

COMPLAINT LODGED

Two or three days later, Ma Sing received certain information that his place would again be visited by a Sanitary Inspector. Under the impression that he had paid for protection that was not forthcoming, he made a report to Mr. A. K. Taylor, Chief Inspector of the Sanitary Department, as the result of which the accused was arrested.

Mr. Lockhart-Smith, concluded by reminding the jury that there had been certain discrepancies in regard to the question of time and date in the evidence of the two witnesses for the Crown, Ma Sing and Siu Shek-shiu, but pointed out that both of them were of low intelligence and therefore could not be expected to be accurate.

THE EVIDENCE

Formal evidence was then given by Mr. W. M. Thomson, first clerk at Kowloon Magistracy, who produced the record of the case in which Ma Sing was fined $25 for keeping swine without a licence and of an order made that the animals be removed within three days.

In reply to Mr. Macnamara, witness said that there were 301 pigs and that Ma Sing had been a pig dealer for ten years.

Mr. A. K. Taylor, Chief Inspector of the Sanitary Department, deposed to having received a complaint from Ma Sing and to having taken a statement from him.

Ma Sing, the principal witness for the Crown, then gave evidence. He said that at the beginning of May he was fined at Kowloon Magistracy for keeping swine without a licence. Three days afterwards, he met defendant and together they went to the Ling Yuen Restaurant. On the way, witness called on his friend, Siu Shek-shiu, and asked him to go along to act as interpreter. At the restaurant, accused told him to remove pigs as a Sanitary Inspector was going to pay him a visit. As suggested, the pigs were removed to the Yau-mat Railway Station and brought back only after the Inspector's visit. Witness saw accused several days later outside his shop and was told to visit the same restaurant on the following Saturday with $50. He kept the appointment, in the company of Siu Shek-shiu, who handed the money over to the accused.

Later witness received certain information as the result of which he made a complaint to a European sanitary inspector.

RATHER LUCKY

Cross-examined by Mr. Macnamara, witness said at the time when he was fined that he had about 300 pigs. He had been a pig-dealer for ten years and that was the only occasion he had been fined.

Mr. Macnamara: Considering the magnitude of your business and the length of time, you have been rather lucky?

Witness (smilingly): Yes. Why did you pay $50 to the accused?—Because he demanded it. I understood that if the money was not forthcoming, I would be fined again.

In reply to another question, witness denied that the money was for the warning given by accused of the visit by a Sanitary Inspector, but for the protection from further trouble.

The case is proceeding.

BORDER PROVINCES

TO HAVE GRANT IN AID SCHOOLS

Nanking, August 18.
To push the development of public education in frontier provinces, the Ministry of Education has set aside $500,000 as a subsidy fund for opening primary schools and normal schools.

Among the provinces, which will receive financial aid are Shensi, Kansu, Yunnan, Kwel-chow, Chinghai, Chahar, Shu-yuan, and Sikong.

How the money will be distributed among these eight provinces, will be decided at the next meeting of the Executive Yuan.—Central News Agency.

TRADE IN THE STERLING BLOC

Suggestions that China may possibly be induced to join the sterling bloc give additional interest to statistics recently issued regarding Britain's trade with nations on the same currency basis as herself. Since Britain suspended the gold standard in 1931, her action has been followed by a number of other countries for whom the importance of their trading and other connections with the United Kingdom made it imperative that their currencies should be kept more or less in equilibrium with sterling. At the present time, in fact, the nations in the sterling area include over one-third of the estimated population of the world and are responsible for approximately the same proportion of the total value of international trade. How widespread is the sterling bloc may be gathered from the fact that it comprises the United Kingdom, Argentina, Australia, Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Denmark, Egypt, Estonia, Finland, India, the Irish Free State, Japan, Norway, New Zealand, Paraguay, Portugal, Siam, Sweden, the Union of South Africa, and the British Crown Colonies. Figures now issued show that, taking the period between 1931 and 1934, during which Britain's total imports have fallen considerably, arrivals from the Empire have shown a marked expansion, while only a moderate fall has occurred in trade with the other members of the sterling area. Moreover, whereas between 1932 and 1934, there has been an increase in the figures from the latter countries, imports into the United Kingdom from the territories outside the sterling area show a slight decline. It is pointed out that in certain cases the ability of foreign nations both inside and outside the sterling area to maintain their sales in Britain during recent years has been due to the conclusion of trading agreements affording reciprocal advantages to British exporters, but such agreements have not been made with all the sterling countries, and the course of British trade with the two groups suggests that exchange stability has been an important influence in securing the recent expansion of business both with the British Empire and with

NOTES OF THE DAY

DREADFUL CRIMES

The death of Gareth Jones, one of these restless spirits who must see for themselves the conditions which give rise to crises, is just one more of the horrors we have come to dread in "news from North China." Mr. Jones, when he recently passed through Hongkong, informed acquaintances that his purpose in visiting the North-west frontier of the Republic was to study at first hand the economic and political state of affairs so that he would be in a position to weigh the importance of future events and write, or simply think, with authority and conviction upon their significance. He was a harmless English student of affairs, a traveller exploring a little-known (to the Occident) people and politics of Asia. But because they have profited by such ventures before, and generally have robbed and murdered with impunity, he fell a victim to one of these bands of brigands which have infested for far too long the less firmly administered parts of China and territories adjacent. His bullet-riddled body was found near the place of his capture. The usual protest has been lodged. His friends will probably agitate for remedial action for a time, and then, as the realisation of the futility of argument grows upon them, they will possibly bow to what appears to be inevitable and drop the matter. But this additional pin-prick—it is hard to use so feeble a metaphor in such a tragic case—may have the effect of stiffening the attitude of British people generally towards the condition of affairs in certain parts of the North-west of Asia. A few more such outrages, and we may see determined action, perhaps on the part of the League of Nations, to put an end to such ghastly and shocking crimes. To meet such a condition of crime requires drastic measures. We have suggested before, and we suggest again, that it is high time they were taken. If the Chinese authorities feel themselves incapable of dealing with the situation, and admittedly their administrative machinery is clogged and encumbered in the North, let them declare it. Then we shall perhaps be given an opportunity to assist them in maintaining the peace of their borders and removing at least one excuse for the violation of frontiers by probably quite justly infuriated neighbours. In such matters as the suppression of banditry, and piracy, there should be an opportunity for international intervention. For such things are an international menace. They are not the concern of one nation alone, unless that nation forbids bandit-infested territory to foreigners, and unless that nation takes steps to destroy a plague of crime whose toll is by no means abating.

DRASTIC MEASURES

And what, somebody is going to ask, would the bright young newspaper columnist suggest to remedy this state of affairs? Newspapers, generally speaking, may be fond of fault finding, may criticise freely without offering anything constructive in the place of that which they feel forced to condemn. But a newspaper commentator can scarcely offer remedies for every fault in government, finance, society, or what have you, that he sees. He cannot be expected to give expert opinion in affairs of which experts (presumably) have despaired. Nevertheless, on this occasion we are tempted to make a suggestion. Generally speaking the outrages for which we are particularly concerned, those in which Europeans are involved, occur in the areas where police protection might be expected to exist. The highways and railways of a country, one might expect, should be reasonably safe. We know, however, that even in countries which have a fair claim to good government, the highways are frequently unsafe, that banditry, robbery and even murder are far from rare. In the United States we have recently seen a wave of crime which almost staggered belief. And we have seen the methods—some call them ruthless (Continued on Page 9.)

those nations whose currencies are linked with sterling. The ability of the nations in the sterling area to maintain, and, in some cases, to expand their exports to the United Kingdom during a difficult period for world trade generally, has in turn stimulated domestic business, and the revival which has taken place has been reflected in an expansion in productions in many directions, while the resulting increase in imports has had favourable reactions on the demand for British products. One point which is suggested by these circumstances is that if China were to join the sterling bloc, and her trade relationships with Britain were placed on a revised basis, the result might well be to the mutual benefit of both countries.

POPULARISING THE
B. B. C.

By GEOFFREY EDWARDS

SIR Stephen Tallents, the 50-year-old Civil Servant, Live-Wire, Enemy of Red-Tape, who in two years has brought the Post Office nearer to the public than it has ever been before, is doubtless doing a great deal of hard thinking. He has just two months in which to decide how best he can do for broadcasting what he has already done for the postal services.

On October 1 he becomes Public Relations Officer at Broadcasting House, and the great campaign "to popularise" the B.B.C. must begin.

How is he going to set about his task? Obviously, Portland Place is a very different proposition from St. Martin's-le-Grand. Stunts such as finding a broadcaster with a golden voice or discovering the perfect listener will not work. The listening public has no use for stunts; in fact, on the only two occasions that the B.B.C. has tried them—the 24-hour clock and women announcers—there was a nation-wide cry of disapproval.

He might, of course, set out to win the good will of listeners by the formation of a Listeners' Committee to advise the B.B.C. and criticise its programmes. Or he might appoint a permanent programme critic—a sort of Public Listener No. 1 who could speak at Broadcasting House on behalf of the man in the street (by whom I mean, since I am dealing, with broadcasting, the man in the arm-chair).

Unfortunately for Sir Stephen the B.B.C. is not judged by any obvious gestures which it may make for popularity. We listeners hold our opinions of the B.B.C. by three standards:

1. Mostly by what we hear from it.

2. Partly by what we hear about it.

3. Comparatively by what we hear from foreign stations.

So it looks as though Sir Stephen Tallents will have to do his popularising first and foremost through the wireless programmes, and the fact that his status at Broadcasting House is tantamount to that of an assistant Director-General suggests that Sir John Reith realised this when he made the appointment.

There must be no pandering to the masses by lowering the actual artistic and cultural standards of the programmes, for the B.B.C. has an educative mission and a conscience. Long ago Sir John Reith seems to have decided that the listener is like a greedy schoolboy, who loves chocolate and eclairs and if there are sufficient available will go on eating them until he is sick.

So, like a strict, unimaginative schoolmaster, Sir John decided to feed the greedy boy on plain, straightforward cold roast beef or bread and butter.

That was his mistake; he should have been more cunning, more of the psychologist, and persuaded the greedy boy to eat what was good for him by dishing up the roast beef hot, with Yorkshire and horse-radish sauce, and by giving him bread and butter with jam on it.

There are signs that Sir John Reith has begun to edge away from this "take it or leave it" policy which so antagonised listeners. Sir Stephen Tallents will, in fact, find his chief quite amenable to feeding listeners with the present programmes dished up in any new or more appetising form. In other words, he has merely to introduce more showmanlike methods of programme presentation. So much for popularising the B.B.C. through its programmes.

The second method—through what the public hears about the B.B.C.—will appeal more intimately to the new Public Relations Officer. He is a master of the art of publicity, so will find no difficulty in keeping the right sort of information before the eyes of listeners.

Even here, however, he will have to look closely into the causes of those attacks and adverse comments on the B.B.C.'s organisation. If he looks close enough he will see that most of these are directed at, or because of, the person of Sir John Reith, who has an unfortunate knack of antagonising people who would be his friends. Hence Sir Stephen and Sir John will have to indulge in a few heart-to-heart talks before the Director-General is personally publicised.

Reith will have to put up with it if the B.B.C. is to be "popular," and he is to remain at its head. There must be an end to all these silly anecdotes of militarism, heel-clicking, Prussianism and so forth at Broadcasting House. Sir John should be shown up for what he really is—a kindly, considerate, very human chief, with an element of real greatness.

One other point; many years as a Civil Servant have given Sir Stephen the right outlook on his life's work—the idea of service to the public. The B.B.C. as a whole has this same outlook, but it does not talk enough about it. The enormous publicity medium of its microphone could put this right. Extending the principle of service for the listener Sir Stephen, who is also to be in charge of B.B.C. publications, may agree with me that the programme paper, "Radio Times," should be distributed free to all listeners.

If a man pays 10s. a year for his wireless entertainment he should not be expected to pay another 5s. to buy a programme each week.

Now listen for a few minutes to these foreign stations. How the B.B.C. does hate "em! They are bursting in on our racket."

Well, what is it, about these foreign programmes, that the public likes? It certainly isn't their quality. Chiefly, it is the brightness, spontaneity and general ease of presentation. Their break-fast-time music is popular, too, but above all, their provision of bright Sunday programmes as opposed to the Cromwellian Sunday solemnity of the B.B.C. has a tremendous appeal.

Surely Sir Stephen can see to it that Broadcasting House competes with the Continent in these respects? It should be quite simple to correct the differences.

To sum up, then, it seems that Sir Stephen has a great deal to do if he is really to popularise the B.B.C. The methods to be adopted appear straightforward, but, apart from the inertia at Broadcasting House, the fickleness of the public has to be reckoned with. Sir Stephen will indeed need all his talent!

The Very Idea!

TOURIST BAITING

Enticing The Travellers
To Come To H.K.

By Eddie "Cooks" Kelly

SOMEONE was complaining the other day that no ship-owners' names are mentioned in connection with the Hongkong Travel Association.

What is more perturbing is the fact that even our name hasn't been mentioned. With a $25,000 grant from the Government we could do a lot of travelling. For our health.

Still, although we haven't been asked to join the Committee, we can give some good advice.

Probably there is no one in Hongkong who has travelled more than we have. One night we travelled to and fro across the harbour on the Star Ferry no less than eleven times. One of the deckhands woke us up on the eleventh trip. Said it was the last ferry.

The main thing, of course, is to attract the tourists. This can be done in several ways. Cheap fares, for instance.

In order to obtain cheap fares, it will be necessary to subsidise the shipping companies. On a fifty-fifty basis, the Hongkong Government could contribute one dollar for every dollar boat.

As an inducement to tourists to travel by subsidised vessels, it would be necessary to use a little propaganda.

For a start, we should build more hotels. Let "A Pub For Every Tourist" be Hongkong's motto.

The "Magic Carpet" travel film is a good idea. In this connection some weird effects could be obtained by using slow and ultra-slow motion movie cameras. The slow-motion camera could be used in order to allow tourists to see with some detail the Younger Set at a Peak wild party. On the other hand, it would be necessary to use an ultra-fast camera to obtain the same effect when the shorts of "Government Servants at Work" were taken.

Tourists from the United States can be made at home by receiving them on the wharf with a salvo of machine-gun bullets.

Hongkong could also be made the leading tourist centre for Europe by judiciously introducing the national pastimes of the countries from which it is desired to attract travellers.

Special wild game preserves could be set aside for hunters from each country.

One section of the New Territories, for instance, stocked with income tax collectors, referees, foxes, and politicians would speedily attract the English tourist, while the announcement that Orangemen were running wild in the hills near Fanling would quadruple the tourist trade from the Irish Free State.

Germans would rush to Hongkong for their vacations when it was announced that the big game reserves were chockablock with Jews, Catholics and Freemasons, and Italians would forget all about war plans in their eagerness to reach the Colony before the Abyssinian hunting season closed in the hills near Tai-po.

The local tourist trade would have to be "entered" for, too. Quite a large number of Shanghai and Singapore folk who ordinarily spend their holidays in Japan would visit Hongkong if it were announced that the Government was paying $1 a head for the scalps of shroffs.

Once the tourist arrived the rest would be easy. Special tours could be arranged to the Colony's beauty spots, including Wanchai Market, Paddy's Market and Ice House Street. After visiting Ice House Street, there would be no need to bother about the tourist any more, as he would have no money left.

We have several other equally good ideas about the tourist trade, but if the Hongkong Travel Association think we're going to give 'em this information without paying us a thumping big slice of that $25,000 from the Government, they've got another think coming.

Besides, we've got to save up enough money for our trip to Japan next month.

"Some day, I guess, they'll invent a machine that can do my work."

BOMBAY SILVER REVIEW

STOCKS MUST FIND AN OUTLET

WASHINGTON VIEWS

Bombay, Aug. 18. Messrs. Merwanjee and Sons, in their silver review for the week ending Friday, write:—

With the successive reductions in the American Treasury's buying rate, the London market had to face a wave of nervous liquidation. Towards the close of the week there has been a fair recovery, stimulated by the belief that, with the recent diminution of the Indian bull position, the London market may show some steadiness. Locally, however, the scope of further improvement appears to be very limited as the heavy stocks must first find an outlet.

The up-country demand has averaged about 10 bars of silver a day.

A surplus of about 40,000 bars is now expected after August 19 settlement.

There is no silver float from London to Bombay at this week-end.

The incoming mail steamer is not bringing any silver from London to Bombay.—Reuter.

U. S. OUTLOOK

Washington, Aug. 17. It is thought that the Utilities Bill may be held over until next Congress.

The Silver Amendment on the Tax Bill will be eliminated in conference.

The Government's policy in buying silver abroad is prompted partly by the desire to import silver rather than other commodities, thereby aiding the exchange situation and favouring exports. Most Washington advisers indicate a 12 cent Government Cotton Loan but the figure is questionable.

Official opinion is strong that the European gold bloc countries will be forced to devalue.

Steady progress in general business is expected during the next three months. Commodity price trend will be upward for the next few months.

FUTURE OF THE PHILIPPINES

BRITAIN'S POLICY IMPORTANT

Considerable doubt as to the exact future of the Philippine Islands was expressed by the Hon. Pedro Guevara, Philippine Resident Commissioner in the United States, when he arrived here this morning on the President Lincoln from America.

"The questions of trade relations and defence are very important ones and very difficult, and as yet it is really too early to forecast their possible solution; luckily there are ten years in which we may decide them," said the Commissioner who has represented the Philippines in seven Congresses. "I feel sure that America wants to help us in every way possible and to all in her power to make our independence secure. On the other hand, I feel that the Philippines are intensely loyal to America."

BRITAIN'S POLICY

"Though we would not hesitate to call on America for aid in the event of trouble after our independence has become complete, the United States may not be in a position to respond. The part Great Britain plays in the Far East is of great importance to us and will affect America's policy considerably, I believe," said Mr. Guevara.

"At present we depend on America for 85 per cent. of our trade and it appears that America will be forced to put a tariff on those goods which previously were allowed to enter free, but there again we have ten years to discuss it. If the trade of the Philippines is handicapped by a tariff in America, that will be one of the prices we pay for our independence, and we will have to meet it."

Mr. Guevara was ill on board the President Lincoln, suffering from heart trouble which was brought on by a sudden change of climate. He hopes to return to America in December, however, should he be re-elected. At present the Commissioner is in bed on the liner and will probably not be able to rise until the ship arrives at Manila.

Six Killed In Liners' Collision

LAURENTIC RAMMED NEAR BOWS

CARRYING 600 PASSENGERS

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages, Ordinance, 1931. Received, August 19, 1935, 10.15 a.m.)

London, Aug. 18. Eleven casualties, including six killed, were caused when two big British liners came into collision in the Irish Channel in the early hours of this morning.

The collision occurred about sixty miles from Liverpool, when the Canadian White Star liner Laurentic was rammed by the Blue Star liner Napier Star. Six of the Laurentic's crew were killed, and five injured.

The victims were asleep in their bunks when the bow of the Napier Star crashed into the Laurentic near the latter's bows. Both vessels were damaged and are being towed to Liverpool.

At the time of the disaster, the Laurentic was carrying six hundred passengers on a cruise from Belfast, none of whom, however, were injured.—Reuter Special.

SIR JOHN ROSS PASSES

(Special to "Telegraph")

London, Aug. 18. The death has occurred of the Right Hon. Sir John Ross, who was Lord Chancellor of Ireland in 1921-22, at the age of 80 years. Sir John, who was an Irish Privy Councillor, was Conservative M.P. for Londonderry City from 1892 to 1895, and Judge of the High Court of Justice in Ireland, Chancery Division, from 1896 to 1921. He was Commissioner of Charitable Endowments and Bequests in 1898, Chairman and Governor of the Royal Drummond Institution in 1899, Commissioner of National Education in 1906, and was a Knight of Grace of the Grand Priory of St. John of Jerusalem. He was created a Baronet in 1919, and is succeeded in the title by his only son, Mr. Ronald Deane Ross, M.C., M.P. for Londonderry.—Reuter Special.

ZULUS MAY MARCH TO AID NEGUS

AMAKOLWA CHIEF VOLUNTEERS

CONFLICT OF TRIBES

(Special to "Telegraph")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages, Ordinance, 1931. Received, August 19, 1935, 10.15 a.m.)

Lady Smith, Aug. 18. Chief Walter Kumbalo, of the fierce Amakolwa tribe, who served in France during the Great War with native levies, has offered to take a native contingent to Abyssinia to assist the Negus in the event of war with Italy.

Chief Kumbalo, himself a distinguished soldier, said he could raise a picked regiment of Zulus who would pick anything.

He was uncertain, however, how to make the offer. He thinks he will put it in writing to the Negus.

Meanwhile, what is apparently an Abyssinian civil fight is made the subject of a semi-official statement from Rome. This circulates a telegram from Djibouti saying that one tribe has attacked another near Adigelle, in French Somaliland, and that about 100 persons have been killed as a result, including twenty French subjects.

The Governor of French Somaliland has left to open an inquiry.

Agadelle, however, according to maps, is fifty miles inside Abyssinian territory. Furthermore, Paris, knows nothing of this report.—Reuter Special.

UNFOUNDED REPORT

Djibouti, Aug. 18. The reports of Abyssinian tribal warfare are unfounded, according to the local authorities.

It is stated that the Acting-Governor of French Somaliland had not gone to investigate these reports, but was merely making his customary tour of inspection as military commandant.—Reuter Special.

EARL OF HAREWOOD BEREAVED

DEATH OF BROTHER REPORTED

London, Aug. 19. The death has occurred of Brevet Major the Hon. Edward Cecil, of the 6th Earl of Harewood, husband of the Princess Royal.

The deceased, who was the second son of the 5th Earl of Harewood, was born on July 28, 1887, and in 1915 was married to Joan Eleanor Campbell, second daughter of the late E. J. A. Halford and the late Lady Frances Halford.

He served throughout the European War, being mentioned in despatches and awarded the D.S.O. and M.C. decorations. He was Master of the Bramham Moor Foxhounds.—Reuter.

DAY BY DAY NEWS IN BRIEF

IF WE COULD READ THE SECRET MINDS OF OUR ENEMIES, WE WOULD FIND IN EACH MAN'S LIFE SORROW AND SUFFERING ENOUGH TO DISARM ALL HOSTILITY.—Longfellow.

Pleading guilty to a charge of having possessed 453 counterfeit Hongkong ten-cent pieces, Siu Kit-lam, 36, unemployed, was sentenced to two years' hard labour by Mr. Justice Lindell at the Criminal Sessions this morning. It was stated that the coins were very badly made.

In connection with the use of "Hong Kong" in the name of the newly-formed Travel Association, it is of interest to recall an official notification, issued in 1926, to the effect that, under instructions received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies, the forms "Hong Kong" and "Kowloon" were adopted as the official spelling of the names of these two places.

Yip Sing, 32, unemployed, appeared before Mr. Macfadyen this morning at the Central Police Court, charged with breaking and entering a shop on a roll of cloth, and "Kowloon" yesterday afternoon while the occupant was out, defendant went to his room and forced the door lock and took all the electric fittings including the electric switches, one electric fan and a fuse box. Defendant was sentenced to three weeks' hard labour. Inspector Smith prosecuted.

To Fu, a shop-keeper of No. 42 Queen's Road West, reports to the police that he was awakened last night by someone who stole from his shop a roll of cloth, and informed an Indian constable who searched some foks in the vicinity but did not find the cloth. Later, he saw a man sleeping on the side of the road with the cloth under his arm. This man, Chuan Yick, appeared before Mr. Macfadyen this morning, charged with the theft of the cloth, but owing to inadequate evidence he was discharged.

Reizo Kolke, the breast stroke expert, broke the Japanese record for the 100 metres.

The results of to-day's events follow:—

400 Metres.—1, Jack Medica; 2, Hiroshi Negami; 3, Shozo Makino. Time: 4 mins. 52.2/10 secs. (World's record)

100 Metres Breast Stroke.—1, Reizo Kolke; 2, Jack Kasey; 3, Tethuo Hamuro. Time: 1 min. 13.6/10 secs. (New Japanese record)

100 Metres Back Stroke.—1, Taylor Drysdale; 2, Branch; 3, Kentaro Kawatsu. Time: 1 min. 10.2/10 secs.

The relay race was won by the American team consisting of Chotowski, Art Lindegard, Wolfe and Peter Pick. The time was 3 mins. 53.8/10 secs.

On yesterday's and to-day's results the Japanese are leading by 22 points to 20. The meet will be decided to-morrow when the 800 metres free style, 100 metres free style, 200 metres back strokes and 800 metres relay will be held.

BOTANICAL CONGRESS

Canton, Aug. 19.

Mr. Chow Lu, Chancellor of the Sun Yat-sen University, has delegated Professor Woon-yung Chun, Director of the Botanical Institute, to represent the University at the sixth International Botanical Congress, which is scheduled to be held in Holland from September 2 to September 9.

Professor Chun left Hongkong on Saturday for Singapore where he will board a Dutch air liner, which is due to arrive at Amsterdam on August 29, in ample time for the opening of the session.

It will be recalled that Professor Chun also attended the last Congress, held at Cambridge, England, in 1930. He has been appointed a Vice-President in the Systematic Section of the present Congress.—Reuter.

Local estate amounting to $100 was left by Mr. Charles William Fildes, late of the Gloucester Building, who died on July 20, 1934. A petition by Mr. E.H. Lang, of the Supreme Court, the official administrator, for letters of administration with the will annexed to the estate was allowed.

Two men, Hui Lin and Lee Cheung, appeared before Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning and pleaded guilty to charges of keeping a gaming house at No. 71 Battery Street, first floor, and the possession of 181 Canton and 102 Macao lottery tickets. They were each fined $50, with the alternative of one month's hard labour, on each charge. Detective-Sergeant Downman prosecuted.

A seaman of the Water Police Station, Fung Yik, 25, was charged with (a) obtaining $50 from Li Yik, 21, unemployed, with intent to defraud between April 1 and June 21, by pretending to obtain employment for him in the service of the Hongkong Government, and (b) uttering a forged document purported to have been issued by the Harbour Office. On the application of Inspector Stinson, who prosecuted, defendant was remanded for 48 hours in police custody. Mr. M. A. da Silva appeared for the defendant.

Charges of uttering 14 counterfeit Chinese 20-cent pieces and possession of 12 counterfeit coins of similar denomination were preferred against Lo Fung-yu, aged 20, money changer's foki, No. 140 Connaught Road Central, ground floor, when he appeared before Mr. Macfadyen at the Central Magistracy this morning. Detective-Sergeant P. O. Guild appeared for the prosecution, while Mr. M. K. Lo was for the defence and pleaded not guilty. The hearing was fixed for Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. Bail of $1,500 was allowed.

N. Y. Yankees Blanked Out By Tigers

AS PITCHER & BATSMAN

New York, Aug. 18. "Schoolboy" Rowe, the Detroit Tigers' pitcher, brought off another of his pitching feats to-day when he blanked out the strong New York Yankees' team in the American Baseball League to give the Tigers a convincing victory.

Not only did he hold the Yankees to no score but he assisted the Tigers' battery by hitting a home run, the team winning by 6-0.

There were several double headers in the two major leagues to-day, although the top teams of the two leagues were only once engaged during the day. Both the Giants and Tigers were successful.

St. Louis Cardinals, second to the Giants in the National League, shared the honours with Boston Braves who won the first game by the narrowest of margins.

Owing to rain a double header schedule between the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox was postponed. The Chicago outfit was leading by one run to nothing in the first match when a deluge forced the game to be called off in the second inning.

RYDER CUP GOLFERS SET PACE

JARMAN LEADS IN FIRST ROUND

London, July 23. Five of the eight men chosen to go to America with the British Ryder Cup team in September, were engaged yesterday in the first round of the Irish Open Championship, on the course of the Royal County Down Club at Newcastle (Co. Down). One of them, E. W. Jarman (Preston) was the pacemaker with a splendid round of 71.

Form of certain competitors will play a big part in deciding upon the last two members of the British team.

The Irish event, since its inception in 1927, has been won by Ernest Whitcombe, Abe Mitchell, George Duncan, A. H. Padgham, E. W. H. Kenyon (twice), C. A. Whitcombe, and Syd Easterbrook, the holder. Only Mitchell, of that list, was absent yesterday, while a notable scratching was Len Holland.

Weather conditions were at first brilliant, with sunshine predominating, but by mid-day a gale came, accompanied by rain.

The record of 68 was made by Ernest Whitcombe when he won the championship in 1923. Jarman would have smashed those figures had he been able to hole short putts; he missed five during the round, but seemed quite comfortable with long ones. Turning in 37, when the weather had been favourable, Jarman had been frequently worried by the pace of the greens. Coming home, however, he played much better and finished the journey in 34.

His partner, J. Coppack, was level with Jarman for twelve holes, but then faltered repeatedly and dropped eleven strokes to the Ryder Cup player in six holes.

Percy Alliss was never at home on the putting greens, and a score of 80 was the result. He took three putts on nearly every one of the first six greens, and opened the round with a succession of fives. When he got down from three yards for a two at the 7th, recovery seemed likely, but Alliss finished the half round with a 6; and after a very mixed display coming home, ended with a 7, when he failed to get clear from a bunker at the 18th.

W. Nolan, Ireland's chief "horne," finished well for 73. He turned in 34 and had a three at the 10th, where his first putt lipped the hole. A bad lie in the rough at the 11th, three putts at the 12th, and three putts at the 17th, put him definitely behind Jarman, whom he was challenging for the lead. The last eight holes cost him 36 strokes—only one fewer than the first 10.

PADGHAM IN TROUBLE

A. H. Padgham, after expending 39 strokes on the first nine holes, promised to finish in 72. On the return journey, with two holes to play, he was level fours. Then a sliced tee shot started the trouble at the 17th. From the rough Padgham went into a pond and eventually holed out in 6. He also sliced to the 18th and, going from side to side of the course, was in trouble all the way to the green. He took fourteen strokes for the last two holes and got round in 78.

Allan Dailey's recent improvement was reflected in a score of 74, a return also made by Ernest Whitcombe.

Syd Easterbrook (75), J. J. Busson (76), and George Duncan (76) all played steadily, while the amateur lead in mid-afternoon was shared by Dr. J. D. McCormack and C. J. McMullan, who both finished in 77. Later, however, J. C. Brown, last year's Native champion finished in 75.

E. W. H. Kenyon made a bold bid for the lead. He finished, however, in 72, having run into a misg short putt at the sixth and take three in the seventh green.

Charles Whitcombe, the British Ryder Cup team captain required throughout, but made no serious slip.

Sid Brews had a score of 73, inward half of 35 equalling the best of the day.

The United States retained the Wightman Cup when Miss Helen Jacobs and the American team beat the British women tennis players by four matches to three at Forest Hills. The above picture shows Miss Helen Jacobs receiving the trophy from H. R. H. Princess Helena Victoria at Wimbledon last year, when the holders won by five matches to two.

A TIP TO BAER

Must Make Sure His Hands Are O. K.

LOUIS ISSUES A WARNING

Detroit, Aug. 8.

A friendly tip, also embodying a warning, to Max Baer to see that his hands are in shape if he meets Joe Louis this autumn, was given the former champion of the world by the sensational Negro.

Saying that he was glad to hear that Baer's hands were not seriously hurt and that they would get well, Louis said:

"But only Baer knows whether his hands are O.K. If Max isn't certain that they are, he should stay out of the ring. If we meet this autumn, and I'd like to fight Max by that time, he wants to be certain that they are in shape—because mine are."

"Max believes he's the best heavyweight in the business, and I believe I am. Well, he's entitled to his opinion and I to mine, and the only way to settle this argument is in the ring. I'm just as sure as I ever was that I'll beat him when we meet," he concluded.

The Michigan State Boxing Commission has sanctioned a proposed bout between Louis and the Cleveland "Bubba Man," Johnny Risko, sometime in September. However, in view of the fact that Louis and Schmeling have now been matched to fight in New York that month, it is unlikely that the bout with Risko will materialize.

Northampton Town F. C. report a loss on last season of £47, and the directors point out that but for the transfer in mid-season of George Henson, to Wolverhampton Wanderers, a much more serious position would have occurred.

was shared by Dr. J. D. McCormack and C. J. McMullan, who both finished in 77. Later, however, J. C. Brown, last year's Native champion finished in 75.

E. W. H. Kenyon made a bold bid for the lead. He finished, however, in 72, having run into a misg short putt at the sixth and take three in the seventh green.

Charles Whitcombe, the British Ryder Cup team captain required throughout, but made no serious slip.

Sid Brews had a score of 73, inward half of 35 equalling the best of the day.

A BRITISH RECORD GOES

N. WAINWRIGHT IN FORM

(By W. J. HOWCROFT)

Blackpool, July 16. Norman Wainwright put up the best performance in the four sessions of the A.S.A. Championships at Blackpool to-day, when he won the 220 yards championship in 2min. 18.3-sec., beating the British native record of 2min. 20.2-sec.

When the 110 yards' lap at Blackpool is taken into consideration, Wainwright's feat is the most impressive swim by any British performer. He is now definitely on the way to world's rating. This is a due reward.

Later in the afternoon, Wainwright scored a second victory when he annexed the 440 yards title from R. H. Leivers in 5min. 9.2-sec. Wainwright and Leivers were never more than a yard apart until the last ten yards, when Wainwright applied more power into his arm, pulled and drew away to beat Leivers by two yards.

The absence of the holder, W. Francis, robbed the 150 yards backstroke championship of all interest and left the event at the mercy of the ex-holder, J. C. P. Bedford. He went to the front at 60 yards, to reach the finishing pole in 1min. 46.4-sec., speedy work over a long lap course against comparatively weak opposition.

MRS. WADHAM'S VICTORY

My forecast of yesterday in favour of Mrs. Olive Wadham for the 100 yards championship duly materialised, although public opinion supported the chance of the holder, Edna Hughes, who had literally looted through her heat in 69sec. Yet in the race, Miss Hughes only returned 66sec., after fighting hard from pillar to post. In fact, if the holder had put less effort into her work she would have returned a faster time.

From the start, Mrs. Wadham led; she was challenged at 50 yards by Olive Bartle, but the latter could not sustain the effort and Mrs. Wadham went on to win by three yards from Miss Hughes with Olive Bartle third, in 67sec. It was announced that the fourth and fifth, C. Rodwell and S. Calderhead, had also returned 67sec., with B. Armstrong 67.1-sec., and M. Hamilton, 68sec. This is obviously incorrect, as Miss Rodwell was clearly the last to finish.

Mrs. Wadham's victory came as a big surprise and her time was an even greater surprise. It was a championship record made over a straightaway course, and is relatively better than Miss Joyce Cooper's British record of 62.2-sec., made in a 25-yards bath.

Lancashire scored their first and only success at the meeting when the Manchester girl, Beatrice Wolstenholme, took the 440 yards championship after a rare display of determination, in 5min. 0.3-sec., five yards in front of the Midlander, Gladys Morcom, with the Bournemouth girl, Joan Turner, third. Miss Wolstenholme turned in the first event at the first session, swam in one or more events at each session, and then registered a meritorious win at her final appearance—a great feat for a 15-year-old girl.

MARATHON RUN IN AMERICA AS TEST

PREPARING FOR OLYMPICS

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.

An Invitational Marathon race over the Olympic distance of 26 1/4 miles, in which many of the nation's outstanding distance runners are expected to compete, will be held in Philadelphia on Labour Day, September 2.

The winner may be designated as a full-fledged member of the United States Marathon team of three men which will compete in the Olympics in Berlin next summer, according to Lawson Robertson, coach of the 1932 U. S. Olympic team. Robertson is assisting Walter L. Whalen, secretary of the Philadelphia Olympic Athletic Association, in drafting plans for the Labour Day race.

Entrants from many sections of the country will be invited, according to Whalen, and he added that Clarence DeMar, Jimmy Hendricks and the Millrose team of New York, may be entrants.

The request that the Labour Day race winner be designated as a member of the U. S. Olympic team will be placed before George V. Brown, of Boston, who last year was named as manager of the 1936 Olympic Marathon team.

Whalen announced that team trophies and individual prizes will be awarded winners in the Labour Day race. The marathon will start in historic Valley Forge and finish in the huge municipal stadium in South Philadelphia where Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey met in their first heavyweight championship bout—United Press.

WRESTLER TO TOUR JAPAN

Iowa City, Ia.

A trail blazer for the University of Iowa in the Orient this summer will be Earle Kleihorn, 155-pound wrestler, chosen to tour Japan with a 16-man American team.

The Hawkeye star, first ever to represent the university in the Far East, reported in Chicago on July 4 for try-outs to determine first and second teams. There, Kleihorn met Frank Lewis of Oklahoma A. and M., his conqueror in the semi-finals of the National A. A. U. tournament.

Kleihorn won 17 of 19 bouts in the 155, 165 and 175 pound classes last season; won the Big Ten 165-pound title, and was voted the outstanding wrestler competing in the National Collegiate he was second in the A. A. U. tournament in the 165-pound class.

L. A. Bates, the Warwickshire cricket professional, who is 41, has decided to retire from county cricket, and has accepted the position of coach and head groundsman at Christ's Hospital, Horsham.

Eddie Jenkins, a full-back, formerly with Cardiff City and last season with Bristol City, has been signed by Newport County F. C.

ance—a great feat for a 15-year-old girl.

OLYMPIC GAMES

Guarantees Suggested For Non-Aryans

Paris, July 23.

The question is being raised in Paris as to whether the 1936 Olympic Games will be held in Berlin as arranged unless guarantees for the treatment of non-Aryan competitors is forthcoming. London is mentioned as a suitable alternative.

The Marquis De Polignac, a member of the International Olympic Committee, in an interview with the French sporting newspaper, L'Auto, states: "No decision has yet been contemplated regarding the next year's Olympic Games."

"We have in our archives a letter sent by Hitler himself according to which the Fuehrer affirms that non-Aryans will enjoy the same rights as pure Aryans. This is a formal engagement and, therefore, in our eyes the question of non-Aryans does not arise."

Asked if recent anti-Jewish action in German sporting circles had changed the situation, he remarked: "The Committee has not yet been officially informed of the question but our rules allow us at any time to withdraw the games from Germany."

"MAJORITY FAVOURS CHANGE"

"I know that our President, Count Baillet-Latour, will be firm that no restriction be placed upon the religion of the competitors. I am certain that the great majority of the members of the Committee would favour changing the venue of the games."

It is understood that there is already a strong movement not to hold the games in Berlin unless the fullest guarantees are given. Should the games not take place in Berlin, it is doubtful if Italy and Finland would compete as they were foremost in asking that Berlin be chosen.

An offer would be made to the British Olympic Association Committee as the members feel that the Games could easily be organized in London even at the shortest notice. Furthermore it is pointed out that the Games have not been held in Great Britain or the Dominions since 1908.

U. S. CHESS TEAM

INTERNATIONAL TOURNEY

New York, Aug. 10.

Mr. Harold M. Phillips, chairman of the New York committee appointed by the National Chess Federation, has announced the five players who will represent the United States in the biennial international team tournament at Warsaw.

The list includes four of the men who won the Hamilton-Russell trophy for America, at Folkestone, England, two years ago.

Those selected are—Frank J. Marshall, Isaac I. Kashdan, Reuben Fine, Abraham Kupchik, Arthur W. Dake.

The team sailed for Poland on August 2.

CONFIDENT OF WINNING RYDER CUP

London, Aug. 1.

If a confident captain is the keynote of success then Great Britain will retain the Ryder Cup in the professional international golf match which is to be played at Ridgewood, New Jersey, on September 28 and 29.

"Captain" Charles Whitcombe, winner of scores of tournaments, and a member of Great Britain's team in each of the four previous Ryder Cup matches with America, is a keen judge of a golfer and an authority on the game. He means what he says, and this time he says: "Great Britain will win."

In an interview with Reuters, Whitcombe made the following statement:

"Of course, I am pleased to be captain, but I am not really surprised as I heard whispers some time ago, and the selectors asked my help in picking the team. I am glad they have confidence in me after the heavy defeat sustained at Scioto under my captaincy in 1931."

The intense heat on that Ohio course, however, was fatal to our chances. It was impossible to play to form. The year, fortunately, we are playing in New Jersey in September and rain and snow are more likely than heat waves.

"For this reason alone I think we have a great chance of retaining the Cup we won two years ago at Southport."

A more important reason is that the new team, in my opinion, is definitely stronger than the 1933 side. I do not think a mistake has been made in the selection. We know Hagen, Sarazen, Picard, Craig Wood, Horton Smith and Clint Durnley, and despite the unknown quantities presented by Laffoon and the others, I think we shall be too good for them."

A FIGHTER

Cox, of Addington, is still an assistant, but he is ripe for full international rating and will probably last put. Burton and Jarman chose themselves on this season's form, and Busson, as I have good reason to remember, is a fine match player. He bent me last September in the "News of the World" final.

Perry, Padgham and Alliss are comparatively old stagers, and were in the Southport team. I have not formed any ideas as to forenoon pairings or tactics yet. It is too early, but I hope to get the players together once or twice before we sail—I want to make them a happy family. For success in this match depends, to a great extent, on the absence of friction.

I have very definite views about training and diet. I have always considered it inadvisable to lay down rigid rules for training and diet in the case of a team of golfers, who each possess a different physique and temperament. It is different with boxers and athletes.

Each man should use his own judgment. What is suitable for me, for instance, would probably be unsuitable for young Cox. If a man has become a good tournament golfer he has come to know enough about his own requirements without needing any help from me."

Russell trophy for America, at Folkestone, England, two years ago.

Those selected are—Frank J. Marshall, Isaac I. Kashdan, Reuben Fine, Abraham Kupchik, Arthur W. Dake.

The team sailed for Poland on August 2.

THIRD LANARK WIN

London, Aug. 17. In the Scottish Football League matches played to-day, Glasgow Rangers, last year's champions, were held to a draw of 2-2 by Ayr. Motherwell also shared the points with the same score in their home match against Aberdeen.

Aberdeen, one of the two promoted teams, lost to Albion by the odd goal in three, but Third Lanark, the other promoted eleven, obtained their first points by beating Kilmarnock by three goals to two before their own supporters.

Judging by the look of things at the moment, Falkirk and St. Mirren, who were relegated at the end of last season, will be making a bid to regain their First Division status. Against Motherwell, the former won by eight goals to nil and the latter beat Stenmuir by two goals. Both teams have won their two matches to date.

WIGHTMAN CUP

Forest Hills, Aug. 17.

The United States retained the Wightman Cup for the fifth successive year in defeating Great Britain by the odd match in seven in the Tennis contest concluded here to-day.

In arrears by two games to one at the conclusion of the first day's play, America drew level when Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabian defeated Mrs. Phyllis King, losing only three games. She took the first set at love.

Miss Helen Jacobs, finalist at Wimbledon this year, and who last year was defeated by Miss Dorothy Round in the final, played great tennis to defeat the English girl to-day.

Miss Jacobs seemed to be rejuvenated overnight and won the second round to match a 5-0 lead.

The American star played machine-like tennis and was very steady. She won 6-3, 6-2.

MISS STAMMERS BEATEN

The next match saw Mrs. Burkhardt Arnold, conqueror of Miss Katharine Stammers, who the previous day caused a sensation by defeating Miss Helen Jacobs.

Mrs. Arnold covered the court with amazing agility and after the second set was level at 2-2 in the first set, Miss Stammers was continually left standing by the American's cross-court shots.

In the second set, Miss Stammers speeded up her play and stood her driving. Mrs. Arnold was unable to cope with the attack and crinkled under pressure. Miss Stammers claiming the set with the loss of only one game.

The third set was a hard battle. Miss Stammers fought as if she were fighting for her life, the score reaching 10-10 in the first set, then 6-2. Miss Stammers fought back gamely to reduce the lead to 5-2 but the American player captured the next game to win the match and place the issue of the Cup beyond doubt.

In the last match of the series Miss Nancy Lyle and Miss Evelyn Dearman of Great Britain, defeated Miss Carolyn Balecock and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus in three sets. The second set went to ten games. Reuter.

FULL RESULTS

Detailed results as called by Reuter were as follows:

Miss Katharine Stammers (Great Britain) beat Miss Helen Jacobs (America) 5-7, 6-1, 9-7.

Miss Dorothy Round (Great Britain) beat Mrs. Burkhardt Arnold (America) 6-0, 6-2.

Miss Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabian (America) beat Miss Katharine Stammers and Miss Freda James (Great Britain) 6-3, 6-2.

(America) beat Mrs. Phyllis Mulford King (Great Britain) 6-0, 6-3.

Miss Helen Jacobs (America) beat Miss Dorothy Round (Great Britain) 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. Burkhardt Arnold (America) beat Miss Katharine Stammers (Great Britain) 10-2, 10-6, 6-2.

Miss Nancy Lyle and Miss Evelyn Dearman (Great Britain) beat Miss Carolyn Balecock and Mrs. Dorothy Andrus (America) 3-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Adapted by the federal authorities in Washington to stamp out this terrorism. Such a system is what China needs; literally a war on crime. She needs dependable officers, appointed by the central authority, who can shoot, and who will shoot, when they are in contact with criminals. On the railways and on the highways the Chinese authorities should have sufficiently strong patrols to ensure the safety of travellers. That is one suggestion. Let them create a force which might correspond to Washington's "G-Men." And if that remedy fails to prove effective, let them ask for help in their housecleaning. Let the League act. Let those who are friends of China assist in preserving her self-respect. And for those of us who make suggestions and criticisms, let there be no rebuke. For we, too, want to help.

MRS. ETHEL BURKHARDT ARNOLD, conqueror of Miss Katharine Stammers who, on the first day beat Miss Helen Jacobs in the Wightman Cup Contest.

FINAL TEST AT OVAL OPENS

SOUTH AFRICANS BAT ALL DAY.

BRUCE MITCHELL SCORES 128

London, Aug. 17.

R. E. S. Wyatt set the 10,000 spectators who had gathered at the Oval, to see the commencement of the match, buzzing with excitement when he won the toss and sent in the South Africans to bat on a perfect wicket. The weather was fine and at the close of play the tourists made 297 for six wickets.

The scores follow:

SWIMMING GALA

Splendid Exhibition By Kwok Chun-hang

Splendid sport was witnessed at the European Y.M.C.A. swimming pool on Saturday night when a quadrangular gala was held. The Y.M.C.A., East Lancashire, Lincoln and Royal Engineers participating.

The feature of the programme was the 100 yards breast stroke exhibition swim by Kwok Chun-hang, the Melbourne Centenary, Colony and Interport champion, who was accompanied by Wong Lu-man, Kwangtung nomination for the breast stroke event in the forthcoming China National Games.

Kwok gave a delightful display covering the distance in 73.4 seconds, and Wong finished the course three seconds later.

Both swimmers were given a great ovation. Kwok also participated in a water polo game played later in the evening.

The Y.M.C.A. secured first place in the swimming events, 50 yards free style, 150 yards medley, 150 yards free style and 300 yards relay race.

In the 150 yards medley event, (Chicken secured the lead in the second length of the back stroke, but G. Fowler, of the Y.M.C.A., pulled up on the free style to win in 2 minutes 16.4/5 seconds.

H. Lange swam a good race to win the 150 yards free style from Pearce, of the Royal Engineers. It was an exciting event.

SPLENDID DIVING

Tokyo, Aug. 17.

The Japanese led the Americans by 14 points to seven at the conclusion of the first day of the competition between the star swimmers of the two nations, held at the Meiji Shrine Pool to-day.

A new Japanese pool record was set up in the 300 metres relay race, the strong American quartette racing through the water to clock 3 mins. 20.2 seconds.

Reizo Kake, who set a new Japan mark of 2 minutes 41.2 secs., in the recent trials won the 200 metres breast stroke event from Tezuo Hamuro and John Higgins. His time was one second behind his trial mark.

Masanori Yusa, a member of the record-breaking Japanese Olympic Team in 1932, defeated John Macdonis, the American crack and Art Lindblad in the 200 metres free style.

The Americans failed to secure a place in the 1,500 metres free style which was won by Tadashi Ishihara. Detailed results were as follows:

200 Metres Breast Stroke: 1. Reizo Kake; 2. Tezuo Hamuro; 3. John Higgins. Time: 2 mins. 42.2 secs.

200 Metres Free Style: 1. Masanori Yusa; 2. John Macdonis; 3. Art Lindblad. Time: 2 mins. 13.2 secs.

1,500 Metres Free Style: 1. Tadashi Ishihara; 2. Shozo Makino; 3. Hiroshi. Time: 19 mins. 12 secs.

300 Metres Medley Relay: Won by American (Pearce, Taylor, Dreydell, Jack Knishy and Peter Fick). Time: 3 mins. 20.2 secs. (New Japanese record). Reuter.

A United Press message states that the weather, which had threatened to rain cleared up before the meet. Ticket sellers were unable to meet the demands of hundreds seeking to obtain admission. Other attractions on the programme included a water polo match and 100 yards back stroke and 100 yards free style in which Japanese women participated. The principal interest centres on the 400 metres free style event which is scheduled for Sunday.

with E. F. Selk, of the Association, fourth. Diving of a good standard was seen and it was a close affair between Gregson, of the East Lancs, and Rush of the Lincoln. Gregson gained the verdict by 134 points.

The water polo match between the Y.M.C.A. and the Mak Nguh Association, Canton, produced some splendid play, the Europeans emerging winners by the odd goal in three. G. Fowler gave the Association the lead but just prior to the interval, Wong Ki-yau equalised for the Canton team. In the second half, R. Goldman scored a goal with a backhand to give the Association victory.

The Association had a well balanced team while the Chinese played well in defence.

Sergeant Yeomans, of the Lincoln, was the referee.

The results were as follows:
50 yards free style: 1. E. B. Wood (Y.M.C.A.); 2. Chicken (Lincoln); 3. Barnesley (Royal Engineers). Time: 22 secs.

150 yards medley (Breast, Back and Free style): 1. G. H. Fowler (Y.M.C.A.); 2. Chicken (Lincoln); 3. Barnesley (Royal Engineers). Time: 2 mins. 16.4/5 secs.

150 yards free style: 1. H. Lange (Y.M.C.A.); 2. Pearce (Royal Engineers); 3. Taylor (East Lancs). Time: 1 min. 50.4/5 secs.

300 yards relay (Teams of six): 1. Y.M.C.A. (A. W. Wagstaff, R. B. Wood, E. F. Selk, H. Lange, R. Goldman and B. Rasmussen); 2. East Lancs. (Smith, Gorman, Mason, McCarthy, Tunstall and Roberts) and Royal Engineers (E. Jordan, Barnesley, Revell, Pearce, Crossan and Gable). Total time: 3 mins. 6.3/5 secs.

Low and High Board Diving: 1. Gregson (East Lancs.) 47 1/2 pts; 2. Rush (Lincoln) 46 1/2 pts; 3. Jordan (Royal Engineers); 4. E. F. Selk (Y.M.C.A.).

Water Polo: Y.M.C.A. defeated the Mak Nguh Association 2-1.
Teaser: Y.M.C.A. (S. Fowler, J. Ferrett, A. W. Wagstaff, B. Rasmussen, R. Goldman, G. H. Fowler and H. Lange); Mak Nguh Association (Kwok Mok-hoi, Li Ki-yung, Wong Ki-chun, Wong Sun-man, Kwok Chun-hang, Chan Ki-chung and Shek Kam-pul).

SERIAL STORY

One I Love

by LAURA LOU
BROOKMAN

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

JANET HILL is engaged to ROLF CARLYLE but they do not have enough money to marry. Janet is secretary for BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine, and Rolf works for the Atlas Advertising Co. Janet insists they must have $500 in a savings account before they can be married.

HOWARD CROSS, another employee of the magazine, tries to make dates with Janet but she discourages him. She hurries home from the office one Saturday to prepare a surprise birthday dinner for Rolf. On the way she sees a couple entering the fashionable Brewster Hotel Coffee Shop and recognizes the young man as Rolf.

CHAPTER II

In another instant the girl in the fur coat and the young man beside her had disappeared. Janet had barely seen them, had heard her heart cry out, "Rolf!" and was still struggling with the shock when the door of the Coffee Shop closed.

Immediately common sense returned. Of course it couldn't have been Rolf with that pretty, expensively dressed girl. It was some other young man whose appointment happened to be the same shade of gray as Rolf's, who wore a dark felt at the same angle.

"It was because I was thinking about him," Janet told herself. "Imagine making such an idiot of myself! Why, it couldn't have been Rolf!" She accepted this explanation eagerly, with a sense of relief.

For a moment, though, she had been startled—Smiling, reassured, Janet hurried along. A minute or two later she was turning into the doorway of Rooney's Cafeteria. Most of the noon-time crowd had lunched and departed. The long room with its innumerable little tables, all with gleaming tile tops, was not even half filled.

Janet ordered a satisfying lunch—two vegetables, a salad, a glass of milk and for dessert a delicious looking fruit tart. She carried her tray to a table near the side of the wall and sat down. It was quiet there. Blessedly quiet. Suddenly Janet realized that she was hungry. The hot food seemed delicious and for several minutes she devoted herself to it, thinking only how pleasant it was to eat an appetizing meal in peaceful surroundings.

Then she took a slip of paper from her purse and began checking over the items listed. Haylips' first for the pen and pencil set. In parenthesis Janet carried down "65." The cut-rate pen and pencil she had visualized as Rolf's gift.

The dime store was on the list—for candles and a glass top to replace the broken one on the coffee percolator. The cut-rate pen and pencil set for a half dozen pink roses—little ones that wouldn't last long but next to be just right in a low bowl on the table. The roses would cost only 60 cents. Then there was the meat market and the grocery and all the things that would be bought to prepare the birthday dinner.

Janet went over the list. No, there was nothing she had forgotten. Two-fifteen now. She must hurry!

Four hours later Janet Hill stood before the two-burner gas stove stirring cream sauce, trying at the same time to keep her eyes on the clock broiling in the skillet that sat none too securely over the other blaze. The asparagus, cooked, was propped as near as possible to the heat to keep it from chilling. A steaming coffee pot posed perilously at the corner of the tiny shelf, serving both as kitchen table and a support for the gas stove. Dishes, tea towels, a paper sack, knives and spoons littered the improvised kitchen.

For a moment Janet stopped stirring to push a strand of hair back from her face. She was warm and her nose was shining. The last minute, with everything to be done at once, was always confusing. Rolf would come any time now.

Rolf would come any time. There he was now—the buzzer on the bell downstairs pressed three times in rapid succession! Janet's "apartment" was on the second floor and Rolf could make that single flight in record time.

A sharp rap at the door—Janet leaving the stove, risking the cream sauce, and the steak. The young man and a booming voice in the shadows. "Hi, honey."

"Oh, Rolf!" It was a brief greeting. Janet hurried back to retrieve the cream sauce and the steak. The young man tossed aside his hat and topcoat indolently. Yes, it was a gray topcoat and a felt hat exactly the same shade as the young man who entered the Brewster Coffee Shop had worn.

Janet was too busy to notice that she had disappeared behind the screen that shut off the "kitchen" from the rest of the room. The young man, left to himself, dropped into an arm chair. He produced a cigarette, lighted a match, applied it to a cigarette and leaned back comfortably, watching the curling smoke drift ceilingward.

"Busy to-day?" Janet called. "So-so." Suddenly Carlyle noticed the table with its bowl of roses and its tall candlesticks. "Say, what's the idea? Look like a party."

Smiling, Janet emerged from behind the screen. "It is a party, Rolf. Don't you know what day it is? It's your birthday! I wanted to surprise you."

"Birthday—say, I'd forgotten all about that. How'd you know? How'd you happen to remember?" "I've remembered ever since—oh, for months and last summer. Are you really surprised? I thought it would be fun to have dinner here together to-night. Just you and I, Rolf. We're going to have a birthday cake."

The sentence was lost as she made a frantic dash for the stove. In time to prevent serious damage she turned off the blaze. Five minutes more and the platter of steak, the asparagus, the salads and the crisp, golden rolls were on the table.

"You light the candles," Janet said as she untied the blue and white apron. Her face was glowing and pink from the heat, her hair a trifle unruly. There was no time to think of that now. The dinner must be eaten while it was hot.

Just for an instant they stood together. The room behind them was dark. The candlelight—flickering and uncertain—cast a pale golden radiance over the table, disguising the cheap dishes and worn lunch cloth. The scent of the rosebuds was sweet and spicy. Janet's hand slipped into Rolf's. She raised a face glowing with happiness.

"Kiss me," she whispered. His lips brushed against her forehead. It was a hasty kiss—almost a preoccupied one. Janet's eyes, just as her heart, must have been so filled to overflowing with joy that she failed to notice the look that crossed Rolf's face. It was gone in an instant.

Gazing across the table at him, Janet saw a young man any casual observer would have called rather handsome. Rolf Carlyle found it easy to make friends. Women liked his blond hair, his dark eyes and the resemblance (slight though it was) to a certain motion picture star. Men liked Carlyle because at bridge and golf he was as good a loser as a player; because his easy good nature never seemed to desert him; because if a fellow wanted a loan Carlyle would come across—providing he had the cash.

Perhaps that gracefully molded chin lacked a little in firmness. Perhaps the brown eyes, with their ingratiating smile, were a bit too pleasure-loving. In Janet's opinion Rolf possessed the combined wit, charm, intellect and good looks of the heroes of the six current best sellers, the six most popular plays on Broadway, the six most successful recent screen dramas—and more for good measure.

There is no doubt that she was prejudiced. To his employers, Dwight Kendall and Jim McPhail, who owned the Atlas Advertising Agency, young Carlyle was a beginner with a fair chance of working up in the business. People liked Carlyle—and that was his asset. He had the brains too, if he'd settle down and apply himself. Rolf had worked at the current best sellers, a friend had given it up to join the staff of the Gazette. Hired at $30 a week and given routine office duties, Carlyle had earned two raises since. He had three accounts now for which he was responsible and occasionally was allowed to try his hand at writing advertising copy for some of the more important clients.

It had been on an errand for the Atlas company (bringing copy to be inserted in the Every Home Magazine) that Rolf Carlyle had first seen Janet Hill. There had been a few words between them. Carlyle had found occasion to drop into the Every Home office on other errands. After the evening when he first persuaded her to have dinner with him the courtship had moved swiftly. In a little more than a month Janet Hill had promised to marry Rolf Carlyle.

All that had been nearly a year ago. Janet, during those months, had learned to care more and more for Rolf. Not once did it occur to her that he could feel otherwise.

The birthday dinner proved a success. The steak was tender, cooked exactly as Rolf liked it. The salads were crisp and the rest of the simple menu as appetizing.

Janet thought, "This is how it's going to be some day—when we're married. This is the way we'll have dinner every night!"

She hadn't been listening and Rolf was talking about something at the office. Suddenly the girl laughed. "Oh, Rolf—" she said, "the silliest thing happened to-day. I was coming by the Brewster Coffee Shop and I saw an awfully pretty girl. She was with a man in a gray and far a minute I was sure it was you! I was certain of it!"

"You mean—you thought you saw me?"

"You must have a double. Honestly, I'd have sworn—but then of course I knew it couldn't be!" Janet laughed and Carlyle joined her. Somehow the man's laugh was not so convincingly mirthful as the girl's.

"Funny," he agreed. "You don't think I've taken to lunching at the Brewster, do you?"

"Oh, of course not. But honestly it did look like you."

The talk drifted to other things. Janet brought the dessert and the coffee. It was while they were drinking the fragrant golden beverage that Carlyle said carefully:

"Janet, there's something I want to talk to you about."

NOTES FROM THE THEATRES

Are domestic happiness and professional success compatible? Does a man continue to love his wife when her salary pays the bills? These are the problems discussed in "Ann Carver's Profession," a Columbia picture coming soon to the Queen's Theatre. The story concerns the career of a woman lawyer whose sensational courtroom exploits establish her as the outstanding feminine barrister of New York City. Her husband, meanwhile, is forging ahead slowly as an architect, but it is her salary which maintains their household. Is it possible that their marriage can be happy? Or domestic tragedy inevitable. Edward Buzzell, the director, believes this story is one of the most significant yet written for the screen in that it deals with problems faced by able professional women. Fay Wray plays Ann Carver and Gene Raymond her husband. Claire Dodd, Claude Gillingwater, Jessie Ralph and Arthur Pierson are also cast in important roles.

"Murder in the Clouds" Ann Dvorak, who has always been a law-abiding and rather timid driver on the California highways, became a speedster for the sake of art. The talented young actress, who has a small leading feminine role in the First National film "Murder in the Clouds," which is now at the Alhambra, was being photographed in a scene which shows her speeding along a narrow country road. She rehearsed the scene once or twice, driving about forty or fifty miles an hour each time, but the speed was not sufficient to convince her for Director D. Rosa Lederman. He wanted action. On the third rehearsal Ann whizzed by the cameras at a speed close to fifty-five miles an hour and when the scene was actually being taken, she zoomed along the road at nearly sixty miles an hour. The director waved for greater speed and the girl's device used to check with the high speed cameras showed that she was traveling at sixty-seven miles an hour. When the scene was successfully finished, Ann entered her car to drive back to the studios and from that point on drove at a breakneck speed of about eighteen miles an hour. "Murder in the Clouds" is an unusual and baffling mystery drama, involving several strange murders in the air and the kidnapping of a beautiful girl by airplane. Lyle Talbot, Miss Dvorak and Gordon Westcott are the stars in a triangular romance while others include Robert Light, George Cooper, Charles Wilson, Henry O'Neill and Russell Hicks. The story and screen play are by Roy Chanslor and Dore Schary.

SELFRIDGE'S

Three of the most brilliant writers of the day are responsible for Universal's newest film, "Transient Lady," which is coming to the King's Theatre on Thursday, with a cast headed by Raymond, Henry Hull, Frances Drake and June Clayworth. The original story was written by Octavus Roy Cohen, and ran serially in Liberty magazine. It is a glittering example of the masterly ability to portray everyday people, because they represent the vast majority of the public. So he laid his story in a little southern town and made his

Ostracising Jews

CULTURAL CENTRE FOR BERLIN

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1931, Received, August 19, 1935 a.m.)

Berlin, Aug. 18.
Regulations for a uniform Central Organisation of Jewish Culture are published to-night.

The regulations declare that all existing Jewish societies must join up by the middle of September, and that nobody except Jews or their alien wives may attend concerts or lectures organised by Jews. The Board of the organisation is to be appointed by the State.

Comment by the official German news agency says the regulations are proof that the Nazi State will give Jews every opportunity to carry on their own cultural life, provided they do not mix in that of the German people.—Reuter Special.

MORE MOTORING ACCIDENTS

BOY SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

Several motor accidents, including one which ended fatally, were reported to the police over the week-end.

Li Chiu, licensed lorry driver, reports that whilst he was driving lorry No. 1472 along Tai Po Road at 10.20 a.m. on Saturday, bound for Tai Po Market, a boy ran across the road and was knocked down. The boy was taken to Kowloon Hospital, but died on admission.

A learner-driver named Kwong Ying-chi has informed the police that whilst he was driving private car No. 1364 in Nathan Road yesterday, he knocked down Tang Kwan, near Jordan Road. Tang Kwan was sent to Kowloon Hospital suffering from a fractured skull.

Mr. B. J. Murray, driver of Car No. 1066, reports that at 6 p.m. yesterday, he collided with another car at Castle Peak Road near the 17 Mile Stone. The other car, No. 2493, was slightly damaged.

Chan Chung-wing, lorry driver, states that while driving lorry No. 1148 in an unnamed road leading to Diamond Hill at 4.30 p.m. yesterday, he knocked down a man named Li Kiu, who sustained a fractured collar bone and injuries to his head. He was removed to Kowloon Hospital.

ATTEMPTED THEFT BY TRICK

ACCUSED MAN REMANDED

Cheung Kwai, 47, coolie, was remanded for 48 hours in police custody by Mr. Wynne-Jones at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, when he was charged with stealing a tin of condensed milk and with having attempted to steal by trick 80 cents and three Chinese books, from a shop at No. 482 Prince Edward Road.

Inspector Chester-Woods, prosecuting, stated that defendant came from Sai Kung district. On Saturday last he went to the complainant's shop and produced a list of three books, which was given to him by a school-teacher, and handed it to a fool. He also produced a dollar and placed it on the counter.

The fool went off and returned with the books wrapped in paper, and told defendant that it would be twenty cents, whereupon defendant alleged that he had put a dollar on the counter and claimed 80 cents change. The fool looked about for the money and found that a tin of milk was missing. Defendant denied having taken the milk and offered to be searched.

Defendant had on one hand a lump of dough and a cloth bag in the other. When he was searched the tin of milk was found in the bag and the dollar in the lump of dough.

Inspector Chester-Woods: Looking at defendant, you would not think he could have thought up such a trick. I tried to get him to tell me who taught him how to do it, but he said nobody taught him.

Mr. Wynne-Jones: They are not all so foolish as they look.

Chan Cho-chuk, shopkeeper, was the complainant.

Messrs. Benjamin & Potts have received the following buying and selling quotations from their Manila Agents this morning:—Benguet Consolidated, 12.10-12.20; Antanoka, 79-80; Baguio Golds, 25-25½; Gold Rivers, 5½-6.

Fierce Fire Threatens Local Plant

ONE MAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

QUICK WORK BY BRIGADE

With smoke pouring densely from eight upper windows of the San Yuen Fat paper dye works at 268, Portland Street, and a badly burnt man lying unconscious on the roof of the adjacent building, there was fear of a big conflagration, with attendant tragedies, when the Kowloon Fire Brigade received a call at 7.51 a.m. to-day.

The Hongkong and Kowloon appliances were carrying out their daily drill at the railway station when a stranger put through first intimation of the outbreak. Two Mongkok appliances and an ambulance left immediately for the scene under Assistant Station Officer R. H. J. Brooks, and found smoke and flame issuing in increasing volumes from the upper part of the building.

The San Yuen Fat is half of a block of building facing on to a thickly-tenanted area, but the real danger existed to the adjoining King Sun Knitting Factory which contains a large quantity of valuable machinery.

The workers at the paper factory live on the first floor and they had slept soundly while the fire gained ground. It was not until a passer-by who saw the wisps of smoke curling from several windows and from the roof and was prompted to sound his police whistle, that they became alive to their danger. They immediately vacated the building and a roll-call revealed that apparently no-one was left behind.

BIG BLAZE

The firemen attacked the building from both sides and, as a precautionary measure, summoned another appliance from Kowloon. Deputy Superintendent G. C. Moss was on the scene and took charge of operations. Firemen entered the upper floors to find masses of smouldering paper. The interior of the floor was burning, but fortunately the roof was entirely of concrete and there was no immediate danger of a collapse.

Shortly after eight o'clock, firemen who had mounted the roof of the Knitting Factory found a Chinese lying there almost unconscious from extensive burns to the body and head. He had only time to utter his name, "Shing Hing," before he fainted. He was taken to Kowloon Hospital where he was found to be suffering from shock and burns. At the moment he lies in a serious condition.

Half a dozen hoses were playing on the building from all angles and another attack was directed from the roof of the knitting factory, four hydrants and a motor pump being used.

By 8.15 a.m. the fire fighters had gained ascendancy and shortly afterwards the fire was entirely subdued. Considerable damage as yet unestimated was done to the factory.

LONG TERMS FOR BANISHEES

MEN WHO CONSTANTLY RETURN

Four Chinese were brought before Mr. Justice Lindell at the Criminal Sessions this morning, charged with breaches of the Deportation order.

Tang Lung, alias Li Po, was sentenced to three years' hard labour. It was stated that he was banished for ten years on October 31, 1934, and returned to the Colony on July 23 this year. His record dated back to 1926 and since he was banished he had returned to the Colony five times.

With a criminal record dating back to 1920 and stated to have returned to the Colony no less than ten times after having been banished for ten years, Sin Ming was sentenced to three years' hard labour. The last time he was deported was on November 16, 1934. He was arrested on July 18 this year.

Stated by His Lordship to have a comparatively good record, Yan Loi, who was banished on July 1, 1934, received a sentence of two years' hard labour. His record dated back to 1930, and he was arrested on July 20 this year.

Three years' hard labour was the sentence imposed on Lau Kam-chuen who was banished on August 28, 1934, for a period of ten years. He was arrested on August 1 this year. His record dated back to 1925, since when he had returned to the Colony six times.

Deeply Regret Murder

BUT GARETH JONES WAS WARNED

Shanghai, Aug. 19.

Official circles in Nanking, in expressing deep regret at the death of Mr. Gareth Jones, the British journalist who was murdered by bandits, declare that both Mr. Jones and his companion, Dr. Herbert Mueller, were warned by the Chinese authorities in Kalgan that bandits were rampant in Inner Mongolia.

It is further stated that upon their insistence to make the trip, they signed a pledge relieving the Chinese authorities of all responsibilities should anything untoward happen to them.

Meanwhile, according to a message from Peiping, Captain Millar, British Military Attaché at Kalgan, is expected to arrive at Kalgan with Mr. Jones' body to-morrow.

Chinese officials in Peiping express regret at Mr. Jones' fate, but point out that the Chinese authorities at Kalgan warned Mr. Jones and his companion against travelling in Charhar. They also draw attention to the pledge signed by the two men.—Reuter.

LATEST "LIDO" ATTRACTION

DIVING FLOAT SOON IN COMMISSION

What should prove a great attraction and an added source of amusement to the patrons of the Repulse Bay Lido is the new diving float, which is nearing completion at Kowloon Docks.

The float has a white hull, and its length is about 100 feet by 20 feet, with flush teak decks the whole length. Forward there is a dummy bridge about 18 feet off the edge of the water, where high diving can be indulged in. On the main deck there are four spring boards, with necessary step-ladders on the side of the vessel giving easy access from water to the deck.

Over the deck, which is about two-thirds of the entire length of the float, a double awning is erected to ensure protection from the sun, if required.

At the after end there is a 30-foot chute, which should prove to be a great attraction as it will be the first of its kind in the Colony. The float should be in commission in a few days.

WIDOW'S MONEY STOLEN

TEN YEARS' SAVINGS TAKEN

Mok Chun-hoi, 22 years, unemployed, was this morning charged before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy, with the theft of $50, property of Yuen Chok-sai, widow, from No. 29 Electric Road, on August 16.

Acting Sub-Inspector Madgwick said the complainant and defendant occupied bed spaces at the same address. On August 16, the complainant found the money to be missing, and suspected the defendant. She made a report to the police last night. A detective met the defendant in the street, and questioned him, and he admitted having stolen the money. He produced $43.78, and said he had spent the remainder in buying a wrist watch and in redeeming some of his property from a pawnshop. It was a very mean theft, because the complainant was earning $9 a month, and had saved up this money for the last ten years.

Mr. Schofield ordered the money recovered and the wrist watch to be given to the complainant, and also ordered defendant to pay complainant the balance of $4.50 or serve 14 days' hard labour in default. He was also sentenced to a month's hard labour for the larceny.

WANG CHING-WEI STANDS FIRM

NOT TO WITHDRAW RESIGNATION

Nanking, Aug. 19.
Mr. Wang Ching-wei is firm in his decision not to withdraw his resignation.

He states that Mr. Chu Ming-yu will return from Tsingtao at noon, and added that he himself will go to Nanking as soon as the Government has accepted his resignation.—Reuter.

ALLEGED INDECENT ASSAULT

CASE FIXED FOR HEARING

The hearing of the case against Ng Shok, 21-year old shop foki, charged with indecent assault on a seven-year old girl, Leung Nai, at No. 312 Lockhart Road, ground floor, on August 11, and Yip Mai, 62 years, shop foki, charged with aiding and abetting, was fixed for the afternoon of August 23 by Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, when the defendants appeared on remand.

Mr. F. H. Losby is appearing for both defendants. Detective-Sergeant D. Pitches said the little girl went to the first defendant's shop. She was known to the defendant. He was in the habit of playing with her and other little girls in the neighbourhood. On this occasion, the first defendant enticed her into the cockpit, and there assaulted her. She told her mother of the incident, and a report was made to the police.

With regard to the charge of aiding and abetting against the second defendant, Sergeant Pitches stated that when the first defendant carried the little girl into the cockpit, she cried, and called for her mother. The defendant then placed his hand on her mouth and slapped her on the face. The girl alleged that the second defendant saw that, but made no attempt to stop the first defendant, and that when the first defendant was committing the offence on her, the second defendant did tell him to let her go. The second defendant, however, denied that.

Another charge against the first defendant, relating to an offence which took place about a month prior to this incident, will be brought out at the next hearing of the case. Both defendants were remanded until August 23, on the same bail as before; the first defendant on $1,000 and the second defendant on $250.

FOUR YEARS' SENTENCE

SERVANT WHO ROBBED MASTER

Sentence of four years' hard labour was passed by the Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindell at the Criminal Sessions this morning on Tung Fei, alias To Keung who pleaded guilty to a charge of having robbed Kwan Ho-lam of $328.18 in money and other valuables at Tsun Wan on October 24, 1934.

It was stated by Mr. Lockhart-Smith, who prosecuted, that the accused was a servant of the complainant who was a pawnbroker.

In passing sentence, His Lordship said: "It appears you are an obnoxious type of villain. You actually robbed the man you served."
